46 Borough Merchants Donate Gifts to Queen

It looks as though the next Miss Penn State will be as well—or better off—than a television quiz show winner. She will receive gifts from 46 borough merchants which include anything from a sport shirt to rhinestone earrings.

Miss Penn State will be either Gail Smith, Barbara Patton, Louise Justin, Joan Hunter, or Faith Gallagher—the five finalists chosen from 29 entrants in the Miss Penn State contest.

Inquiries To Be Made On Plaques

Nittany Council voted Monday night to request that the Department of Housing send letters to schools represented at the Pershing Rifle Regimental Drill Meet last weekend in an attempt to recover two memorial plaques missing from the Nittany Dormitories. Visiting members of Pershing Rifles were boarded in the dorms over the weekend.

After the groups had left, it was noticed that the memorial plaques, honoring alumni who were killed in service duty, were missing. Each of the dormitories is named for a dead alumnus.

George Mauler, who was elected president of the council Monday night, explained that while it is possible the riflemen did not take the plaques, the council should ask the department of housing to investigate the matter by writing to the visiting schools.

In other action, council made plans for a public mixer from 2 to 5 p.m. May 15 in the main ballroom of the Hetzel Union Building. The Bob Alexander Quartette will furnish the music.

Other officers elected were: Thomas Smith, fourth semester education major, vice president; James Martin, sixth semester liberal arts major, secretary; and Theodore Thomas, fourth semester civil engineering major, treasurer.

Auto Accident Victim Reported Satisfactory

John W. Miller, sixth semester pre-medical student, was reported satisfactory and making steady improvement, by Centre County Hospital authorities yesterday.

Miller was injured in an auto crash April 24, when the car he was riding in crashed into another car at the intersection of Fairmount avenue and Locust lane.

Carpenter to Propose Dating Code Changes

John Carpenter, recently re-elected president of Interfraternity Council said yesterday that he will propose several minor changes in the IFC dating code to the Senate subcommittee on student affairs today. Carpenter declined to comment on the proposed revisions.

Miss Smith, an eighth semester journalism major, was sponsored by Chi Omega, of which she is a member, and Delta Upsilon. She is a Women's Student Government Association senior senator, and managing editor of LaVie. Her hobby is horseback riding.

An eighth semester education major, Miss Patton was sponsored by Pi Kappa Phi and Atherton Hall. She is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta, Chapel Choir, and Thespians. Her hobbies are singing, sewing, and sports.

Miss Justin was sponsored by Phi Delta Theta and Kappa Kappa Gamma, of which she is a member, and is an eighth semester pre-medical major. She has been on the women's debate team and was scholarship chairman of Gamma Pi Epsilon, women's pre-medical honorary society. Her favorite hobby is golf.

Sponsored by Beta Theta Pi, Miss Hunter is an eighth semester education major and a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma. She was runner-up for Miss Pennsylvania and a finalist in the Dartmouth Carnival Queen court this year. She is interested in outdoor sports, especially golf.

Miss Gallagher is an eighth semester arts and letters major and was sponsored by Alpha Sigma Epsilon and Delta Gamma of which she is a member. Her main hobby is sports and she is this year's May Queen, Matrix Girl, and Senior Class secretary-treasurer.

The winner will be selected at the coronation ceremonies at 8 p.m. Monday in Recreation Hall. Last year Nancy Van Tries of State College was chosen Miss Penn State.

AIM Awards To Be Given At Banquet

The presentations of the Association of Independent Men's annual awards to outstanding independent students in scholarship, activities, and athletics will be made at the AIM-Leonides banquet at 6:30 p.m. Friday in the Hetzel Union dining room.

Also to be presented will be the Outstanding Senior Independent award, which was assumed by the AIM Board of Governors last week when the Penn State Club announced it could not present the award for financial reasons.

Speakers for the banquet will be Ross B. Lehman, AIM advisor; Edith G. Zinn, Leonides advisor; Robert Dennis, president of AIM; and Joan Packard, past president of Leonides. Dennis and Miss Packard will review the accomplishments of their organization during the school year.

Installation of new AIM officers will also be on the program.

Among the honored guests will be President Milton S. Eisenhower, Director of Student Affairs Wilmer E. Kenworthy, Mrs. Kenworthy, Dean of Men Frank J. Simes and his staff, Dean of Women Pearl O. Weston and her staff, and All-University officers.
