

Golfers to Try for 4th At Gettysburg Today

The Penn State golf team goes after victory number four today when it meets the Gettysburg College linksmen on the Bullet's greens at Gettysburg, Pa.

The Lions shutout the Bullets, 9-0, in their meeting last year, and will be favored to repeat the trick again this season. Gettysburg is playing under a new coach this year, former basketball ace Bob Davies, who starred a half-dozen seasons with the Rochester Royals of the National Basketball Association. But new coach or not, the Bullets are not expected to hinder the Lions rush for an unblemished campaign.

Lion coach, Bob Rutherford, will present a slightly changed lineup from the one that has been rolling over all its opponents thus far this season. The reason for the change is that Gettysburg uses only a six-man team. Because of this one of the Lions will be forced to sit out in today's match. Coach Rutherford has not yet indicated which of his men it will be; he will probably not decide until he notes how the meet is progressing.

The squad against Cornell on Saturday consisted of Warren Gittlen, Jim Ginsberg, Jim Gearhart, Jim Mayes, Leo Kukkola, John Boyanowski, and George Branish.

Captain Gittlen, and Gearhart were the only two Lions in today's lineup that were present at last year's runaway. Both men won easily at Cornell. Gittlen won 8 and 7, and Gearhart 9 and 8. Because of their performances last year, both men will probably be cast in the role of favorites in today's hassle.

Gittlen, Gearhart, Kukkola, and Boyanowski have all gone undefeated so far this season and will be out to protect their skins in today's match. All four have won all their matches in a convincing manner. Of the four, Gittlen is a senior.

The other three Nittanians, Jim Ginsberg, Jim Mayes, and George Branish, have lost only one match each—all coming against Cornell on Saturday.

With a break in their favor at any time during the contest the trio might still be undefeated. Ginsberg shot a 72 Saturday, only to have his opponent card a one under par 68 to turn what otherwise might have been a win, to a loss. Mayes was equally as unlucky in his match. The steady junior was leading by three holes after the front nine, but then lost his fine edge and blew the match.

The fate of sophomore Branish was even more of a tough-luck story. He was three down after the first nine, but rallied strongly in the back nine to finish in a deadlock with his opponent. He then went to the 23rd hole, playing even, before losing when his opponent tabbed a birdie four on the par five hole.

Horseshoe Entries Due

Entries for the intramural horseshoe doubles tournament must be turned in to the IM office, Rec Hall, by 4:30 p.m. Friday. An organization may enter one team; independents may enter unattached. Official rules will govern the single elimination tournament with a match consisting of the best-of-three 21 point games.

Horseshoes provided by the intramural office must be used in all matches. Matches will be played at 6:30 p.m. on the courts at the north side of Rec Hall. Tourney competition will start May 11. An entry fee of 50 cents per team will be charged.

Stickmen Just Don't Adjust Quickly—Thiel

By FRAN FANUCCI

"Nick" Thiel sat back in his office chair, shook his head negatively, and said: "The team just doesn't adjust well to new situations."

The lacrosse mentor was referring to the Cornell contest last Saturday, which the stickmen lost 11-8. Thiel said that all through the game the Cornell stickmen repeatedly passed over the heads of his men to score goals which should never have gotten past the defense.

"If they would only watch for new plays to develop maybe they would be able to adjust better," he said. He pointed out that in the Cornell game his men were constantly out of position, allowing their opponents to get behind them and thus get a clear shot at the goal.

Make Same Mistakes

He said his players make the identical mistakes in every game. "We can't run every type play in practice to cure them of this habit," he said.

Thiel also attributes the inexperience of his men as the cause of these continuous errors.

"If they only played as well as they did in the Loyola contest we would have taken Cornell," he said. Thiel said that his team played an under-par game at Colgate, but that the Maroon's lack of veterans forced them to "bite the dust."

In the Colgate game the Lions were outshot, but it was only because the Maroon lacked any kind of shot that they didn't win, Thiel said.

He then got out of his chair, sat on the edge of the desk, and continued:

"Locotos (Frank) was playing his worst game of the season up to the fourth quarter, then he broke loose for three goals," he said. Everyone on the attack could have scored more if they would just get a little confidence in themselves and in the plays they are using, he added.

Lions Can Score

"They (the players) think because the plays do not work in practice that they won't work in the ball games. This is only because they are scrimmaging against their own teammates who know the plays too," Thiel said.

He then pointed out that in the Cornell game the Lions ran only seven plays; but, he added, they scored on five of them.

Becoming slightly optimistic, Thiel said that if Joe Erwin and Bob Hamel had been there it would have a great difference. Hamel plays his best against a team like Cornell, and Erwin is always good for at least two or three goals, he said.

Bell, Bullock Star

He gave credit to Captain Don Bell and Bob Bullock. He said Bell saved goals which seemed destined to go into the net, and Bullock played his usual outstanding game on defense.

Next game for the Lion stickmen will be on Saturday at Beaver Field against Thiel's old Alma Mater, Syracuse. The Orangemen are expected to play with three wins under their belt.

Schimmel-Schwartz Cop Handball Title In Intramural Play

By VINCE CAROCCI

Erwin Schimmel and Don Schwartz, Zeta Beta Tau, captured the fraternity handball doubles championship and Dave Edwards, Theta Xi, copped the fraternity badminton title in intramural play last night at Rec Hall. Ollie Sax and Melvyn Mason also became independent handball champions to bring the curtain down on the month-old tournaments.

Schimmel, fraternity handball singles king, and Schwartz dropped Bob Vanner and Art Cusick, Sigma Chi, in two consecutive games, 21-5, 21-14, to grab top honors in fraternity handball competition. The Zeta Beta Tau duo did not lose a game on its road to the crown. They won Flight Four honors without any difficulty and then proceeded to eliminate the Flight Three victors and enter the semi-finals. Upon moving into the semi-finals, they whipped the Flight One champs in two consecutive games for the right to compete in the finals. Vanner and Cusick also had a comparatively easy time before meeting Schimmel and Schwartz. They easily won Flight Six honors and then proceeded to gain a forfeit victory over The Flight Five titleholders. In their semi-final match, the Sigma Chi entry had to stage a strong rally to defeat Jim Garity and Jim Adams, Delta Upsilon, 8-21, 21-18, 21-14, to enter the finals.

Sax and Mason, League A winners, edged Tom Mulhern and Willis Thompson, League D victors, in two straight games, 21-15, 21-16, to capture independent handball laurels for 1955. Both combinations, undefeated in league play, met rugged opposition in their semi-final matches. The Champs nipped League B conquerors, Howard Sherman and Gerald Werner, while the vanquished duo took two out of three games from Rene Steigerwalt and Bill McCann, League C winners. Edwards posted a 15-10, 15-12 victory over Sigma Chi's Vanner to win the 1955 fraternity badminton crown. Edwards took an early lead in the first game to stop Vanner, who showed signs of weariness from his handball match. Vanner battled back to take an 8-4 lead in the second game only to have hard fighting Edwards come back to grab the lead 10-8. From that point on, the Theta Xi lad matched points with his game opponent to win the match and the title.

Championship competition in the IM volleyball tournament got underway Thursday night as four fraternity and two independent teams advanced into the quarter final round. In the fraternity matches, Pi Kappa Phi's A squad eliminated Phi Delta Theta's A group, 15-8, 15-12; Delta Sigma Phi's A aggregation beat Phi Gamma Delta's A unit by identical scores of 15-9, 15-9; Theta Xi's A team walloped the A entry of Tau Phi Delta, 15-3, 15-6; and Alpha Zeta's B team downed Theta Xi's B squad, 15-4, 15-7. In the League L play-off, Beta Theta Pi's B group took two out of three grueling games from Pi Kappa Alpha, 16-14, 13-15, 15-13, to enter championship play.

In the only independent games of the evening, the Barbers posted a 17-15, win over the Atherton Men B unit, and the Cougars nipped Wetzel's Warriors, 15-12, 15-13.

The independent badminton championship match between Yeng Lim and George Welsch, previously scheduled for last night, was postponed and will be played later this week.

Robinson Returns

DETROIT, May 3 (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson continues his comeback tomorrow night when he meets Garth Panter of Salt Lake City in a non-televised 10-rounder in Olympia Stadium.

It will be the fifth fight in Robinson's non-too-pressive comeback, which he eventually hopes will lead to a title shot at middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson.

Robinson has won three fights while losing one in his return to the ring after an absence of 30 months. He knocked out Joe Rindone in the same Olympic ring in the first start of the comeback campaign, lost a decisive 10-round decision to Ralph Tiger Jones, beat Johnny Lombardo in 10 and stopped Ted Olla in three.
