

3 Holsteins Win Highest Honors

Three Holsteins and a Guernsey were chosen grand championship winners in their division at the 30th annual Dairy Exposition Saturday.

Both the Grand Champion Fitter, groomed by James Harding, sixth semester animal husbandry major, and the Grand Champion Reserve Fitter, groomed by James Hutchinson, fourth semester dairy science major, were Holsteins.

Meckler Wins Reading Event For 3d Time

David Meckler, eighth semester pre-medical major, won first place for the third straight year in the Address Reading Contest Wednesday night. The contest is an intrasquad event among male debaters.

Second place was taken by Edwin Van Deusen, fifth semester arts and letters major. Both Meckler and Van Deusen received keys.

Meckler read a speech given by Adlai Stevenson, Democratic candidate for the presidency in 1952. Van Deusen delivered Stevenson's Columbia University bi-centennial address.

Sidney Goldblatt, eighth semester pre-medical major; Edward Klevans, fourth semester electrical engineering major; David Powell, fourth semester arts and letters major; and Carl Saperstein, sixth semester arts and letters major, also competed in the final round of the contest.

The judges for the event were Edward R. Gilkey, instructor in speech; Dr. Iline Fife, assistant professor of speech; and Dr. Ordean G. Ness, assistant professor of speech.

Summer Sessions Schedules Ready

Bulletins announcing courses to be offered during the 1955 summer session are now available at the scheduling office in the basement of Willard Hall.

Advanced application is encouraged in order to be assured of accommodations, as well as to avoid possible delay in obtaining a room key. If a student is unable to enroll, the University should be notified at least ten days preceding the day of registration for the respective sessions.

The inter-session will take place from June 13 to July 1, the main session from July 5 to August 13, and the post-session from August 15 to September 2.

Buffington Is Author Of Yearbook Article

Albert F. Buffington, professor of German, is the author of the lead article, "Henry Meyer—an Early Pennsylvania German Poet," in the latest Yearbook of The Pennsylvania German Folklore Society.

The study explores the sources, relationships, and characteristics of one of the earliest writers in the dialect. Numerous specimens of Meyer's original poems and his translations are reprinted.

In the Showmanship class, the Guernsey of David Morrow, sixth semester dairy science major, was named the Grand Champion, while the Holstein of Thomas Kelly, second semester agriculture education major, received the first place ribbon for the Reserve Grand Champion.

'Battle of the Squirts'
In the "battle of the squirts," a contest for coeds, Barbara Mensinger, sixth semester arts and letters major, took top honors in the "professional division" by filling a half-pint milk bottle faster than runner-up Cecile Reapsome, second semester home economics major. Ann Howard second semester animal husbandry major, was named winner in the "amateur division," and the second place honors went to Claudetta Wittig, fourth semester arts and letters major.

Champion Honor Winners
Handlers of breeds capturing honors were: William Smith, fourth semester dairy science major, Ayrshire Champion Fitter; Cyril Arnold, fourth semester dairy science major, Ayrshire Champion Showmanship; Lee Kummer, eighth semester agronomy major; Champion Brown Swiss Fitter; and Ronald Henry, second semester dairy science major, Champion Brown Swiss Showmanship.

Harding, Champion Holstein Fitter; Kelly, Champion Holstein Showmanship; Harry Stoner, fourth semester dairy science major, Champion Jersey Fitter; John Harris, eighth semester education major, Champion Jersey Showmanship; Earl Waltemyer, second semester dairy science major, Champion Guernsey Fitter; and Morrow, Champion Guernsey Showmanship.

Coed's Cow Wins
Elizabeth McClelland, second semester physical education major, Reserve Champion Ayrshire Fitter; Smith, Reserve Champion Ayrshire Showmanship; William Thomas, fourth semester dairy science major, Reserve Champion Brown Swiss Fitter; and Kummer, Reserve Champion Brown Swiss Showmanship.

Hutchinson, Reserve Champion Holstein Fitter; and Showmanship; Harris, Reserve Champion Jersey Fitter; Carl Flandermeyer, fourth semester agriculture education major, Reserve Champion Jersey Showmanship; Clarence Bryan, sixth semester animal husbandry major, Reserve Champion Guernsey Fitter; and Annette Curtis, second semester home economics major.

Queen Presides
Presiding over the show was Sara Jo Walter, fourth semester home economics major, who was chosen queen. Miss Walter presented the awards.

Among the honored guests attending the show were Secretary

Key System To Change In Sparks

Sparks Building, "one of the hardest buildings on campus to control as far as security goes," will have a new key system by the end of the month, according to G. R. Trostly, key clerk.

Ben Euwema, dean of the Liberal Arts college, said this precaution was necessary in order "to tighten up on security." Keys have been lost and unauthorized people have found them and made duplicates, he said.

The new system will be an improvement over the old because it will provide for an unlimited number of combinations.

Each room and department office will be individually keyed. Faculty members will still have access to the building and to their offices after hours as before, but will not be able to get into the secretaries' offices. They must pick up their mail during the day.

Trostly said that they have the materials and the new locks should be in operation before exam time.

Although there hasn't been any trouble with examination papers being taken since the flare-up two years ago, Euwema said the new system will serve as a preventive measure.

Euwema also said that the new system will prevent supplies from being taken. He mentioned that a $550 electric calculator was stolen from Sparks sometime between April 20-25. Borough police are still investigating the theft.

Trostly did not know the exact cost of the re-keying, but estimated it to be somewhat under $5000.

Democrats Plan Military Panel

The Young Democrats Club will sponsor a panel on "Cooperation of the Armed Forces for Mutual Defense Security," at 7 tonight in 10 Sparks.

Dr. Arthur H. Reede, professor of economics and vice commander of the Nittany American Legion Post, will serve as moderator.

Panelists include Col. Lucien E. Bolduc, professor of military science, representing the Army; Col. Daniel F. Riva, professor of air science, representing the Air Force; Capt. Rowland H. Groff, professor of naval science, representing the Navy; and Capt. R. J. Saunders of the Marine Corps.

Panelists will also discuss specialties of the armed services.

Grindall to Attend Convention

Emerson L. Grindall, assistant professor of engineering research at the Ordnance Research Laboratory, will attend the ninth annual convention of the American Society for Quality Control May 23 to May 25 in New York City.

of Agriculture, Dr. William L. Henning, former head of the department of animal husbandry, and his deputy, Leland H. Bull.

Judges for the show were Cuthbert Nairn, Douglassville, and Donald Seipt, Easton. Show manager was William Phipps, eighth semester dairy science major.

Hail The Queen . . .

—Photo by Strauss
BARBARA SUE NAGER, "Miss Pennsylvania of 1955," crowns Barbara Patton, eighth semester education major, Miss Penn State last night at Recreation Hall before an estimated 2500. Miss Nager was sponsored by Pi Kappa Phi and Atherton Hall.

Complaints About Rain Are All Wet

Does it really rain more at Penn State than at any other place in Pennsylvania? Students have been debating this question for years, while they stepped ankle-deep in puddles and felt the wind and rain in their hair.

However, due to statistics, Dr. Charles L. Hosler, assistant professor in Meteorology, says no. The average amount of rainfall during 1954 at State College was 41 inches.

Harrisburg, in 1954, had 33 inches, Philadelphia, 35 inches, Scranton, 35 inches. But Pittsburgh's precipitation in 1954 amounted to 40 inches, Erie had 42 inches and Brookville, 43 inches.

This goes to prove that Penn State does not have a monopoly on rain. The amount of rain increases as one goes from the eastern to the western part of the state. Since Penn State is a transition point between east and west, it's just about in the middle of the road.

So, if its any consolation, while you're trudging off to the 8 o'clock class in a downpour, students at the University of Pittsburgh are also getting their own taste of liquid sunshine.

Fresh Mixer Scheduled

Arthur Schravasande, freshman class president, has announced a freshman class mixer from 2 to 5 p.m. next Friday in the Hetzel Union ballroom.

Chuck Torrence and his orchestra will play at the mixer, which is open to all students.

Ten Arrested For Violations

Ten University students were arrested for Motor Vehicle Code violations during the month of April.

Students displaying expired registration plates were William Powers, eighth semester industrial arts major; George Bockmyer, second semester business administration major; Louis Grieco, fifth semester electrical engineering major; David Powell, fourth semester arts and letters major; John Appar, eighth semester arts and letters major; Maorie Fox, second semester business administration major; David Miller, fifth semester business administration major; and Frank Heavener, graduate in engineering.

Operating a car while intoxicated: Edwin Workman, second semester arts and letters major. Reckless driving: Stanley McInroy, eighth semester petroleum and natural gas major.

Friedman Elected Hillel President

Harold Friedman, sixth semester industrial engineering major, has been elected president of Hillel Foundation executive committee.

Other officers are Julian Rappaport, men's vice president; Joan Rappaport, women's vice president; Sheila Preven, secretary; and Na'alic Moskowitz, treasurer.

Thirteen members were elected to the governing board: Eugene Berstein, Merle Brooks, Jane Gersham, Judith Gropper, Robert Kaytes, Ruth Kluger, Sherry Kofman, David Levy, Rhoda Resnick, LeRoy Sacks, Stanton Selbst, Harriet Steinman, and Phyllis Toiv.

This is the week --
Now Is Your Chance to See

The Great
NEIL HEFTI
And His Orchestra

Senior Ball

FRIDAY, MAY 13
Rec Hall

SEMI FORMAL • DANCING 9 to 1 •

the finishing touch to Spring Week!

INTERMISSION ENTERTAINMENT
BY PRINCETON NASSOONS

Sponsored by

Theta Kappa Phi
Fraternity

$5.00 Per Couple

Fly to
NEW YORK
WASHINGTON, D.C.

(connecting at Altoona)

Special Flight to PITTSBURGH

Lv. State College 8:25 a.m.

Ar. Pittsburgh 9:32 a.m.

Connections to Chicago, Detroit, Los Angeles, San Francisco

and other points west and south
Phone Phillipsburg 25

ALLEGHENY AIRLINES

June 1 40-passenger Martin "Executives"
Join Allegheny's Fleet

