

'Hat' Parade Winners Named

ONE OF THE finalists in the Mad Hatter's parade yesterday makes a comment on the sad state of coeds at the University. The sign says, "Nine out of 10 coeds are beautiful. The 10th goes to State."

78 Finalists Vie for Titles In Three Divisions Yesterday

What looked like rain yesterday morning turned out to be sunny and warm weather for the Mad Hatter's parade held at noon on the patio in front of Old Main.

Three winners were chosen in three divisions—artistic, comic, and original—from among 78 finalists chosen in the preliminary parade Tuesday night.

Pollock Council Elects Waltemeyer As New President

Robert Waltemeyer, sixth semester chemical engineering major, was elected new president of Pollock Council Tuesday night. Waltemeyer succeeds Harry Martini who has been elected secretary of the Association of Independent Men.

Other newly-elected officers are John Dennis, sixth semester chemical engineering major, vice president; Joseph Neville, fourth semester business administration major, secretary; Richard Davis, second semester ceramics major, treasurer; and David Cummings, fourth semester business administration major, representative at large to AIM.

The council heard a final report from the Pollock Council Welfare Committee given by the chairman, Nelson Seidel.

County Hospital Releases Miller

John W. Miller, sixth semester pre-medical major, was released from Centre County Hospital yesterday, a hospital official reported. Miller was injured in an auto accident at the intersection of Fairmount avenue and Locust lane April 24.

Miller's jaw was broken as a result of the accident. He was in a coma for a week and a half.

Upon his release, Miller was taken to the Presbyterian Hospital in Pittsburgh, where a metal plate will be put in his jaw. The jaw was set while in Centre County Hospital.

The first passenger train operated between Bellefonte and the University was April 2, 1892 on the Bellefonte Central Railroad.

Spring Concert To Be Given By Orchestra

Theodore K. Karhan, associate professor of music and music education, will direct the University Symphony Orchestra in its annual spring concert at 3 p.m. May 22 in Schwab Auditorium.

This year's program will include a selection of numbers to show the evolution of the waltz. This selection will replace the full length symphony which is customarily presented.

The Concerto for Flute and Harp (Mozart) will feature Mary Lou Meyer, junior in home economics from Lebanon, flutist; and Anne Hosfeld, junior in arts and letters from Shippensburg, harpist. This concerto is rarely performed in concerts.

The original Symphony Orchestra, founded in the 1870's, was called the Mandolin Club. The club included guitar, banjo, and mandolin players. As the interest in music grew, the organization expanded to its present 62-member group. Karhan has directed the Symphony Orchestra for six years.

The concert is open to the public and no admission will be charged.

Town Independent Men Name Cole To Head Council

Robert Cole, sixth semester political science major, has been elected president of Town Independent Men.

Others elected last Tuesday were: Edwin Dull, sixth-semester animal husbandry major, vice president; James Faust, sixth semester agricultural education major, secretary; and James Rhodes, sixth semester business administration major, treasurer.

Ray Rubner, former president, announced that TIM will not join the Penn State Club in social functions for independent men as had been tentatively planned last week.

A joint council and Penn State Club committee, which had been formed last week to investigate the possibility of locating space downtown for weekend social functions, has been dissolved, according to Rubner.

Council will continue to look for such space to be used next fall, but will do so independently of the Penn State Club, Rubner said.

Five Appointed By Ag Council

Ag Hill Council has approved five appointments to committee heads for next year.

Daniel VanDuyane, sixth semester agriculture engineering major, was appointed head of "Howdie Night" with Jackie Paules, fourth semester agriculture engineering major, Darwin Braund, sixth semester dairy husbandry major, was appointed head of the faculty rating committee, John Leasure, sixth semester forestry major, constitutional revisions committee, and William Allison, sixth semester agronomy major, head of open house.

In other action, the council decided to drop their leadership program to give full support to the All-University Cabinet program, and to support the proposed Penn State series fee.

Judges for the parade were Mary Filer, assistant professor of art education; Agnes Doody, instructor in speech; Dean Smith, resident of Potters Mills; and G. S. Zoretich, instructor of fine arts.

Scholastic Failings Drop 242 Students

Two hundred and forty-two students were dropped from the University for scholastic reasons at the end of the fall semester, according to the office of the registrar.

Of the 11,822 students enrolled on and off campus for the fall semester, 1717 were placed on scholastic probation and 91 were placed in the Division of Intermediate Registration.

All together, 2044 students, or 17.3 per cent of the student body, were accorded some type of scholastic action at the close of the semester.

Further statistics show that students who graduated in the lower two-fifths of their high school classes fared better percentage-wise in receiving scholastic penalties than the remaining three-fifths.

Upper Fifth Rank: Seventeen point nine per cent of the 2044 subject to scholastic action were ranked in the upper fifth of their high school class, 31 per cent were in the second-fifth, 30 per cent were in the third-fifth, 13.3 per cent were in the fourth-fifth, 6 per cent were in the fifth fifth, and 2.2 per cent were not classified.

The greatest number of students to be dropped, placed on scholastic probation or in DIR occurred in the second-fifth category. Of this group, 531 men and 102 women were cited. Of these, 259 were male freshmen and 70 were female freshmen.

No Freshmen Dropped: However, since under University regulations no freshmen may be dropped from the University, the 259 and 70 only incurred scholastic probation entry into DIR.

Closely following the second-fifth rating was the third-fifth with a total of 525 men and 82 women, broken down into 271 freshman men and 58 freshman women.

In percentage form, 31.1 per cent or a total of 852 freshman men and 37 per cent or a total of 271 freshman women in the second-fifth high school rating incurred scholastic action. The women's percentage was the highest of the five class ratings, with 30.7 per cent out of 133 listed as second highest in the third-fifth class.

Highest Percentage: The highest percentage of freshman men was 32.5 out of 656 in the third-fifth high school rank.

Of the 2044 students involved in scholastic action, 210 men and 28 women were dropped from the University; 1463 men and 254 women were placed on scholastic probation; and 88 men and five women were placed in DIR.

The number of men involved in some sort of scholastic action was more than six times the number of women. The statistics cited 1759 men and 285 women.
