

Pitt to Test Lions' Home Win Streak

By RON GATEHOUSE

An 8-4 Penn State baseball record and hard-luck hurler Stan Larimer are what the Pitt diamond squad will find when it converges upon the Lions at 3:30 this afternoon at Beaver Field.

The two teams will meet again tomorrow afternoon. If the past continues to repeat itself, the junior righthander stands a positive chance of picking up his second win in five starts. The Nittanians are unbeaten on home grounds with all four of their setbacks coming on the road.

Although it's not definite that Larimer will get the nod to handle today's mound chores, Joe Bedenk hinted earlier in the week that the 5' 10", 170-lb. hurler will get today's starting assignment.

In Larimer's four outings to date, plus four innings on the hill for which he got no credit, he has yielded only 31 hits. His last showing was a losing five-hit 4-3 heartbreaker.

Short on Support

Lack of support seems to be the biggest factor labeling Larimer as Bedenk's "hard-luck" pitcher. In those same four games the Nittanians have backed him up with a sparse total of only 26 safeties, and nine errors in the field.

But on home grounds the Lions have banged out 65 base hits as compared to 43 on foreign soil (they've played 5 games at home—7 away). So, again, if the past repeats itself, Larimer is a good choice to throw against the Panthers this afternoon for Nittany win number nine.

Either Phil Saunders or Lou D'Orsaneo will complete the Lion battery.

The infield will be the same at second, third and shortstop, but for the third straight game things may be revised a bit at first.

Starters Indefinite

Pat Kennedy, back with the team after a two-game absence, or Paul Palumbo will complete the infield, depending partially on how the pair performed at last night's practice session.

The outfield will find consistent Rex Bradley in left and Jim Lockerman, who went four-for-five his last time out, in center. Bob McMullen or Ken Malley will probably fill the rightfield post, depending on whether the Panthers throw in a right- or left-handed pitcher.

Scored Two Wins

The Panthers, with a 5-6 record to date, will be out to repeat or better two one-run margin wins they posted over the Nittanians last year.

In two games, Pitt outdid the Lion nine 9-6 to register 5-4 and 2-1 victories.

Bob Lewis, former Panther diamond standout, has taken over the Pitt coaching reins in the absence of coach Sarge Mitterling. He's led them to wins over Norfolk, Kans., Indiana State Norfolk NAS, Indiana State Teachers College, Ohio University, Geneva, and Washington and Jefferson.

Ohio State and Quantico Marines, are among the teams that topped the Panthers.

The only Pitt-Penn State mutual foe this season, Navy, handed the Panthers a 23-6 shellacking early in the season. The Middies were 9-3 victims of Eddie Drapcho's 5-0 shutout Tuesday.

Tomorrow's game is scheduled to get under way at 2:30 p.m.

Lion Golfers Leave For EIGA Tourney

By JOE CHEDDAR

The Penn State golf squad left at 10 a.m. this morning for New Haven, Conn., where the 28th revival of the Eastern Intercollegiate Golf Association championships will be held tomorrow through Monday.

The "World Series" of Eastern collegiate golf will be held this year on the 6200-yard Yale University golf course. This extravaganza annually pits the best in Eastern college golf in a three-day marathon that ends with the naming of an individual team and champion.

This is one championship that has been able to elude the shooting of Nittany Linksmen. In all the years of competitive golf at the University, the golfers have been able to pocket this prize only once—in 1948.

The Lions will be trying hard this trip, however. They are beginning to taste the fruits of an undefeated season; a team with that sweet taste in its mouth is hard to stop. The Lions are confident they can win it all. So confident, in fact, that they are ready to present the big trophy to Coach Rutherford.

Rutherford however, while perhaps feeling as confident as his team, declined to make any statements about the outcome of the tourney.

Lions Capable

The Lions have the horses to back up their beliefs, too. It is hard to place a Lion team in the past that has the potentialities of this year's squad. In four dual meets this season the Lions have lost only three matches and tied once. The three losses came against Cornell, a team that fell before the Lions, 4-3. These losses were so close that they could have gone either way.

Captain Warren Gittlen, Gus Gerhart, John Boyanowski, and Leo Kukkola all carry unbeaten slates into this weekend's fray. Boyanowski and the "Kook" are unbeaten in four starts. Gerhart has romped through three starts unscathed, and Gittlen has won three and tied one.

The Lions will be up against all manner of difficulties in the EIGA tilt, however. The Bulldogs have copped the meet two years running now, and will have the added advantage of playing this one in their own back yard.

In last year's meet, the Lions were able to do no better than a 10th place finish out of 18 teams—definitely not par for the course. Not one of Rutherford's linksmen was able to survive the qualifying round; Gordy Stroup, who graduated, came closest when he missed qualifying by one stroke.

To Use G-man Squad

The Lions entourage included seven men when they left State

College this morning, but the squad will be pared by one for the actual competition. Rutherford has made no indication which of his men will be relegated to the sidelines for the match; he will probably decide after seeing the team in its practice round tomorrow.

The EIGA will be a Medalist play type of match. Each participant will play 36 qualifying holes on Saturday. The 16 lowest scores will be eligible for the finals Sunday and Monday. The team championship going to the college with the lowest aggregate four-player score, should be decided in the first day's action.

Frosh Face Pitt Tuesday

By VINCE CAROCCI

With the return of hurdlers Ogier Norris and Jim Moore and sprinter Bob Breslin, Coach Norm Gordon expects to have his freshman track squad at full strength when the Lions journey to Pittsburgh Tuesday to meet the Pitt frosh.

Norris and Breslin were injured while competing in the hurdles during last Saturday's meet with the Navy Plebes. Moore received his injury during pre-season workouts and was unable to make the Navy trip. Moore is expected to give the frosh added punch in the hurdles, thus far the weakest point on the squad. Gordon again named weightman John Tullar, distance runner Gus Ormrod, and hurdler Norris as the men who will carry the bulk of the load in Tuesday's meet. Norris will also compete in the pole vault, high jump, and broad jump, while Tullar will enter the 440-yard dash and will also be a member of the mile relay team.

The Lion coach is looking for added improvement in the sprints and the pole vault, where the young Nittanians could cop no better than second place in the Plebe Test last Saturday. The javelin and high jump were two other events which gave the freshman some trouble. The Panther frosh should provide strong opposition for the Lion thinclads. Pitt has three men who participated in last year's state high school championship meet ready to face the Lions. Sprinter Ken Carper, who captured third place in the high school meet, state champion hurdler John Russell, quarter-miler Bob Trash, runnerup in the state meet, and distance runner Bill Jones should comprise the nucleus of the Panther squad, Gordon said. The only major change in the Lion lineup for Tuesday's meet will be in the half-mile event, where Gus Ormrod will be a surprise entry. The rest of the lineup will remain intact with one or two exceptions, the frosh coach said. Gordon hopes to run time trials following the varsity meet on Saturday to determine the remainder of his squad.

Lions Host Tartan Net Squad Today

With the hope of shaking loose the losing habit which has plagued the Nittany Lion tennis squad so far this season, Coach Sherman Fogg will send his netmen against the Carnegie Tech Tartans this afternoon at 3:00 on the Beaver Field courts.

The netters will meet Pitt tomorrow. The netters hope to stage a repeat performance of last year's encounter between the two teams which saw the Lions pull a surprising 9-0 upset over the men from Pittsburgh. The defeat broke a 22 match winning streak for the Tartans.

The Lions pose a less dangerous opponent for the Tartans this year as the Foggmen have tasted defeat in four of their six matches this season.

Coach Fogg will go along with basically the same lineup as he has in the previous six matches. There will be only one minor change.

Ziegler Leads Off

Captain Bill Ziegler will be going after his second win of the campaign as he is set for the number one position. He has dropped five matches. The only change will be John Cleary playing in the number two slot. He moved up a notch since the last Lion match when he garnered the only State singles victory. This will be his third start. He dropped his opening encounter in the Lions' first match.

Ed Seiling will appear next in the order as the Nittany junior will play in the third spot. He also will be seeking his second win as he has won one and lost four. Chris Christiansen, one of the two netters with three wins to his credit, will be playing to boost his season's record over the 500 mark. Christiansen, who has lost three, will be playing in the fourth position.

Zucker Has Best Record

Doug Zucker, owner of the best record on the squad, will play in the fifth position. Zucker, the other three-match winner, has been defeated only once, that in a close three set decision against Georgetown last Saturday. In the final singles match, Larry Adler will be looking for win number three. He has also dropped a trio of encounters.

The Lions will be without the services of Dean Mullen who is out with a sprained ankle. Mullen regularly played in the second or third position.

In doubles, Fogg was uncertain what the lineup would be. He said however, that it would probably be Ziegler and Zucker in the number one spot, Seiling and Christiansen in the second, and Joe Eberly and Al Williams in the final one.

Jones No-hits Pirates—Faces Only 31 Hitters

CHICAGO, May 12 (AP)—Sam "Toothpick" Jones, towering Chicago Cub righthander, hurled a dramatic no-hitter against the Pittsburgh Pirates today, 4-0, striking out the entire Pirate side in the ninth inning after walking the bases full.

Jones faced 31 batters, walking seven, as he fashioned the first National League no-hitter in Chicago in 38 years. He struck out six.

The fast-balling Negro, former Cleveland chattel, really gave the skippy crowd of 2918 a thrill when—after walking the first three Pirates in the ninth—he struck out Dick Groat on three pitches, fanned Roberto Clemente on a 0-2 and whiffed dangerous Frank Thomas on a called third strike with a 1-2 count.

Bosox Blast A's, 12-7

BOSTON, May 12 (AP)—The run-starved Boston Red Sox ended the famine today by banging out 15 hits—including home runs by Gene Stephens and Jackie Jensen—for a 12-7 victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

Gus Zernial hit his ninth and tenth homers of the year, good for two runs each, and Bill Renna slammed No. 4, a three-run affair in a losing cause.
