Grade System Outlined

The new grading system which will go into effect next year will utilize both the numerical grade and the letter grade, C. O. Williams, dean of admissions and registrar, said yesterday at a meeting of the Honor Society Council.

The system will involve the use of quality points and a corresponding letter grade: 4 (90-100) A, 3 (80-89) B, 2 (70-79) C, 1 (60-69) D, and 0 (0-59) F.

An All-University average of a 2 will be required for graduation.

Williams explained that with the letter system, parents and individuals outside the University would be able to understand the grade better. Williams added that with the elimination of the -2 and the -1 the recorder's job will be simplified.

The Honor Society Council began work on the revised grading system two years ago and last year it recommended the revision to All-University Cabinet.

The proposal was referred to the Senate and the Senate ratified the proposal on March 3.

With the abolition of the -1, it is now impossible for a student to graduate with an average lower than a 1 All-University—as was possible in the past.

The Honor Society Council unanimously accepted two petitions for membership to the Council from Phi Sigma Society, a zoological honor society, and Phi Epsilon Phi fraternity, a botanical honor society.

Dr. Franklin B. Krauss, head of the department of romance languages and professor of Latin, was elected president of the society.

Other officers elected are: Paul Hill, sophomore in agricultural engineering from Spring Mills, vice president; and Robert Foreman, sophomore in civil engineering from South Waverly, treasurer.

The purpose of the Honor Society Council is to coordinate and unify the activities of honor societies, to encourage scholarship, and to promote the recognition of honor students.
