

Senate Takes Action on 2 Students

The Senate Subcommittee on Discipline yesterday upheld a Tribunal ruling that a junior in business administration from Llewellyn be placed on disciplinary probation until the beginning of the spring semester 1956. The subcommittee suspended a freshman in industrial engineering from Lancaster, effective at the end of the semester. The suspended student will have the privilege of applying for readmission in the spring semester of next year.

Political Information Groups Get Tentative OK by Simes

Dean of Men Frank J. Simes yesterday approved a tentative plan to allow the formation of two campus political groups which would inform freshmen next semester of national and campus political affairs respectively.

The groups would be formed of three campus organizations each which would strive to acquaint freshmen with politics in the interest of good student government not for "individual advertising" of a certain organization's or person's attributes, Robert Spadaro, former Lion party clique chairman, said yesterday.

Spadaro announced a week ago that he was attempting to form a single organization of campus political groups to instruct freshmen in politics during orientation week. Three groups, Campus party, State party, and Intercollegiate Conference on Government, disapproved of the idea and withdrew from the proposed organization, to be called the Political Information Council.

The organization, as proposed by Spadaro to Simes, would be formed of two facets—one of national political groups, Young Republicans Club, Young Democrats Club, and ICG—and the other of campus political groups, Campus, State, and Lion parties. Further plan: concerning the organization will be formulated during Student Encampment in September, Spadaro said. If Simes approves the completed plans, the two groups will go ahead with plans to instruct freshmen during the semester.

If Simes is satisfied that the groups won't be seeking personal glory, they will be placed under control of the Intercollegiate Council Board. Printed literature will be distributed to freshmen by ICCB explaining politics, Spadaro said.

Pennsylvania is America's greatest cigar state. More than 2.5 billion cigars were manufactured in 1950. Pennsylvania leads the nation in production of leaf tobacco. Lancaster County alone produces more of that type of tobacco than any other state.

The student who was placed on probation was decided guilty for having a movie screen belonging to the University in his room.

Tribunal was confronted with confusing and contradictory testimony for two nights. The defendant finally told what Tribunal members felt was the true story about 1 a.m. Wednesday.

The final decision involved two other students, who withdrew earlier this semester, one of whom is reported to have taken the screen from the Temporary Classroom Building.

According to Harold W. Perkins, assistant dean of men, the student who reportedly stole the screen gave it to the other student who also withdrew. When the second student withdrew, he gave the screen to the student placed on disciplinary probation.

The students who withdrew will not be allowed to re-enter until cleared by the dean of men's office, the subcommittee ruled.

The second case, involving a freshman who was suspended, was first heard by Tribunal, but no action was taken. The dean of men's office forwarded it to the subcommittee for action.

The student admitted stealing objects and cash valued at $48.75 about 1:30 a.m. May 1 from Alpha Chi Rho fraternity.

The student, who is a minor, had been drinking beer at Alpha Chi Sigma and Alpha Chi Rho before stealing the objects, according to Guy G. Mills, State College justice of the peace.

Both houses were placed on "board probation" by the Interfraternity Council Board of Control Monday night for serving beer to minors.

Justice, Cinderella, Mud, Petroleum, Auto, Bim, Bud, Looneyville and Cuzzle are places in West Virginia, says the National Geographic Society.
