

Campus Chest Collects Money for 15 Groups

Campus Chest was organized in 1950 in an effort to consolidate the various charity drives which are conducted during the year. Last year, this method of "putting all the begs in one askit" collected $4160.60, which was distributed among 15 charity groups. This total fell behind the $10,394.52 which was collected during the 1953-54 campaign.

Brown, 37, Dies While Swimming

Dr. Walter N. Brown Jr., research associate in applied physics, drowned at noon Monday in the Atlantic Ocean off Long Branch, N.J.

Dr. and Mrs. Brown were swimming in the ocean on a public beach near the home they were occupying for the past month according to Long Branch police. Life guards are not on duty on the beach after Labor Day.

Dr. Brown was pulled away from the shore line by a strong undercurrent. Mrs. Brown called for help, but neither two fishermen nor the police summoned were able to reach him in time. His body was recovered later by a Coast Guard amphibious duck about 400 yards offshore.

Dr. Brown, who served part time on the faculty, spent the month of August on a research project at Fort Monmouth, N.J., near Long Branch. He was also a director and research consultant for Haller, Raymond, and Brown, Inc.

Born Nov. 16, 1917 in Washington, D.C., Dr. Brown graduated from Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1939 and received his M.S. degree there the following year.

He served on the faculty at MIT as an assistant in electrical engineering. In 1941 he entered the Army as a second lieutenant in the Signal Corps. He was relieved from active duty in 1945 as a major, having been affiliated with the Special Projects Laboratory of the Signal Corps. He was awarded the Legion of Merit for "formulating plans for the research and development of highly specialized radio equipment required for the control of guided missiles."

Dr. Brown also helped organize and was first commanding officer of the 112th Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron, Air National Guard unit here.

In 1946 Dr. Brown was appointed a research assistant in physics in the Ellen H. Richards Institute. One of his projects concerned the development of a bone density machine.

In 1949 Dr. Brown received his Ph.D. degree from the University. He was a member of the Institute of Radio Engineers, the Society of the Sigma Xi, and of Sigma Nu, social fraternity.

Survivors include his widow, Margaret T. Brown, four children, and his father, Walter N. Brown, all of State College.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Our Lady of Victory Church, State College. Friends may call from 7 to 9 tonight at the Koch Funeral Home.

$70,000 Given For Research

Agreements, providing more than $70,000 for research in the College of Chemistry and Physics, with nine industrial firms and foundations have been completed by the University.

The National Science Foundation donated $20,500; Dow Corning Corporation, $14,260; American Cancer Society, Incorporated, $4000; Research Corporation, $2500; B. F. Goodrich Company, $3000; Pennsylvania Grade Crude Oil Association, $20,000; and Rohm and Haas Company, $5000.

The two fellowships renewed are Barrett division of Allied Chemical and Dye Corporation $3500 and Semet-Solvay $3500.

New UCA Executive Appointed

The Rev. Lester Dobyns, former Young Men's Christian Association executive secretary at Michigan State University, has been named executive director of the University Christian Association, Protestant student organization.

As executive director of UCA, Reverend Dobyns will be filling the position established a year ago when the organization was organized. Since that time, Mary Jane Wyland has been serving as acting director.

Reverend Dobyns will assume responsibility for general management for all activities of the organization, according to Dr. Russell B. Dickerson, chairman of the UCA board of directors.

After studying at the Julliard School of Music, Reverend Dobyns received his MA degree from Columbia University. He received his BD degree from the Episcopal Theological Seminary, Alexandria, Va.

He has been associated with the department of adult education in the state of Delaware, 1935-36; has taught in Louisiana and New Jersey public schools; and has served as program secretary from 1943 to 1947 at the McBarney branch of the YMCA, New York City.

Reverend Dobyns was executive director of the student YMCA program at Michigan State University from 1947 to 1953. Until accepting his present UCA post, he continued his studies at the Episcopal Theological Seminary.

Winning Ways

Golf is the owner of Penn State's No. 1 win streak—12 straight matches over a two-year period.

The Chest drive has three main purposes:

1. To eliminate duplicate efforts.
2. To establish a definite policy for conducting charity drives on the campus. No others are permitted.
3. To emphasize the responsibility of students toward charitable groups.

Percentage Set

Each of the groups which benefit from Campus Chest receives its share according to a predetermined percentage of the total contribution.

The charities and their percentages in last year's drive were:

World University Service, 20 per cent; Penn State Scholarship Fund, eight per cent; National Service Fund for Negro Students, seven per cent; Cerebral Palsy Drive, three per cent; Damon Runyon Cancer Fund, three per cent.

Recipients

American Heart Society, three per cent; American Cancer Society, three per cent; Salvation Army, three per cent; Centre County Heart Fund, three per cent; Women's Student Government Association, two per cent and State College Welfare Fund, two per cent.

The three campus religious organizations—the Hillel Foundation, Newman Club and University Christian Association—received 35 per cent of the total amount.

Operating expenses for the drive amounted to $1310.02.

The bulk of contributions to last year's campaign—$4,059.59—came from the Chest solicitation drive last fall. The remainder was contributed through the proceeds from special events.

The Kickoff Dance, held in the fall, netted $561.03, the Ugly Man contest, sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, netted approximately $920 and the Max Kaminski jazz concert brought $695. This year's solicitation drive will be held Oct. 18, 19 and 20.

Hat Groups to End Talks with Frosh

Hat societies will conclude their nightly talks with freshmen tonight in assigned campus buildings.

For the first half of the week, hatmen and hatwomen have counseled freshmen in the customs program, student conduct, activities, social life, honorary and professional societies, and campus religious opportunities.

Hat Society Counseling program was termed very successful in carrying out its aims in acquainting freshmen with the University, according to Vernon Sones, Hat Society Council president.

He also said a large number of hatmen and hatwomen turned out to help in counseling the new students.

Frosh Toured Campus

Members of hat societies guided freshmen on tours of the campus Monday evening before the welcoming address by President Milton S. Eisenhower.

Freshman women will continue to be informed of the women's associations on campus at meetings tonight and tomorrow night in Schwab Auditorium.

The functions of the Women's Recreation Association will be related beginning at 6:45 tonight. Women will learn about Panhellenic-Leonides at 6:45 p.m. tomorrow. Yesterday, a talk on Women's Student Government Association was presented in Schwab Auditorium.

Frosh to Meet Counselors

Freshmen men and women will meet with dormitory counselors in dormitory units and lounges tonight and tomorrow night. Men will hear the functions of student government, dormitory counselors, and the Association of Independent Men at 8 p.m. tonight in dormitory lounges.

Serving as counselors for men are members of Parmi Nous and Skull and Bones, senior men's hat societies; Blue Key and Androcles, junior men's hat societies; Druids and Delphi, sophomore men's hat societies.

Chimes, Cwens Counselors

Members of Chimes, junior women's hat society, and Cwens, sophomore women's hat society, are counseling women. Two senior women's hat societies, Mortar Board and Scrolls, are serving on a stand-by basis.

Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, is continuing to operate the information booth on the Mall along Pollack road.

Orientation Week activities will conclude on Saturday with two social events for the freshmen—the Dink Debut at 2 p.m. in the ballroom of the Hetzel Union Building, and Fun Night, scheduled for 7 p.m. in Recreation Hall.
