

'Ione' May KO Archie, Rocky

Marciano Is 3 1/2-1 Choice; Advance Sales Climbing

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Sept. 19 (AP)—Hurricane Ione, swirling north with a wallop that could flatten both Rocky Marciano and Archie Moore, threatened tomorrow night's big heavy-weight title bout at Yankee Stadium.

Promoter Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, kept an ear glued to the telephone for the latest reports from his personal weather man who predicted a mid-morning clearing.

Until Ione decided to try to crash the gate, the ticket sale was booming with the advance approaching $600,000. A tremendous last day sale was expected. Now it all depends on the weather.

If the fight should be postponed, it would go on Wednesday night. With the Yankees on the road, Yankee Stadium is available the rest of the week.

The odds favoring Marciano lengthened a bit to 3 1/2-1 as fight time approached. The bookmakers said it was 6-5 Moore wouldn't go more than eight rounds and 18-5 the bout wouldn't last the 15-round route.

Boxing writers who have visited both camps were even more positive than the odds. Of 68 polled, it was a 64-4 landslide for Marciano, the heavy-weight king who is unbeaten in his 48-bout career. The average pick was Rocky by a knockout over the lightweight king in nine rounds.

Marciano flew in from his training camp at Grossinger, N.Y., and was shuttled off to a hiding place until weigh-in time at noon tomorrow in the lobby of Madison Square Garden.

"I am in the best condition of my life," Marciano said. "I am going to win and by a knockout if it is humanly possible."

Moore, the wandering minstrel, who gets a chance to become the oldest man ever to win the title at 38, flew from North Adams, Mass., his training base.

Phi Delta Theta Wins IM Crown; Sigma Nu 2d

Phi Delta Theta proved to be the top fraternity in intramural competition last year according to final tabulations released by the IM department.

The champions, recipient of the All-Year Point Award trophy, captured first place with a total of 842.2 points. Touch football, which the Phi Deltas won—good for 155 points—and handball singles, where they finished second for 135 points, were the two largest point producers for the victors.

Sigma Nu, with 814 points, finished second. Sigma Nu won the golf team event and finished second in boxing and basketball to net it 300 points.

Beta Theta Pi wound up in third place with 657 points. The Betas won the swimming tournament, and had enough second and third place finishes to edge Delta Upsilon by one-half point for the third spot.

D.U., runner-up in the wrestling tournament, compiled a total of 656.5 points to finish fourth. Failure to score a point in either the golf-medal or horseshoes tournaments hurt the house's chances of finishing higher.

In fifth place with 653 points was Phi Kappa Sigma, victors in the boxing tourney. This, coupled with a second place finish in tennis, earned the house 385 points.

Theta Xi, 624 points, Delta Sigma Phi, 602 points, Sigma Chi, 584 points, Alpha Sigma Phi, 577 points, and Delta Chi, 544 points, round out the top ten.

Phi Delta Theta, winners in touch football and tennis doubles, and Zeta Zeta Tau, handball singles and doubles champions, were the only two-time victors last year. Theta Xi won the badminton event and finished second in volleyball while Delta Sigma Phi copped the runner-up position in both the football and swimming tournies.

Outing Club Announces Three-fold '55 Schedule

Membership soared last night for Penn State's Outing Club as freshmen and upperclassmen alike turned out in force to the club's first meeting where plans for the 1955 activity list were announced.

The Club, which swelled to 500 members last year, has 16 officers and is divided into three main groups—field and stream, cabin and trail, and winter sports. Each group has its own officers.

James Bealer, president of the field and stream group, outlined that section's coming activities which would include the annual canoeing trip to Canada next summer, archery events, fishing trips, and a turkey shoot.

Bealer's group will also have a rifle team.

Joseph Phillips, president of the winter sports section, announced that his group will again sponsor a five-day skiing trip to Allegheny Park in New York.

Phillips also said that three skiing parties will be held this winter. The dates of the weekend parties will be announced at a later date. An ice show and ice skating and skiing instructions will be added to this year's program, Phillips said.

Albert Reeves, president of the cabin and trails section of the club, announced that a "lean-to"—a slanted roof shelter with three sides—had been constructed at Beaver Dam last year by his group. Plans for a similar project atop Mt. Nittany will be handled by Reeves' group this year.

In addition, the cabin and trails group plans to sponsor a joint outing and several overnight hikes this year.

The Outing Club is partially supported by money allotted to it from registration fees of students enrolled at the University. The additional finances, which are used for repairing and buying equipment such as the ski tower, are paid by assessing each member a $2 membership fee.

Money for the cost of food and transportation for the various trips is obtained on a "chip-in" basis.

The highlight of the club's summer activities was a ten-day canoe trip from State College to Brenton, Ontario. Despite several seven-mile hikes, heavy winds, cold weather, rain, and rough water in addition to sleeping in a railroad depot someplace in Ontario, the group seemed to enjoy themselves.

Anybody for the Outing Club??

Training Program Registration Open

Students may register for the proposed eight-week leadership training program today and tomorrow at the Hetzel Union desk.

The program will consist of eight 90-minute sessions which will begin Wednesday, Sept. 28.

A meeting place for students enrolling in the program has yet to be chosen, according to James Musser, administrator of the program.

All students who received invitations to enroll in the program may also register at the Hetzel Union desk. Registration began yesterday.

Entries for IM Tennis Due by September 23

Entries for the intramural tennis single tourney must be turned into the IM office, Recreation Hall, not later than 4:30 p.m. Friday, September 23.

An organization may enter only two men. Independent students may enter as unattached individuals.
