

Dulles Forsees Cold War End

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Sept. 22 (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles predicted today the cold war may be ended because of the Geneva summit conference and other recent developments. He called for an era of peaceful change during which governments will renounce the use of war and subversion.

In his annual policy address to the UN General Assembly, Dulles stood firm on the broad lines of U.S. policy such as the unification of Germany and resistance by the free world to international communism. But his tone was moderate and he said a new spirit prevails in the world as a consequence of the meeting at Geneva.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, who has thawed considerably in recent months, joined applause for Dulles. Molotov, who speaks tomorrow, will team with Dulles and the foreign ministers of Britain and France in Geneva Oct. 27 in a conference which will disclose in some degree how far the Geneva spirit extends.

Dulles Stresses Peace

"The summit meeting, if it is to be historic rather than episodic, must usher in an era of peaceful change," Dulles said. "It will not be an era of placidity and stagnancy, in the sense that the status quo, with its manifold injustices, is accepted as permanent. It will be an era of change, and it will have its strains and its stresses. But peoples and governments will renounce the use of war and subversion to achieve their goals. They will accept orderly evolution toward the realization of legitimate national aspirations. They will develop wider economic intercourse among themselves. They will increasingly respect human rights and fundamental freedoms. And human effort will be dedicated to what is creative and benign."

UN Will Change

"The United Nations too will change. Given good will and mutual confidence, many provisions of the charter will gain new meaning and new vitality. "Let us strive together to begin these changes so that when we have our meeting at the 20th session here we will look back on the decade which is now beginning and call it the healing decade of true peace."

Dulles was the first big power delegate to speak at the general debate opened in the Assembly. In this debate each chief delegate has the opportunity to outline his government's views on the world situation.

Sales Tax Veto Slated

HARRISBURG, Sept. 22 (AP)—Gov. Leader said today he hasn't changed his mind about vetoing a sales tax should the Legislature seek renewal of the levy.

He made the statement in direct answer to a question as to whether he has altered his stand that he would veto a sales tax should such legislation reach his desk.

Store Magnate Dies

NEW YORK, Sept. 22 (AP)—Samuel Henry Kress, 92, a one-time newsboy who became a chain store magnate, art patron, and philanthropist, died today in his Fifth Avenue apartment.

Rail Talks Broken Off By Unions

CHICAGO, Sept. 22 (AP)—Contract negotiations between the nation's major railroads and 11 AFL unions representing 800,000 non-operating employes were broken off today.

George E. Leighty of St. Louis, chairman of the Employes' National Conference Committee, said the talks were abruptly terminated by refusal of management representatives for the western and south-eastern regions to negotiate for all employes represented by the unions.

Leighty told a news conference that the eastern regional representatives of the railroads said there was no use continuing the talks without the other groups.

Negotiations had opened Monday.

The unions had served notice on Aug. 1, 1955, in accordance with the Railway Labor Act, asking a 25 cent hourly wage increase for the 800,000 covered by their agreements. The railroads rejected the demand on Sept. 15. The carriers made no counter-offer.

The 130 Class 1 railroads also rejected the demands that the carriers pay the full cost of health-welfare programs.

Leighty said the unions are taking a strike vote and expect to have the results by Oct. 15. However, he said, balloting on some of the carriers is nearly completed and the employes will be prepared to strike on those carriers before Oct. 15.

He added that results of the balloting so far indicate that sentiment is running overwhelmingly in favor of taking strike action, if necessary, to secure an acceptable settlement.

Red Leaders Vacation

MOSCOW, Sept. 22 (AP)—Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev left Moscow tonight for a vacation after a final flurry of international moves which capped six months of intense diplomatic activity.

They are going to the Crimea and the Caucasus. There was no information on when they might return.

Adenauer Counsels Western Powers

BONN, Germany, Sept. 22 (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer notified Western and neutral powers today that recognition of East Germany's Communist government would be "an unfriendly act" to the West German republic.

In a major foreign policy address to Parliament, Adenauer declared the Soviet Union's announcement this week of sovereignty for East Germany "does not change anything."

"The Soviet zone regime does not possess any democratic basis, has no sovereignty and there can be no question of recognizing it," he said.

The Chancellor said Russia's transfer to the East German government of control over the life-line highway to free West Berlin violates the 1949 Big Four agreement ending the Soviet blockade.

He sent notes to the United States, Britain and France asking that they publicly define again their attitude to the East Berlin Communist government, which has been recognized by the Soviet Union and its satellites for years.

The West German notes asked new pledges that the Western Powers will not change their policy of nonrecognition and that they will uphold their special position in isolated Berlin.

Adenauer's actions reflected official concern here that the Russians will try to maneuver the West at the Big Four conference in Geneva next month into swapping recognition of two German states for a relaxation in the arms race.

Hurricane Janet Beginning to Move

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 22 (AP)—Hurricane Janet, 10th big tropical storm of the year, thundered across the Windward Islands into the Caribbean Sea today and caused a hurricane alert as far away as Puerto Rico.

She had smashed across the British island of Barbados, and ominous silence enveloped that outpost. The last word came at 9 a.m. when the weather observer reported 60-mile winds and said he was forced to evacuate his station and instruments.

Salk Vaccine Will Not Cause RH Response

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 22 (AP)—Dr. Jonas E. Salk said today the anti-polio vaccine which he developed doesn't appear to touch off an RH blood factor response as some physicians had feared.

The University of Pittsburgh epidemiologist also told doctors at the 105th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Medical Society that:

1. Properly constituted vaccine properly used is safe and effective.

2. The vaccine does not seem to cause kidney damage.

3. Infants respond to the vaccine in much the same way as children six years or over.

4. One shot of vaccine does the work of the usual three in some persons.

Referring to fears of some authorities that repeated injections of the vaccine might sensitize recipients of the tricky and dangerous RH blood factor, Dr. Salk said a yet unpublished study by a team of Philadelphia scientists reveals there are no hidden RH perils in the use of the vaccine.

He said the study covered 100 children inoculated in 1954 field trials of the vaccine.

Dr. Salk said the RH factor had been of particular concern to physicians administering the vaccine to expectant mothers.

The RH or Rhesus factor named after the Rhesus monkey in which it was first detected is a substance present in the red blood cells of most persons—but not all.

During the dark ages, cats were roasted alive and dropped from high towers in an effort to do away with the spirits of witchcraft, says the National Geographic Society.

West Coast Kidnappers Ask $5000

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22 (AP)—A $5,000 ransom demand, threatening death, struck a new blow today at the agonized parents of 5-day-old baby Robert Marcus, kidnaped Monday from Mt. Zion Hospital.

The ransom note, mailed in Oakland, was believed by police to be a cruel hoax by an outside criminal. The baby's father, Dr. Sanford Marcus, took a package as directed to an Oakland rendezvous early today, but no taker appeared.

The intense police search continued, with interest centered on new clues in San Jose, 50 miles south of San Francisco. The prevailing theory continued to be that the Marcus infant was snatched from his hospital crib by a woman with a frustrated mother love motive.

The stricken mother, Hanna Marcus, 29, who gave birth to the baby, her third, on Saturday, was being kept under sedatives and fed intravenously at the hospital. Her condition "remains poor," doctors said.

The latest San Jose clues were reports of a woman's attempt to steal diapers from a clothesline there, and of one seen walking in the same neighborhood before dawn, holding a baby. She was believed to have slept in a parked car whose owners later found in it a label from a bottle of baby formula sweetening.

Riots Rage

Lonardi's decrees were issued from his government's temporary headquarters at Cordoba. He is to arrive in Buenos Aires tomorrow for his formal installation.

One of the provisional government's first acts after being established here is expected to be a purge of Peron men from government posts—or, at least, from the more important ones—before calling elections.

The new administration concentrated on calming the nation, urging in repeated broadcasts a rebuilding of the country through "peace and work, in the pious light of forgetfulness."

Hundreds of the Peron regime's political prisoners were being freed, schools were reopened, postal service was resumed, air travel abroad was restored, exiles and refugees were returning—and not a voice was raised for Peron while the radio again and again called him a man with "insane egotism."
