'Big Pull' to Match Frosh, Soph Men

Freshman customs violators will match their strength against the men of the sophomore class in "The Big Pull," first inter-class tug-of-war in 23 years. It will take place at 1 p.m. Oct. 15 preceding the Navy-Penn State football game.

Approximately 30 freshmen will tug against 30 sophomore volunteers on the golf course opposite the Navy water tower.

Ernest B. McCoy, director of athletics, and Frank J. Simes, dean of men, have approved the contest.

Sophomores to Volunteer
Sophomore men wishing to participate should turn in their name, telephone number and address through the Freshman Customs Board at the Hetzel Union desk. The first 30 volunteers will be contacted.

The referees will be announced later, as well as the names of the participants. An award will be given the winning team during half-time of the football game.

The purpose of the tug-of-war is to revive an old University tradition, and end the customs period with a united class spirit.

Board Meets
Freshman Customs Board last night and Saturday afternoon interviewed 30 violators. Fifteen of those who appeared will take part in the tug-of-war. They were summoned by the Board because the lettering on the namecards was less than 1½ inches high, and was written in a color other than black.

Five freshman violators were instructed to write 300-word compositions for violations such as not wearing customs, and walking on the grass.

Two were dismissed by the Board because they had been contacted by an anonymous summons call. No penalty was given to them.

Alum Days Theme to Be 'Centennial'

Theme of the fraternity lawn display contest for Homecoming Weekend on Oct. 14 and 15 will be "A Century of Progress."

The purpose of the theme, which was announced at last night's Interfraternity Council meeting, is "to illustrate to the alumni, townspeople, and visitors some of the events which have taken place at Penn State during the past 100 years."

Thousands of alumni and other visitors are expected to converge on the campus for the big weekend which will feature the Penn State-Navy game. Other events scheduled for the weekend are a pre-game tug of war between customs violators and the men of the sophomore class, selection of a Homecoming Queen, and numerous events for the alumni.

The fraternities' lawn displays will be judged on the basis of originality, craftsmanship, and adherence to the theme.

They must be completed by judging time at 7 p.m. Friday, Oct. 14, and must be kept intact until 6 p.m. Saturday. The winning displays will be announced at the football game.

According to the rules, the IFC reserves the right to remove any display which is "in any way derogatory, demoralizing, or in poor taste to University or fraternity interests."

All exhibits must be registered by Thursday, Oct. 13, at the Hetzel Union desk.

First place winner will receive possession of the Alumni Association Trophy and ten points toward the Outstanding Fraternity Award.

The display coming in second will earn seven points, third place four, and the next three honorable mention awards of two points each.

Used Book Agency Refunds Money, Books

Money and unsold books are now being refunded by the Used Book Agency in the basement of the Hetzel Union Building. The UBA will close at noon Saturday.

Money is being refunded from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the television-viewing room. Unsold books may be picked up beginning at 10 a.m. today in the Book Exchange.

All books and money not claimed within 30 days become the property of the UBA, according to agency officials.

Applications Available For WSGA Posts

Self-nomination blanks for Women's Student Government Association freshman senators will be available Monday through Friday in the dean of women's office, 105 Old Main.

Two freshman women will be elected. Persons nominating themselves must have no major judicial record.

Vogelsinger Elected Daily Collegian Business Manager

Roger Vogelsinger, senior in business administration from Dunmore, has been elected acting business manager of The Daily Collegian, replacing John Albrecht, senior in architectural engineering from Arlington, Va.

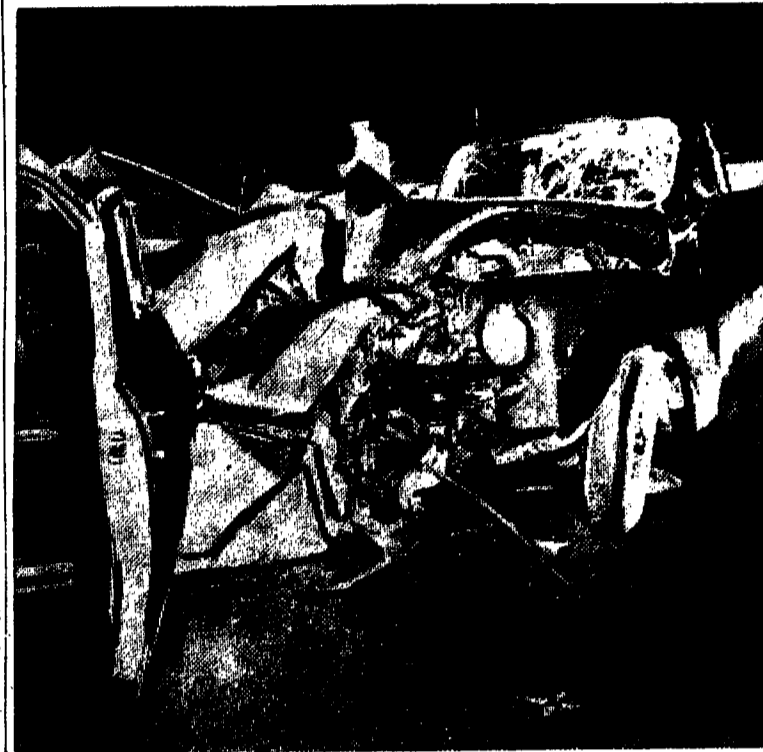

Albrecht has been placed on academic probation for the fall semester. While on academic probation a student may not participate in extra-curricular activities.

John Kmetz, Jr., junior in business administration from McKeesport was elected to replace Vogelsinger as co-assistant business manager.

Israel Schwab, junior in business administration from Baltimore, Md., was named co-circulation manager to replace Milton Linial, senior in business administration from York. Linial has also been placed on academic probation for the fall semester.

The changes take effect today.

Six Students Hurt In Two-Car Crash

BOTH CARS involved in Saturday morning's head-on collision near Milford, Pa., were completely demolished. Six University students were injured in the accident. The students were enroute to the Army football game when the accident occurred.

Yanks Knot Series On Ford's 4-Hitter

NEW YORK, Oct. 3 (AP)—Chunky Whitey Ford threw a brilliant four-hitter at Brooklyn today after the New York Yankees clobbered rookie Karl Spooner for five runs in the first inning to square the World Series with a 5-1 "must" victory in the sixth game at Yankee Stadium.

Two walks, two singles and a sliced three-run homer, about 350 feet into the lower right-field stands, left the Dodgers five runs behind before Manager Walter Alston got his 24-year-old left-hander out of action. After that it was up to Ford, whose left-handed pitches had won the series opener.

Dodger hopes received a cruel blow in the third inning when Duke Snider, the home run hero of the series with four in the first five games, had to leave the lineup because his left knee "popped" as he chased an outfield fly by Bill Skowron.

It wasn't known immediately whether Snider would be available for the final game.

Lefties to Start
All even at three victories each, the clubs come up to tomorrow's crucial game with a pair of left-handed pitchers—Tommy Byrne, the 35-year-old star of the second game for the Yanks, and Johnny Podres, the 23-year-old speedster who got Brooklyn on the win path in the third.

Spooner was in trouble with the first man he faced. He walked Phil Rizzuto on a 3-2 pitch. As Billy Martin struck out Rizzuto stole second. Then Gil McDougald walked. Yogi Berra singled into center field, scoring Rizzuto. Hank Bauer grounded a single to left, driving in McDougald.

Spooner Kept In
With two runs across the plate and two men on, Manager Walter Alston let Spooner stay in to pitch to Bill Skowron. The husky first baseman fouled off two pitches

Accident Sends All To Hospital

Six students were injured and the car they were riding in was completely demolished in a head-on collision seven miles west of Milford, Pa., early Saturday morning.

The students were enroute to the Army football game, traveling east on U.S. Route 6 at the time of the accident. The accident occurred about 2 a.m.

The victims and their injuries are:

Ann Forster, junior in home economics from Wilmington, Del., broken vertebrae.

Margaret Forster, Ann's twin sister, also a junior in home economics, a broken hip.

Judith Pendleton, senior in physical education from Byrn Athyn, multiple cuts of the face and contusions of the back.

Ellen Donovan, freshman in arts and letters, several cuts and back burns.

George Althouse, sophomore in the department of intermediate registration from Gladwyne, contusions of the face and laceration of the right cheek.

Harry Leopold, driver of the car, sophomore in the department of intermediate registration from Limerick, laceration of the chin and right arm, contusion of the back.

All six were admitted to the St. Francis hospital in Port Jervis, N.Y. Margaret Forster is the most seriously injured of the six. She is expected to be confined at least two months. Hospital authorities yesterday reported the condition of the students as good.

Milford Borough State Police said the accident occurred when a car driven by Harlan Hillier,

Leader to Address Finance Officers

Gov. George M. Leader will deliver the main address for the 20th annual meeting of Municipal and Local Finance Officers of Pennsylvania at the University on Friday and Saturday.

His address will be delivered at a dinner Friday night, at which Dr. M. Nelson McGeary, professor of political science, will preside.

Finances will be the principle theme of the annual meeting, which will be attended by 300 representatives of local government units in the State.

More Cold Cases Treated Yesterday

Approximately 170 patients were treated at the dispensary between 8 a.m. and noon yesterday.

The majority of the cases treated were for colds and sore throats.

Since the dispensary is closed from noon Saturday until Monday morning, Monday is an unusually heavy day, a nurse said.

The University Infirmary reports 18 patients, with five confined due to colds.

On Saturday, 113 patients reported to the dispensary for treatment.

Eisenhower Emerges from Period of Fatigue

DENVER, Oct. 3 (AP)—President Eisenhower—cheerful again after a worrisome period of fatigue—today sent a letter to Vice President Nixon and handled another small batch of official business.

The chief executive's physicians reported his condition "satisfactory" and without complications today, whereas he didn't feel "as well as usual" last night.

Today, however, in a 10-minute business conference with his top lieutenant, Sherman Adams, Eisenhower:

1. Signed a letter to Nixon saying he hoped the vice president would continue to hold and preside at meetings of the Cabinet and National Security Council as he has done in the past during presidential absences from Washington.

2. Signed a memorandum to Secretary of Treasury Humphrey which, in effect, makes Japan a member of the General Agreement on Tariff and Trade.

3. Put his name on another routine memorandum authorizing John B. Holland, director of the International Cooperation Administration, to send to six congressional committees a report which will say that no additional decisions have been made since June 30 on continuing foreign aid for various nations.

4. Approved an extension of time, from Oct. 1, to Oct. 21, for a presidential emergency board to report on a labor dispute between the Pennsylvania Railroad and 35,000 non-operating employees.

These actions were announced by Presidential Press Secretary

James C. Hagerty, who told reporters that "of course" Eisenhower is cheerful.

A period of concern had set in last night when his doctors found the chief executive tired and feeling under par. The physicians, trying to determine the cause, took an X-ray of his damaged heart today to see whether there had been any enlargement. They found none.

Still further evidence of presidential improvement was the half hour, Hagerty said, the chief executive spent this morning playing a picture quiz game with the help of a nurse.

In Boston, the Internationally-famed heart specialist, Dr. Paul Dudley White, said that "I feel relieved."

He had been suspicious earlier that Eisenhower's weariness last night meant something might be wrong.
