Half-Holiday Favored by AIM

The Association of Independent Board of Governors went on record Wednesday night as favoring a half-holiday for the Penn State-Penn game Oct. 29.

The Board also voted to have the projects committee investigate the mailing service in the Nittany and Pollock areas. Representatives of the areas complained that the mail service is late and irregular.

In other business, AIM approved a $4100 budget for the school year and appropriated $110 for the purchase of a typewriter with a wide carriage.

The allocations were set up to guide the chairman in distributing the funds not designated by students in the campaign.

This year the drive, which will be held Oct. 18 through 21, will be operated on a designation system. Contributors may indicate to which organizations their money will be given. They may also designate the amount they wish to give each organization.

Allocations Set Up
If students do not designate the amount and organization, their money will be allocated according to the percentages adopted by Cabinet.

The organizations and their percentages are World University Service, 10; Penn State Scholarship, 12; National Scholarship Fund for Negro Students, 10; Cerebral Palsy Association, 5; Damon Runyon Cancer Fund, 3; American Heart Association, 3; American Cancer Society, 3; Salvation Army, 5; the Centre County Heart Association, 2; Women's Student Government Association Christmas Fund, 2; State College Welfare Fund, 2; American Red Cross, 3.

Information about Campus Chest organizations and their functions will be published, Riggs said.

The report revising the organization places more emphasis on the formation of a policy-making

Senate Tables Academic Issue

All-University Senate tabled a motion yesterday to include a representative from the division of intermediate registration on the Committee on Academic Standards.

The motion was pigeonholed at Senate's first meeting of the year. It will again be reviewed during next month's meeting in accordance with the Senate constitution, which requires that any motion entailing revision of a by-law be tabled for one month.

Senate unanimously approved the report of the Committee on Committees which included the appointment of Dr. Philip A. Shelley, professor of German and comparative literature, as the chairman of the Committee on Courses of Study. Shelley replaces Clarence E. Bullinger, professor of industrial engineering, who recently retired.

Nixon to Visit Eisenhower at Denver

DENVER, Oct. 6 (AP)—The Denver White House announced today that Vice President Nixon will fly here Saturday for a hospital visit with President Eisenhower at the President's invitation.

Nixon will fly here with Sherman Adams, the President's chief deputy; Maj. John Eisenhower, the President's son; and Dr. Paul Dudley White, Boston heart specialist, for the weekend.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said he did not know what Nixon would discuss with the President but he added it would not be "a visit where controversial policies" would be taken up. Hagerty said that the President

4 Program Suggestions Approved by Cabinet

Suggestions on the academic honesty program, registration procedure, the commencement seating problem, and the broadening of the education of students in required curriculums were received and approved last night by All-University Cabinet.

Patricia Farrell, chairman of the Committee on Academic Policies, presented a report as drawn up by the committee at Student Encampment before the start of Orientation Week early in September.

Except for a section on the Commencement seating situation, various parts of the report were referred to Cabinet Committees and Senate subcommittees. Approval by Cabinet does not mean suggestions in the report will be put into action; they were accepted

6 Students Named to Committee

The Senate Committee on Student Affairs approved the appointments of six students to Senate subcommittees at its meeting Wednesday.

The committee also received petitions for the sanctions of a chapter of the Civil Air Patrol on campus and a new student fraternity, Pi Sigma Upsilon.

Pi Sigma Upsilon
The petition of Pi Sigma Upsilon was referred to the Senate subcommittee on organization and control.

A group of students residing at 139 N. Atherton street organized the house last April under the name of Pi Sigma Upsilon. The members are now seeking official recognition by the University as a campus fraternity.

Students approved to subcommittees were: William Johnson and Patricia Dickinson, subcommittee on organization and control; Harry Fuehrer and Mary Conrad, subcommittee on health and recreation; Daniel Van Duyn and Dorothy Thompson, subcommittee on student affairs.

Wareham Backs Air Patrol
Elmer C. Wareham, instructor in music, submitted a petition to the Committee that a chapter of the Civil Air Patrol, for men and women students, be established and officially recognized on campus.

The chapter, to be called University Park Squadron 1303, would be a sister to the State College squadron, which has been operating since 1948.

Cloudy With Showers

and read into the minutes. The first point in the report dealt with implementing the academic honesty program by bringing it to faculty members' and students' attention, especially freshmen. The section was referred to the Inter-College Council Board which may suggest ways in which academic studies in the colleges are carried out.

The section suggested that students express their support of the program and urge their student council presidents to bring to the college deans' attention cases where the rules are overlooked.

Also suggested was that students be reminded by letter of the value that is placed on the program at the University and that freshmen be acquainted with the plan through hat societies, publicity in publications, and Orientation Week welcoming speeches.

The question as to how registration procedure can be improved was referred by Cabinet to the Registration Committee.

It was suggested that a diagram of the registration stations in Recreation Hall be printed on the envelope containing registration material; that more attention be given to the deans' stations on the floor of Rec Hall, and that the administration investigate the possibility of allowing eighth semester seniors to register early.

Admitting that it is desirable to encourage high scholarship in students, the report suggested that honor students be allowed greater freedom in cutting classes, receive exemption from examinations, receive "Cum Laude" recognition on diplomas instead of just transcripts, and be allowed to audit additional courses beyond the normal requirements of their curriculums.

Also included in this section, which was referred to the Senate subcommittee on academic honesty, was the recommendation that the deans' office recognize high quality in instructors by instituting student evaluation of professors and courses.

Another section which was given to the study of ICCB concerned ways of making changes or additions to curriculums so that students can receive a general

Hospital Releases 4 Students

Four of the six students injured in last Saturday's automobile accident are home. Their condition is good, the St. Francis hospital in Port Jervis, N.Y., reported yesterday.

Margaret and Ann Forster, twin sisters, both juniors in home economics from Wilmington, Del., are still confined. Ann is expected to be released over the weekend, but Margaret will be confined for several weeks, hospital authorities said.

Condition Reported Good
The condition of the two girls was reported as good as can be expected. Ann suffered a broken vertebrae. Margaret suffered a fractured hip in the collision.

The students who were released from the hospital yesterday are: Judith Pendleton, senior in physical education from Bryn Athyn; Ellen Donovan, freshman in arts and letters; George Althouse, sophomore in the division of intermediate registration from Gladwyne; and Harry Leopold, sophomore in the division of intermediate registration from Limerick.

Four Slightly Injured
The four were slightly injured in the head-on collision which completely demolished two cars and hurled the six students to the pavement of the highway. The dean of women's office reported yesterday that Miss Pendleton, who is expected to return to school before the end of the week, had not returned as of yesterday afternoon.

Rally Canceled As Team Leaves

The pep rally scheduled for 8 p.m. last night was canceled because of the necessity for the football team to leave for Richmond, Va. earlier than had been planned.

Otto Kneidinger and Frank Reich, co-captains, and "Tor" Toretti, line coach, were to be the speakers.

The team and coaching staff were originally to leave this morning, but due to unfavorable weather conditions for flying, were forced to take a bus to Altoona last night, and take an earlier plane from there.

sent an invitation to Nixon to visit him through Adams at the time he wrote the vice president a few days ago to continue presiding over Cabinet and National Security Council meetings.

The conference, Hagerty made clear, would be limited to topics cleared in advance by the presidential physicians. Secretary of State Dulles may visit the President sometime next week for a talk before going to the foreign ministers' meeting at Geneva, but this has not been definitely determined.

Medical Report
The 11 a.m. medical bulletin said:

"The President's condition continues to be satisfactory without complications. He had a good night's rest and feels comfortable and cheerful. His morning examinations show his temperature, pulse and blood pressure to be normal. His cardiogram shows the expected slow evolution.

The doctors here will make another complete check-up on Eisenhower this weekend. Out of their consultations is expected to come a determination of the course of treatment from then on and decisions on the extent to which the President may step up the pace of conferences and official government business.

Visiting Hours Uncertain
Just when and how long Nixon will be able to see Eisenhower will be up to the doctors. It may be late Saturday or sometime Sunday.

Also uncertain, Hagerty said, is the date of Nixon's departure back to Washington—a statement that opened up a possibility that the vice president might visit his chief more than once.
