

Moore Shines Despite Penalties, Soggy Field

minutes as Virginia was forced to punt twice after running four- and six-play attacks that failed.

Moore's 19-yard jaunt, and a 15-yard personal foul penalty against Virginia were key maneuvers in the Lions' first score when Hoffman completed an aerial from his own 27 to right half Billy Kane.

Kane, almost caught on the twelve, raced over for the six-pointer at 6:03 ending a 68-yard drive negotiated in five plays. Guard Sam Valentine missed the extra point.

Virginia, caught on its own 12 as a result of Valentine's booming kickoff and a 15-yard clipping penalty, was forced four plays later to kick to Moore on his own 43.

For the final minutes of the first half, play became chaos marked by penalties, a pass interception, fumble, and a recovery with the final result—Penn State taking the lead, 13-7.

It all started on the Lions' 45. Eight plays later Penn State had moved to Virginia's 10 despite a 15-yard penalty for clipping.

With first down and goal to go, Hoffman attempted a pass to Kane, but Herb Hartwell, defensive halfback for Virginia, intercepted in his own end zone and attempted to run it out. He got to the one and fumbled. Fullback Buck Straub recovered for the Lions. Hoffman scored on the sneak at 11:40 to make it 12-7. Plum's placement was good setting up the 13-7 halftime score.

Penn State's third score came with less than two minutes left in the third quarter when Ray Alberigi, junior halfback, slipped off right tackle for four yards. Valentine made this one making it 20-7.

All was not easy, however, in gaining a third TD. A 15-yard penalty and a 12-yard loss slowed the Lions' attack which moved from the 11 to the 46 where they were forced to punt. Virginia, held to nine yards in three tries, punted. Penn State—again stalled by a 15-yard penalty—was then forced to punt.

Cavalier quarterback, Rives Bailey's pitchout three plays later was fumbled and soph guard Willard "Bull" Smith recovered on the 17. Alberigi was the work-horse from there. He ran for two; caught a Hoffman pass for 12; picked up four more, and finally scored.

Hurt by 15-yard penalties and a pass interception by Hartwell on its nine, Penn State's fourth score came at 11:58 of the final quarter. Sophomore Emil Capara, Alberigi, and senior Jim Hochberg paced the attack.

Hochberg struck the final blow with a 16-yard TD pass to senior halfback Bobby Allen; Plum made the point for the final 26-7 count.

Cornell Tops Harriers for 2nd Loss

By RON GATEHOUSE

The Lion cross-country squad broke in a brand new course Saturday, but it could have been in a better fashion.

Chick Werner's Centennial harriers dropped a 20-37 decision to visiting Cornell for their second loss of the season.

The Lion freshmen upheld the praises of frosh coach Norm Gordon by romping over the Big Red yearlings, 15-46, in their first competition under the Blue and White colors. The score constituted a perfect shutout.

Moorhead Paces Lions Again

Captain Doug Moorhead led the varsity in a losing cause for the second consecutive week, finishing second in a field of 21.

Cornell's Mike Medler and Dave Eckel tied for top honors—each covering the new five-mile course over the University fareways in 27:35.4.

The Big Red, shutout victors over Colgate last week, 15-49, took six of the first 10 places Saturday. The Bears came to University Park loaded with hold-over talent from last year's high-ranking squad—the first Big Red team to beat the Lions in 21 years and a host of sophomores who waltzed to the IC-4A title last fall.

"Cornell Tougher Than Middies" Werner, after commenting that his team is steadily improving, classified the Ithicans as a better outfit than the Navy squad which downed the Lions in their season opener a week ago.

Moorhead, who captured third position with a 27:56 clocking, was followed by Lion Don Woodrow in fifth place. Woodrow's time was 28:45.

Paul Roberts was eighth for the Nittanians, and Bruce Austin, Ron Lewis, Al Jones, and Norm Shoup bunched together to come in 10th-13th respectively.

First Varsity Performance
Two Lions running for the first time this year—Wendel Yingling and Bob Kopf—placed 15th and 17th.

Medler, Ecker, and Jack Rosenbaum, who placed fourth, gave Cornell the lead at the one-mile mark, deadlocked at 5:12. Moorhead, Woodrow, Roberts, Austin, Jones, and Shoup were all 5:23 for the Lions after the first fifth. Covering a distance of three miles, four Lion frosh tied for first place, clocked at 15:56.5.

Fred Kerr, Bob Thompson, Ed Moran, and Clem Schoenbeck made up the four-way tie, and Charlie King took sixth place for the Lions. In all, the Nittany frosh captured 11 places among the field of 23.

Reward Offered By Mining Group

PHILIPSBURG, Pa., Oct. 10 (AP)—The Central Pennsylvania Open Pit Mining Association today offered $5000 reward for information leading to the conviction of anyone responsible for the weekend dynamitings to two coal tips.

State police said they have no information on the two blasts which wrecked equipment of the River Smokeless Coal Company, near Irvona, Clearfield County, and the C. E. Powell Coal Company at Van Ormer, Cambria County.

Dynamite charges were set off about an hour apart at the two non-union mining operations early Sunday. The tipples are about 20 miles apart near the Cambria-Clearfield county border.

The coal association which draws its members from strip surface mine operators said there are at least 32 unsolved dynamitings of coal operating equipment in the last four years.

Damage at the two tipples blasted Sunday was estimated at $45,000. The owners said production has been halted by dynamite in eight Pennsylvania counties since 1951. Most of the explosions have gone unsolved.
