

Tribunal Hears 3 Cases On AA Ticket Exchanges

Tribunal last night heard three cases of senior men who attempted to exchange underclass football tickets for tickets in senior sections. Athletic Association office records show they were issued senior seats at registration.

Decisions in the cases will probably be announced today by Assistant Dean of Men Harold W. Perkins.

Probation Urged for 4 AIM Men

The Association of Independent Men's Judicial Board of Review last night recommended to the dean of men's office that four students be put on office probation.

The recommendation included the stipulation that the four, all freshmen, take individual Saturday night duty tours with the weekend duty counselor. All four reside in the West Halls area.

The students were found at the scene of a disturbance in Watts Hall on Oct. 8, by a dormitory counselor. Upon investigation of the disturbance, which included several other students, the four in question were found to have been drinking. All four readily admitted this.

All four also previously admitted having been informed of the University regulations concerning drinking. They said that the dormitory counselor told them that he would enforce these regulations.

The students admitted having been at a fraternity and having been drinking but denied that they made any undue disturbance upon arriving back at the dormitory.

Office probation means that the students will have to report to the dean of men's office at intervals to be set by that office.

All decisions of the board are in the form of recommendations to the dean of men's office and may be appealed to that office within five days.

WH Council Sets Dance, Nominates

West Halls Council last night nominated a slate of officers and made preliminary plans for a dance to be held Oct. 21 or 22 in Waring Hall lounge.

Council members nominated for posts are: vice president, Edward Paul and Preston Hollander; secretary, David Faust, and treasurer, Paul Reber. Elections will be held at the next meeting Oct. 25 at 7 p.m. in McKee Hall lounge. Paul Woolsey was appointed temporary vice president until officers are elected.

Social Chairman Frank Simokat was instructed to obtain a dance band for the Waring Hall dance. Council decided to hold the dance in place of a previously-scheduled skating party.

Arthur Carroll, Harold Dean and Paul were appointed temporary representatives-at-large to the board of governors of the Association of Independent Men until permanent representatives could be elected. Faust and Hollander were chosen as alternates.

Hollander, council housing chairman, was instructed to investigate the possibility of repainting residence halls table tennis tables to eliminate glare caused by shiny paint. Council also authorized a query as to whether West Halls snack bar could be opened for business earlier than 10 a.m. daily, as it is now being operated. The secretary was allotted $10 to purchase stationery.

Discussion and exchange of ideas for lawn and window display for Homecoming weekend were conducted. Each floor of the West Halls will contribute some part to the entire display.

Each year the name of the winning team will be engraved on it, and it will be placed on display. The trophy was designed by the Freshman Customs Board. Freshmen are required to wear dinks to the game, and are urged to attend the tug-of-war preceding the game.

The freshman-sophomore match was approved by Ernest B. McCoy, director of athletics, and Frank J. Simes, dean of men.

20 Frosh Will Pull Against Soph Team

Approximately 20 freshman customs violators will tug against a team of sophomore male volunteers in "The Big Pull," at 12:45 Saturday afternoon.

"Several sophomores have expressed interest in the contest, but as yet have not officially volunteered," Herbert Black, co-chairman of the Joint Customs Board said. "Sophomores men wishing to participate should call me at AD 7-4928."

Black is investigating the possibility of making up the sophomore team through the Interfraternity Council, in order to include sophomore fraternity pledges.

Contest to Be on Road The contest will take place on the road between Beaver Field and Hort Woods and precede the Navy-Penn State football game.

All students and guests may attend. The purpose of the tug-of-war is to revive an old University tradition, and to end the customs period with a united class spirit.

Areas Blocked Off The contest area will be blocked off in order to have ample space for spectators. Members of Androcles, junior men's hat society, will police the area.

The referees will be announced later, as well as the names of the participants.

A gold rope mounted on a mahogany trophy will be awarded to the winning team during the half-time of the football game. If the tug-of-war tradition survives, Black said, the trophy will serve as a perpetual award.

Name Engraved Each year the name of the winning team will be engraved on it, and it will be placed on display. The trophy was designed by the Freshman Customs Board.

Freshmen are required to wear dinks to the game, and are urged to attend the tug-of-war preceding the game.

The freshman-sophomore match was approved by Ernest B. McCoy, director of athletics, and Frank J. Simes, dean of men.

Kappa Phi Kappa to Meet

Kappa Phi Kappa, national education honorary society, will meet at 7 tonight in 6 Burrows.

The three students went to the AA office after it was announced at an All-University Cabinet meeting Sept. 22 that the AA office would exchange tickets for seniors who had been issued underclass seats at registration.

Exchanges Made "Quite a few students came into the AA office and exchanges were made. Then we became suspicious that something out of line was going on," Ernest B. McCoy, dean of the College of Physical Education and Athletics, said in a letter to the office of the dean of men.

After AA officials checked their files, they discovered that the students in question had already been issued senior tickets.

"They were attempting to exchange underclass tickets for senior sections with the statement that they had been issued these tickets in the underclass section instead of the senior section," McCoy said.

Senior Requests Exchange

One student, a senior in mechanical engineering, said he registered during the last hours on Friday, Sept. 16, and was assigned to section EK (junior-senior section).

He said certain students at his fraternity were trying to exchange tickets in order to sit with girl friends. He exchanged his ticket for a junior section with a member of the house, he said.

After being informed that seniors could exchange tickets, he went to the AA office. No exchange was made after officials checked the files and found he was issued a senior ticket in the junior-senior section.

He told Tribunal last night he thought the entire section was for juniors.

A second student, also a senior in mechanical engineering and a member of the same fraternity, attempted to present a sophomore ticket of a friend who is a member of the Blue Band. He wished to obtain another senior ticket for his girl friend, he said.

The third student, a senior in arts and letters, claimed that he

Vet Enrollment Grows

The value of the G.I. Bill to American colleges and universities is well exemplified at the University.

Figures released by the office of veterans' affairs show that over 63,000 veterans have taken advantage of the bill since its inception in 1944.

The number of veterans on campus this semester has not been compiled as yet. However, it is expected to equal last semester's figure which was close to 2000.

Veteran enrollment at the university has grown steadily since the spring semester of 1944 when only two vets enrolled under the G.I. Bill.

This number swelled to almost 6000 in the fall of 1948, the peak period of veteran enrollment at the university.

After 1948, enrollment gradually decreased to a low of 866 in 1953. The drop was expected since most of the World War II veterans had taken advantage of the educational opportunities of the G.I. Bills passed after the war.

The Korean War was a shot in the arm for most colleges and universities as far as veteran enrollment was concerned. Public Law 560, passed after the Korean conflict, granted many of the same educational opportunities given to World War II veterans to veterans of the Korean campaign.

The University felt the effect of the Korean bill in 1953 when Korean veterans made up for the enrollment decrease.

Since 1953, veteran enrollment started a gradual increase. Last spring's figure showed 1918 vets on campus under the Korean bill.

Statistics showing the actual contribution the G.I. Bill has made to the growth of the University in the past decade are not available.

However, one fact is significant in viewing the list of figures showing veteran enrollment here since 1944: the number of veterans in undergraduate schools at the university has closely paralleled the over-all increase in the school's enrollment.

This indicates that while the G.I. Bill is not the principal factor relating to the growth of the school, it must be listed as a valuable contributing factor.

32 Named To Junior Committee

Robert Bahrenburg, president of the junior class, announced the names of the 32 members of the Junior Class Advisory Committee last night.

The group selected students with a variety of interests to represent the class. Also several transfer students were selected as the group felt they would have original ideas.

Students were selected pending investigation of academic averages. A 2.0 average under the new grading system is required to be a member of the committee.

New Toll Road Under Scrutiny

HARRISBURG, Oct. 11 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission today pressed traffic surveys along possible routes of a proposed northwestern turnpike extension to determine the feasibility of building a new toll highway.

"We have no plans at all projected now for construction of any highway there," said David E. Watson, commission member. "And until we get a new traffic count we won't make any plans for construction," Watson added.

Watson said that "if we construct a northwestern extension it is logical to assume we would build it from Pittsburgh north."
