

Cabinet Accepts Parking Fee Recommendation

All-University Cabinet accepted a recommendation Thursday night that consideration be given to the feasibility of levying fees for campus parking areas on students and possibly faculty members and employees.

The recommendation was one of three in a report submitted by Mary Buchanan, chairman of the Student Encampment Committee on Regulations and Controls. This report, and one read by Douglas Moorhead, president of the Physical Education Student Council, on the results of Fun Night, were accepted by Cabinet.

Ohio Pastor Is Chapel Speaker For Tomorrow

Dr. Raymond V. Kearns Jr., pastor of the Broad Street Presbyterian Church, Columbus, Ohio, will speak at Chapel services at 10:55 a.m. tomorrow in Schwab Auditorium.

His topic will be "We Are What We Believe."

Dr. Kearns is a graduate of the College of Emporia, Kan., and McCormick Theological Seminary, Chicago.

His first charge was the First Presbyterian Church, Manhattan, Kan. From there he went into national missions work at Moses Lake, Wash. He served as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Omak, Wash., from 1939 to 1947.

Dr. Kearns became director of the Westminster Foundation at the University of Nebraska in Lincoln in 1942. Six years later he was named associate director of the department of adult work, Board of Christian Education, of the national organization of the Presbyterian church.

He became director of the department in 1950, and in 1953 he received his present charge.

Dr. Kearns has participated in many college and university youth conferences and religious emphasis weeks, and was a member of the national committee on student work of the YMCA.

Gown Orders To Be Taken

Seniors graduating in January who will be student teaching during the second eight weeks of the semester should order their caps and gowns beginning Monday at the Athletic Store.

A $5 deposit must be made. Seniors must give their hat size when ordering.

Invitations and announcements are 10 cents each, and should be ordered at the same time at the Hetzel Union desk. Other seniors and graduate students who will receive their degrees in January will order their announcements from Nov. 28 to Dec. 3.

The deposit for graduate cap, gown and hood is $10.

WD Window Judging Set For Today

Judging for the West Dorm Window Display Contest will take place at 9 a.m. today.

Prizes of $25, $15, and $10 will be given for first, second, and third places.

Judges for the contest are William B. Crafts, assistant to the dean of men in charge of Independent men; Lawrence Perez, professor of civil engineering; and James Ellis, senior in art education from Washington, D.C.

Originality Counts
Entries will be judged on originality and artistic content. The theme for the display is "Penn State Through the Next Hundred Years."

Deadline for entries in the contest is 8 a.m. today. There is no entrance fee. All decorations must follow the theme to be eligible for judging.

Two floors of McKee Hall will display a large sign welcoming alumni back for the Centennial Homecoming. Several displays to welcome alumni will be set up in State College by the Town Independent Men.

Chosen for View
West Dorm area was chosen by the University Student Council Centennial Committee as the place for the contest because committee members felt it could be seen by the greatest number of alumni.

Thompson, Hamilton, McKee, Jordan, Watts and Irwin Halls are included in the contest.

Students should leave the displays up until after the Navy game, Robert Heck, chairman of the Centennial Committee, has announced.

Classes Begin Monday In Ballroom Dancing

Classes in beginners' social dancing will begin Monday in the Hetzel Union ballroom. Students who signed up should appear on the night they selected unless notified otherwise.

Classes will be held on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday nights from 6:30 to 7:30.

The dance classes are sponsored by the Varsity "S" Club.

Convocation

32 Alums Included In Centennial Event

Thirty-two alumni of the University will be among the 180 participants in the round table discussions scheduled as a part of the Centennial Convocation next weekend.

The convocation is the third and last of the major centennial events.

President Milton S. Eisenhower will open the convocation with an address in the opening plenary session. He will speak on the "History of the Land-Grant College and the Problems Facing the Land-Grant Institution in Our Unsettled, Interdependent World."

John Cowles, president of the Minneapolis Star and Tribune Co., will speak on "The Future Responsibilities of the Land-Grant Institution at the second plenary session."

Speakers in the third and final plenary session will summarize the round table discussions. They are Dr. Francis H. Squire, dean of the University of Delaware, for instruction; Dr. Clifford C. Furnas, chancellor of the University of Buffalo, for research; and Dr. Carroll V. Newsom, executive vice chancellor of New York University, for extension.

Other participants in the round table discussion will be students, trustees, faculty, staff members and community leaders. Some of the faculty, staff, trustees, and community leaders are also graduates of the University.

The nine round tables will convene from 2:10 to 4 p.m. Friday and reconvene from 9 to 10:30 a.m. Saturday. Two of the three sessions on instruction will be open to visitors. One of each of the three sessions on research and extension will be open. Students and townspeople may attend.

The graduates who will participate in the round tables are:

Instruction: Wilson C. Bailey, Wilmington, Del.; E. K. Bonner, Jr., Philadelphia; Eugene T. Gramley, Milton; John R. Hunter, Altoona; Walter A. Kearney, New Castle; Mary Frear Keeler, Frederick, Md.; Harley L. Swift, Harrisburg; and Ray S. Tannehill, Bryn Mawr.

Research: George J. Bair, Corning, N.Y.; William C. Decker, New York, N.Y.

New Programs On Station WDFM

Beginning Monday, all but one of the programs on student radio station WDFM will be done by students or faculty, according to Sandra Greenspun, program director.

Previously there were many transcription programs, but these have been eliminated except for one, a news broadcast, Miss Greenspun said.

She explained that musical programs are not included in the transcription program class.

Tuesday night's programs will be heard on Wednesdays, and Wednesday's shows will be heard on Tuesdays from now on, she said.
