

New Moroccan Regency Asks Population Support

RABAT, French Morocco, Oct. 17 (AP)—Morocco's newly formed regency council, appointed to take over duties of the Sultan after his banishment, held its first meeting today and asked for broad support from the local population.

The first duty of the four-man throne council, whose members were agreed on only Saturday, will be to appoint a

Democrats To Return — Folsom

POINT CLEAR, Ala., Oct. 17 (AP)—Distrust and discontent over Republican farm policies will put a Democrat back in the White House next year, a Southern governor predicted today, even if President Dwight D. Eisenhower seeks re-election.

"You can count Eisenhower in and he still hasn't got a chance," said Alabama's colorful Gov. James E. Folsom, an outspoken advocate of former President Harry S. Truman for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Folsom made the comment to reporters as he completed preparations for the 21st annual Southern Governors Conference which opens here tomorrow.

Folsom said, "there's no question about" the South returning full-strength to the Democratic ticket next year. That observation found support from Gov. Lawrence Wetherby of Kentucky, who has picked Adlai Stevenson to win the 1956 election if Eisenhower doesn't run.

Both governors agreed there is little chance of another split like the division three years ago when Texas, Tennessee, Virginia and Florida went for Eisenhower in preference to the Stevenson-Sparkman Democratic ticket.

Still another visiting chief executive, Gov. William C. Marland of West Virginia, predicted his state "will be even more Democratic in 1956 than it was in 1952." But he said it was "premature" from his standpoint to speculate on the outcome of the Democratic nominating convention.

Sigma Alpha Eta Mixer

A mixer for men and women students interested in speech correction and hearing will be held at 7 tonight in McElwain main lounge by Sigma Alpha Eta, speech and hearing society.

Hillel Committee to Meet

The Library committee of Hillel Foundation will meet at 4 p.m. today at the Foundation.

Freshman men and women will meet at 7 tonight, also at the Foundation.

Court Grants New Hearing To Chessman

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—Caryl Chessman, death cell author, won another reprieve today from California's gas chamber.

The Supreme Court, splitting 5-3 ordered a new hearing for Chessman, who has written two books during the more than seven years he has spent under a death sentence.

The court ordered a habeas corpus hearing in the U.S. District Court in San Francisco on the condemned man's claim his appeal before the California Supreme Court involved a "fraudulently prepared transcript."

The official court reporter had died before finishing transcription of his stenographic notes of the trial. Chessman alleged the prosecuting attorney and a substitute reporter selected by him prepared a fraudulent transcript.

Chessman was jubilant today when, over the radio in San Quentin prison's "death row," he learned that the Supreme Court has ordered a rehearing on his habeas corpus petition.

Margaret Faces Home Battle

LONDON, Oct. 17 (AP)—Princess Margaret came home to face the music tonight as leaders of the government, church and royal family converged in the capital for the crisis week in her romance with Peter Townsend.

Prime Minister Anthony Eden got back from his country cottage and went straight into talks with his ministers at 10 Downing St. Queen Elizabeth is expected to confer with Eden tomorrow after arriving from Scotland. And the Duke of Edinburgh, who is reportedly opposed to any Margaret-Townsend match, is flying home tonight from Germany.

Wednesday night the princess and the rest of the royal family are set to meet the Church of England in force over the dinner table at Lambeth Palace, Canterbury's red brick London home.

Deposed Peron Departs Quietly

ASUNCION, Paraguay, Oct. 17 (AP)—Deposed Argentine Dictator Juan D. Peron was driven under guard to interment today—the anniversary of riotous demonstrations which vaulted him to power 10 years ago.

The Argentine government has demanded his interment far from the border.

Peron's departure passed unnoticed in Asuncion, and threatened demonstrations in Buenos Aires did not materialize.

Peace Possibility Expressed by Nixon

NEW YORK, Oct. 17 (AP)—Vice President Richard Nixon expressed tonight the hope and faith that the "chances for peace today are better than at any time since World War II." But he told the Communist world that "the time for words alone has passed" in efforts to achieve it—"the time for deeds has come."

He urged Soviet Russia to accept as "a formula for peace" President Dwight D. Eisenhower's proposal to exchange military blueprints and aerial inspection of military installations. He said "no greater step toward peace could be taken at this time."

Nixon voiced his views in companion speeches prepared for the International Air Transport Association and the New York Herald Tribune Forum.

Hails Eisenhower's Offer
Nixon hailed Eisenhower's sickbed offer to the Russians last week to accept their counter proposal for ground team inspection if they would accept his plan for aerial surveys.

Nixon called Eisenhower's offer "a dramatic development." "This should remove the last vestige of justifiable opposition to the President's proposal, he said, adding: "The President's offer proves again his adherence to the Geneva spirit."

Step Toward Peace
"No greater step toward peace could be taken at this time than for the President's proposal to be accepted so that both systems of inspection could be put into effect for the purpose of eliminating the fear of surprise attack and, thereby paving the way for disarmament," Nixon said.

"Surely," he added, "no nation concerned only with its own security in a world at peace can object to a full display of its own defensive forces. No nation whose military program is free from plots for conquest can object to an impartial and international aerial inspection of its interior." why I share a hope and faith with millions of people in the United States and the world that the chances for peace today are better than at any time since World War II."

Ike Agrees With Wilson On Military

DENVER, Oct. 17 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson said today that President Dwight D. Eisenhower is in agreement on plans for keeping defense spending and manpower levels about the same or a little higher in the next fiscal year.

Wilson told a news conference at Denver White House that present planning on the budget for the year starting next July 1 is on the basis of retaining military manpower at the present level of about 2,850,000. He added that his present thinking is that military expenditures for next year might go "a little higher" than the 34½ billion dollars expected for the current year.

Asked whether the commander in chief is "agreeable to what you have in mind," Wilson replied: "Within a small percentage, both on manpower and money."

Wilson said there would have to be a "radical change" in the world picture before the administration could consider cutting the armed forces below current levels.

Wilson also announced that Eisenhower has approved the appointment of Lt. Gen. Randolph Pate to succeed Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd as commandant of the Marine Corps Jan. 1. Pate has been deputy commandant for several years. Shepherd's tour of duty ends the first of the year and he will retire then.

The secretary said, too, that he has decided on a successor to Donald Quarles as assistant secretary of defense for research and development. Quarles now is secretary of the Air Force.

Home Ec Council to Meet

Home Economics Student Council will discuss the possibility of a College sponsored weekly newsletter at 7 tonight in the Home Ec living center.

Iota Sigma Pi to Meet

Iota Sigma Pi, women's chemistry fraternity, will meet at 7:30 tonight in 214 Whitmore Lab.

Camera Club Meeting

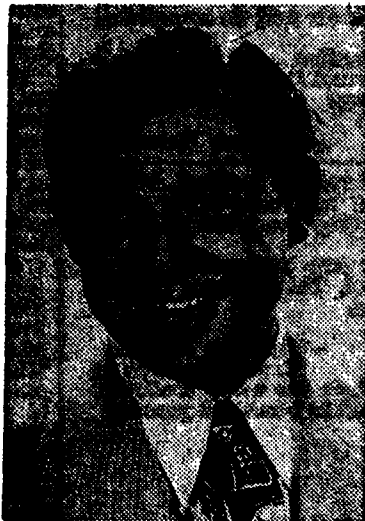

The Penn State Camera Club will meet at 7 tonight in the Hertz Union Assembly Room.

Go on . . . Dance with her, Henry, because she likes it and she'll like you . . . so take her to . . .

Junior Prom

November 4

Rec Hall

Semi-Formal

$5.00 per couple

Dancing 9 to 1

and the piano and orchestra of Claude Thornhill

Are YOU Ready?

Am I ready, ready for what? Why ready to put on those winter clothes as soon as the chilly days come. Whether it is cleaning or pressing your clothes need, send them, through the Student Dry Cleaning Agency in your dorm, or take them to BALFURD'S your clothes best friend.

Balfurd

307 W. Beaver

AD 7-7664