

Six Thompson Windows Capture Display Contest

First place winner in the West Dorm Window Display Contest is a group of six windows on A and B levels of Thompson Hall.

Alice Bebee, president of the A and B level dormitory unit, accepted the $25 prize at the University Student Centennial Committee meeting last night for the five artists who

Career Day Program Discussed

Plans for the annual Career Day program to be held Nov. 1, were discussed last night by the Business Administration Council.

The purpose of Career Day is to explore the opportunities for service in the major fields of commerce, industry, labor, trade, and government and to learn the essentials of successful business and public service from the leaders of American industry. This year's principle speaker is Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell.

The program also includes a series of panel discussions concerning management, marketing, accounting, insurance and finance, economics, labor relations, and trade and transportation. These discussions will be headed by an outstanding person in each field.

The committee in charge of Career Day is headed by Ralph H. Wherry, head of the department of commerce, faculty advisor, and Joseph Hayes and Robert Krakoff, co-chairmen.

Other members of the committee are the presidents and faculty advisors of the different organizations that sponsor the program.

Presidents, Faculty Advisors
The presidents and faculty advisors are: Harold Klose, G. Kenneth Nelson, Accounting Club; Paul Mitchell, Francis Babione, Marketing Club; Walter Stewart, Albert F. Williams, Insurance Club; Paul DeJeu, William E. Hurley, Management Club; Houston Elam, Robert D. Pashek, Delta Nu Alpha, transportation honor society; Bruce Geisinger, G. Kenneth Nelson, Alpha Kappa Psi, business administration honor society; Joseph Hayes, Eugene Myers, Delta Sigma Pi, business administration honor society.

Members of Phi Chi Theta, who will serve as usherettes are represented by Betty Barnhart; Nancy Blaha and Ralph H. Wherry, advisor. The Business Administration Student Council is represented by Joseph Ginsberg, president, Richard Doyle, Harry Brown and Ralph H. Wherry, advisor.

Members of Phi Chi Theta, who will serve as usherettes are represented by Betty Barnhart; Nancy Blaha and Ralph H. Wherry, advisor. The Business Administration Student Council is represented by Joseph Ginsberg, president, Richard Doyle, Harry Brown and Ralph H. Wherry, advisor.

Advisory Board Sets Deadline

The deadline for applications for the senior advisory board has been extended to noon Friday, Robert McMillan, senior class president, has announced.

Seniors wishing to apply for the board should fill out an application blank, stating name, address, phone number, and a list of activities. The applications will be accepted at the Hetzel Union desk until noon Friday.

The nucleus of the organization, founded this year, will be made up of representatives from different campus organizations. The board will discuss senior activities and give a representative view of the various problems and motions that are brought before All-University Cabinet, McMillan stated.

Israeli Official to Speak To Graduates at HUB

Dr. Aron S. Moyal, Director General of the Ministry of the Interior of Israel, will speak at a graduate seminar in International Relations from 2 to 4:30 p.m. today in 217-218 Hetzel Union.

The seminar conducted by Dr. Elton Atwater, associate professor of political science, is open to the public.

Drama Selections Made for Mikado Cast

The cast for the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "The Mikado," to be given by the Penn State Players Nov. 3, 4 and 5 in Schwab Auditorium, has been selected. The title role will be enacted by Jerome Kapitanoff, and that of "Nahki Poo" by John Cox.

Other leading roles will be as follows: "Do Do," Wayne Zarr; "Pooh Bah," Ray Vanderbilt; "Pish Tush," Kenneth Cooper; "Yum Yum," Claire Ganim; "Pitti Sing," Jayne Mort; "Peep Bo," Elizabeth Harned, and "Katsi," Barbara Kabakjian.

The chorus includes: Joan Schingeck, Catharine Stewart, Beth Casey, Nancy Elms, Louise Maier, Joan Chase, Doris Citrin, Anita Oprendeck, Nancy Sprague, Beryl Cranch, Diane Davis, Rosemary Staropoli, Carolyn Wetterau, Frances Hoffman, Marian Polyzou, Sandra Mayes, Elizabeth Elser, Jane Heath, Kathryn Weidman, Martha McDonald, Dorothy Gardner, Anne Francis.

John Patane, Howard Link, Dan Bowers, Albert Blackhurst, John Farrell, Robert Lash, Robert Shutt, David Walker, Bruce Bankes, Chester Zimolzak, Robert Zong, Stephen Wells, Irving Buck, Robert Serota, William Hollenbaugh and Thomas Forkin.

The production will be directed by Dr. Walter H. Walters, assistant professor of dramatics and acting head of the section of dramatics. Raymond H. Brown, assistant professor of music, will be musical director. Tickets will be available at the Hetzel Union desk the week of the performance.

Neuberger to Speak

Dr. Hans Neuberger, professor of meteorology, will address a meeting of the American Meteorological Society at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in 121 Mineral Industries. Dr. Neuberger will show slides of his trip to Turkey.

The meeting is open to the public.

Miss Anchel and Miss Bahm to second place in the contest.

The first floor of Thompson Hall, winner of third prize, displayed three phases of coeds; the flapper, 1920; the girl of today, 1955; and the space girl, 2055. Its theme was "Coeds Through the Years."

Miss Gordon and Miss DuBois won honorable mention with a display of two Nittany Lions.

Convocation . . .

Squire Will Speak At Closing Session

Dr. Francis H. Squire, dean of the University of Delaware, will speak at the closing plenary session of the Centennial Convocation at 10:45 a.m. Saturday in 121 Sparks.

Dr. Squire will summarize the round-table discussions on resident instruction.

President Milton S. Eisenhower will give the opening plenary session address. Other speakers will be Dr. Clifford C. Furnas, chancellor of the University of Buffalo; Dr. Carroll V. Newsom, executive vice chancellor of New York University; and John Cowles, president of the Minneapolis Star and Tribune Co.

Dr. Squire is replacing Dr. Colgate W. Darden, president of the University of Virginia, who was forced to cancel his visit because of United Nations meeting in New York. Dr. Darden is a member of the United Nations mission to the UN.

Ossian R. MacKenzie, dean of the College of Business Administration, is chairman of the convocation general planning committee.

The convocation is the third and last of the major Centennial events.

Dr. Squire received his B.A. in English and his Ph.D. in history at Yale University.

He started his work in the field of higher education as an instructor in history at the University of Delaware in 1927. In 1930 he returned to Yale University for two years of graduate work and two years of teaching history.

Returning in 1932 to the University of Delaware as an associate professor of history, Dr. Squire became chairman of the department of history in 1941.

After two years of service as an officer with the Naval Aviation Training Command, Dr. Squire returned to the University of Delaware in 1945 where he has remained for the past 10 years as

(Continued on page eight)

Contributions To Foundation Hit $200,000

Contributions to the Penn State Foundation during the past year have exceeded $200,000, a new high in contributions for any similar period of time in the past, according to Bernard P. Taylor, executive director of the Foundation.

A new record for the number of contributors during the period was also set, Taylor said. Contributions were received from 9250 alumni.

The exact total of contributions thus far received by the Centennial Alumni Fund is $204,954.41. The average contribution was $21.53, Taylor said.

These contributions represent 22 per cent of the alumni body, Taylor said. Contributions in 1953 totaled approximately $187,000. Contributions during 1954 totaled $135,000.

The Penn State Foundation was established three years ago for the purpose of encouraging regular financial support to the University from alumni and the general public for those needs for which no public funds are available.

Some of the major designations for which Foundation funds are used are contributions to the Helen Eakin Eisenhower Chapel,

(Continued on page eight)

Be ready for that first dance with a formal from . . .

Schlow's

Choose a sparkling gown to put you in the limelight at your first big formal dance of the season. In glittering fabrics from net to nylon, in full or ballerina length, we have the perfect gown for YOU!!

Meet your friends at

Schlow's

110 E. College Ave.

ILENA WOLFGANG

When it's portraits for her personal use, Miss Wolfgang visits

Bill Coleman

BILL COLEMAN'S LION STUDIO

136 E. College Ave.

AD 7-4454