

Convocation . . .

Faculty to Participate In Round-Table Talks

More than 100 faculty and staff members will participate in the round-table discussions included on the program for the Centennial Convocation to be held Friday and Saturday.

Nine round tables will discuss "The Future of American Higher Education, with Special Reference to the Changing Responsibilities and Potentialities of the Land-Grant Concept of Education."

Nittany Council Nominates Men For Officers

Nittany Council has nominated men for the positions of secretary, treasurer and two representatives-at-large.

More nominations will be heard preceding the elections to be held at a special meeting at 6:20 p.m. Monday in Nittany dorm 20.

The council defeated a motion to encourage student participation in campus politics. The motion followed a discussion of reported illegal campaigning by political candidates at various unit meetings in the Nittany area.

Council heard three guest speakers. The first was William B. Crafts, assistant dean of men in charge of independent men. He spoke on quiet hours in the dormitory units.

The council also heard Allen Davies, Campus party clique chairman, and Ralph Volpe, a representative of Lion party.

Other matters discussed included the post office service, dining halls, and a bluebook file for use by the residents of the area.

LA Council Elects Three Sophomores To Fill Vacancies

The Liberal Arts Student Council Monday night elected Grace Antes, third semester arts and letters major from State College; Linda Ely, third semester journalism major from Pittsburgh; and Albert Buffington, third semester journalism major from State College; to the three vacant sophomore positions on the council.

Helena Morais, head of the council's election committee, said freshman elections will be held from 9 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. at Waring Hall and from 1:30 to 5 p.m. at the Hetzel Union Building on Oct. 26 and 27.

Self-nominations will continue until Saturday in 132 Sparks.

Council will submit the names of 15 outstanding liberal arts seniors to the activities editor of LaVie.

'The Rainmaker' to Run For Second Weekend

Players' production of "The Rainmaker," romantic-comedy by N. Richard Nash, will be presented for the second weekend run at 8 Friday and Saturday nights in the Extension Conference Center.

Patricia Doll and Emil Haas have leading roles in this light story of the problems confronting a Western-American family during a drought period.

Tickets are available at the Hetzel Union desk for $1.

SWAN LAKE BALLAD and DAPHNIS AND CHLOE

Both now at the MUSIC ROOM in their attractively bound albums. Each had a picture story to guide you through the music. Great for that coming birthday or Christmas.

Religion

Kennedy Is Named Head Of Group

Paul Kennedy, senior in business administration from Philadelphia, has been elected chairman of the Committee of 13, President Milton S. Eisenhower has announced.

The group serves as a consulting committee to the University chaplain on inter-religious affairs of the University. It is composed of equal representation from each of the Jewish, Protestant, and Roman Catholic faiths.

The Committee has also been serving as a sub-committee for the University Centennial Committee and is responsible for religious programs in the Centennial celebration.

It also sponsors the Centennial Lectures in religion, the annual Brotherhood Banquet, and Inter-Religious firesides which are held in the dormitories.

The members of the Committee which will serve during the current academic year are Rabbi Benjamin M. Kahn, of the Hillel Foundation; Father John C. O'Leary, of Our Lady of Victory Church; the Rev. Luther H. Harshbarger, University chaplain and coordinator of religious affairs; Dr. John A. Mourant, professor of philosophy; Dr. William G. Mather, head of the department of sociology; Lester Dobyns, executive director of the University Christian Association; and Clifford Nelson, associate professor of economics in extension.

Students on the Committee are Harold Friedman, senior in industrial engineering from Wilkes-Barre; Natalie Moskowitz, junior in education from Scranton; Matthew Miller, senior in business administration from Pittsburgh; Joyce Faust, senior in home economics from Harrisburg; Douglas Finnemore, senior in engineering science from Cuba, N.Y.; and Kennedy.

Coune Will Direct CPA Design Staff

Alphonse Coune has been promoted to Central Promotion Agency design staff director, according to Sanford Lichtenstein, director of CPA.

Lichtenstein also announced 24 promotions. Annette Holtz has been promoted to Junior Board. Sophomore Board promotions include Barbara Bohl, Audrey Berrell, Mary Ann Reid, David Jones, Suzann Yaschay, Sandra Gusky, Ronald Casarella, Roy Vollmer, Harriet Boyd, Suzanne Spencer and Richard Coates.

Also promoted were Ann Hadensty, Norma Molinari, Julia Lee, Gretta Sorkin, Emily Anderson, Marlin Troutman, Carol Yard, Joane Molenock, Joyce McClosky, Patsy Paxton, Mary Young and Jean Boucher.

German Congress Confers With Choir

By SHIRLEY CALKINS

The two hour conference with members of the Bundestadt in Bonn, Germany was a highlight of the Chapel Choir's tour of Europe last summer.

Dr. Von Merketz, minister of the Federal Republic under the Christian Democratic Union government of Western Germany and head of the small German party; and Dr. Von Lievermann, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee of the CDU and right hand man of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, spoke to the group and answered questions on the West German government.

Dr. Von Merketz and Dr. Von Lievermann gave a general outline of the government including its aims and propositions.

Robert Steele, sophomore in arts and letters from State College, was impressed with the straightforward answers given by the two men.

Steele felt that the audiences were extremely appreciative. They often came up with tears in their eyes to express how much they had enjoyed the concert. The association with the English people showed the fallacy of the "reserve" idea so often attached to the English people, Steele said.

Tour Called Exceptional

Mrs. Willa W. Taylor, director of the Choir, described the six-week tour of six countries as a most unusual experience. Included in the group who toured England, France, Italy, Germany, Switzerland, and Holland were 59 members of last year's Choir, 40 of whom are on campus this fall; 13 alumni, and the chaperones, Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Georgia K. Selsam, assistant in music.

Singing was the central hub of the tour and around that everything revolved. Singing engagements enabled the group to see parts of the countries that are ordinarily omitted in regular tours. The group presented ten concerts, seven in Great Britain and four on the continent in addition to singing at a church service in Paris.

The trip was so successful that the Choir is considering the possibility of organizing another such tour for the summer of 1957, Mrs. Taylor said.

Mrs. Taylor amusingly told of the various "schools of culture" that arose within the group whereby the more knowing undertook to inform and educate other members. She was gratified to hear the various comments from the group concerning return (Continued on page eight)

334 Freshmen Vote at WRA, Senate Polls

A total of 334 women, or 59 per cent of the freshman women, voted in the primary elections for freshman representatives to Women's Student Government Association Senate and Women's Recreation Association yesterday.

The four women in the finals for WSGA Senate are Priscilla Doll, education major from York; Jane Drawbaugh, home economics major from Mechanicsburg; Heather Lohrenz, education major from Pittsburgh; and Sandra Shogren, arts and letters major from Swisvale.

The four finalists for WRA office are Barbara Blake, home economics major from Wayne; Judith McFarland, home economics major from Wayne; Patricia Ulrich, home economics major from Mechanicsburg; and Linda Waltham, education major from Lansdowne.

Two representatives will be elected in the finals tomorrow for each group. The new Senators will replace Joyce Herbst and Patricia Lehr, whose terms expire. The WRA representatives will fill a vacancy.

Freshmen will vote in McAllister or Thompson dormitories, depending on where they live. Town women will vote in McAllister. The polls will be open from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Romance Comedy

THE RAINMAKER

Friday and Saturday
Oct. 21 and 22
Center Stage

For Food at its Best and Atmosphere to Match

Dine at the

TAVERN

WHY NOT KENT YOUR

knee HIGHS

in

CHARCOAL BROWN GRAY NAVY

with BEAR BRAND Yarns

- "Stretch Hi-Sock Kit"
- New Tweed Sock Kit
- Argyle Socks

Bear Brand Socks