Lions Seek 14th Straight Victory

By FRAN FANUCCI

Penn State's soccer team will try to keep its impressive 13-game winning string without a blemish today as it meets the Colgate Red Raiders at 2 p.m. at Colgate, N.Y.

The Lion soccermen will also be gunning for their 14th straight victory over Colgate since the series started in 1941.

Trying to live up to the deeds of last year's championship team, the Lions have already swept by four opponents, with five more remaining. If the booters can get by the Red Raiders today, they will eliminate one of the roughest road games they will play all season.

The booters' last game, with Bucknell, ended in almost near disaster as the Bisons took a first half lead only to see it dissolved by the rebounding Lions.

Pattern of Many Wins
This has been the pattern of many of the Lion victories during the past two years. Their ability to rebound has caught most of their opponents off guard, resulting in a win for them.

Today, the charges of Coach Ken Hosterman will have to battle a team that has already racked up three wins against only one loss.

Colgate Coach Mark Randall has rebuilt the team from last year's squad, which recorded a 5-2 card, and in which most of the top players graduated, to a fast and soccer-wise squad, which has already proven its ability to whip top teams.

Erhard, Lagermasini Are Stars
Randall will have his two leading scorers, Lou Erhard and Captain Dick Lagermasini, taking up the brunt of the offensive machine. Each has scored three goals this season.

Beside Erhard and Lagermasini, Randall will start offensive stars Bill Reidell and Stu Lewis on his forward wall.

On defense the Red Raiders will have fullback Johnny Grover and defensive aces Gordie Miller and Ted Smith in an effort to stop the potent offense of the Nittany Lions. Guarding the goalie net for Colgate will be Tom Glenn, who has proved himself to be a top-notch defender this year by allowing only six goals to get by him.

Lions Have Same Lineup

The Lions will return home tonight and take a 10-day rest before meeting Maryland in their second home appearance of the year.

The booters will play three home games in the next four weeks, with the only foreign battle with Navy at Annapolis on Oct. 7.

Pitt Is Magnet

Pitt, a football opponent at Penn State for the last time in 1942, has attracted a sellout crowd for its November 19 appearance.

Coeds Battle Lock Haven, Bucknell Today

The Hockey Club of the Women's Recreation Association plays host to Bucknell University and Lock Haven State Teacher's College this afternoon in the annual fall Field Hockey Sports Day, with games beginning at 1:15 p.m. on Holmes Field.

The all-stars are members of the Penn State Hockey Club, and were chosen on the basis of competent team play displayed at practice during the past month.

Program of Events
The program of events for this afternoon is:

- 12:30-1:00 — Registration in White Hall.
  - 1:15-2:00 — P.S.U. vs. Bucknell
  - 2:00-2:45 — P.S.U. vs. Lock Haven
  - 2:45-3:30 — Bucknell vs. Lock Haven
  - 3:30-4:00 — Participants swim in White Hall pool
  - 4:00-5:00 — Refreshments in White Hall
- Games will be staged at Holmes Field. Coaches of the three competing teams will officiate.

Ten of Penn State's eleven intercollegiate athletic teams own more wins than losses in all-time competition.

Lions Hold 14-6 Edge in Series

Lewis has an equally potent running attack with Joe Marconi at fullback, halfback Jack Rabbits, and end Gary Bunn.

West Virginia has scored 25 touchdowns and 17 of 25 points after touchdown. Left half Bobby Moss has scored five times, with Bunn and Rabbits scoring three times. Larry Krutko, handling the fullback slot today with Marconi moving to right half, and Marconi each have two TD's. Nine other Mountaineers have scored.

Lewis and his Mountaineers face their toughest competition of the 1955 season today in Penn State, although the Lions have dropped two.

Engle will go with almost the same lineup that he used against Navy; only at end, where he has been juggling players all season, has Engle made a change,

Penn State's defensive line, which showed so well against Navy by playing the Middies to a mean standstill on the ground, will get another rugged test with West Virginia's new, improved ground game that has taken them out of the "big, slow" class as they have been tagged in the past.

Sam Valentine will move in for Dick DeLuca on the line to handle left guard beside tackle and Co-Captain Otto Kneidinger. Frank Reich, center; guard Earl Shumaker, and tackle Jack Calderone make up the remainder of Engle's first-string wall. DeLuca, tackle Walt Mazur and ends Jim Caldwell and Paul North are expected to see action.

Engle goes with the same backfield this week that he has used for the past two games, with Bobby Hoffman, quarterback; halfbacks Len Moore and Bill Kane; and fullback Buck Straub. Hoffman, Kane, and Moore, running the defense, too, are expected to get another pass-defense test this week from the arm of Wyant.

Pairings Released In PGA Tourney

By Associated Press

Raymond O'Brien, PGA starter, today announced the pairings for the opening of the $12,500 Ryder Cup challenge team foursome matches today.

Challenge Capt. Jimmy Demaret voiced confidence that his challengers will make a good showing. "With Mike Souchak and our other long ball hitters, I think our team is more suited to a lengthy course," he said.

Earlier, several of the pros had good-naturedly grumbled about the long Midland Country Club course.

Harriers Visit Spartans

Penn State and Michigan State face each other on the cross-country track for the 13th time today.

The Lion harriers visit the Spartans this afternoon at East Lansing, Mich., to continue a series that dates back to 1939.

Norm Gordon and his freshman harriers travel to Annapolis, Md., to go against the Navy Plebes, looking for their second win of the season. The first Lion frosh victory came two weeks ago against Cornell—the Lions took that one in shutout fashion.

In the 12 meetings, the Lion varsity has scored seven victories over the Spartans. The seventh win came last year when the Lions outlegged the Spartans, 25-30.

Lions Still Winless
The harriers will be looking for their first win of the 1955 season this afternoon, in addition to win number eight of the Penn State-Michigan State series.

The Lions, below par in comparison to past Penn State cross-country squads under Chick Werner, have been unable to take top honors in either of their two contests to date—against Navy and Cornell.

Werner departed by plane yesterday morning for East Lansing with a seven-man crew, which included Captain Doug Moorhead, Don Woodrow, Bruce Austin, Ron Lewis, Paul Roberts, Al Jones, and Norm Shoup.

Moorhead and Woodrow have managed to finish in the top five in the two meets so far—Moorhead coming in second in both—but have been unable to find group support from the remaining quintet of runners.

Penn State fielded its first cross-country team in 1912, and in 43 years of competition has captured eight team championships and tied for one.

Champs in '47, '50
Under Werner, the Lions tide for the NCAA crown in 1942, and in 1947 and 1950 they were national collegiate champs. Also, with Werner at the helm, the Nittanians were IC-4A kingpins in 1950 and 1951.

The Lion frosh, proclaimed by Gordon and Werner to be one of the best sets of yearling harrier teams in Lion history, gets a severe test against the Plebes this afternoon. The Navy first-year runners are rated among the strongest in the East.
