

Political Parties Elect Frosh, Soph Candidates

By SUE CONKLIN and JUDY HARKISON

Lion and Campus parties met Sunday night to elect candidates for the freshman and sophomore class offices. A candidate from each party was nominated for president, vice president, and secretary-treasurer of each class.

Approximately 250 students turned out to vote at the Lion party meeting, and approximately 400 met at the Campus party meeting.

Lion Party

Edward Long, senior in arts and letters, was named sophomore class presidential candidate, and Samuel Moyer, freshman in business administration, was voted freshman class presidential candidate by Lion Party Sunday.

Other sophomore nominees are Richard Schlipp, sophomore in arts and letters, for vice president, and Barbara Rinehart, sophomore in journalism, for secretary-treasurer.

Freshman class nominations also included Arthur Plautz, freshman in business administration, for vice president, and Mary Nash, junior in student in arts and letters, for secretary-treasurer.

Long Runs Uncontested
Long, nominated by Richard Moon, was uncontested for the nomination for sophomore class president.

Schlipp, nominated by Albert Howe, was also uncontested as he won the nomination for sophomore class vice president.

Miss Rinehart, nominated by Robert Spadaro, defeated Priscilla Kepner, nominated by John Olsen, for the nomination for sophomore class secretary-treasurer.

Ralph Volpe, nominated by Chester Zimolzak, and Harry Walker, nominated by Duane Campbell, were defeated by Moyer, nominated by Nancy Hankins, for the nomination of freshman class president.

Pfautz Defeats Huggler
Pfautz, nominated by Renna Crammer, defeated George Huggler, nominated by Leonard Richards, and Ralph Swank, nominated by Jerry Kleinstub, for the freshman class vice presidential nomination.

Priscilla Doll, nominated by David McKee, declined the nomination for freshman class secretary-treasurer in favor of "a better candidate," Mary Nash. Miss Nash who was nominated by Miss Doll was uncontested for the position.

Thomas Dye, clique chairman for the Lion Party, explained that since Miss Doll was just elected freshman senator to Women's Student Government Association Senate, she did not feel she should run for another position, but should enable another student to run for the secretary-treasurer.

$75 Contributed For Hibbs Fund

Contributions to the Hibbs Memorial Fund have reached $75, according to Helen Sittig, assistant dean of women and co-adviser to Women's Student Government Association.

Individuals and organizations planning to contribute to the fund should do so by Saturday, the deadline for submitting contributions. They will be received by Miss Sittig in the dean of women's office, 105 Old Main.

The fund, administered by WSGA, was set up in memory of Mrs. Cordelia L. Hibbs, former assistant dean of women, who died Oct. 11.

A project for use of the fund will be selected when all the contributions have been received, Miss Sittig said yesterday.

Impeaching Of Dean Questioned

An apparent movement to impeach Harold Dean from the office of vice-clique chairman of Campus party was attempted at the party elections meeting Sunday night.

An unknown member arose and asked clique chairman Allen Davies whether the action was possible. He was supported in applause by several other members.

Rumors were circulating several weeks ago that a split between Davies and Dean was in the offing.

Request Seeks Apology
A first request from the floor sought an apology to the party from Dean, who wrote a letter in Saturday's Daily Collegian.

In answer to a veterans inquiry on the value of party affiliation, he advised "against entry into politics as an organized group" and that party platforms are nothing but pure 'hogwash.'

Davies immediately squelched the impeachment question, and said that whatever Dean expressed in his letter reflected his own opinion, not that of the party.

Thomas Dye, clique chairman of Lion party, accused Davies of ruining and smearing a newly formed organization by accusing it in "a round-about way" of being a political front at the Lion party meeting Sunday night.

Davies is willing to ruin the veterans' chance to organize themselves by smearing their group just to keep a few veterans from voting for the Lion party, (Continued on page eight)

Campus Party

William Coale, sophomore in business administration, was named sophomore class presidential candidate, and Bruce Walsh, freshman in industrial engineering, freshman presidential candidate for Campus party Sunday night.

Other sophomore candidates are Richard Holman, business administration major, vice president; Patricia Moran, home economics major, secretary-treasurer.

Freshman class candidates will be Alvin Clemens, business administration major, vice president; Dolores Dodson, education major, secretary-treasurer.

Coale Wins Nomination
Coale won the presidential nomination after defeating John Wolff and Ronald Ulrich. Ned Taylor previously withdrew from the race.

Walsh, freshman presidential candidate, defeated Joseph Weader in a run-off election. Walsh and Weader received the highest number of votes in the first election.

Other nominees were Frederick Oprendeck, Daniel Lessig, and Edward Paul. Lessig and Paul were nominated Sunday night.

Holman won the sophomore vice presidency unopposed, after David Boucher withdrew.

Three Coeds Lose
Joyce Herbst, Carol Jones, and Ardrey Gilbert lost to Marie Seiler and Miss Moran in the first election for sophomore secretary-treasurer nominee. In the run-off, Miss Seiler was defeated.

Clemens' opponent for the freshman vice presidential race was Joel Zinn.

Miss Dodson, freshman secretary-treasurer nominee, defeated Lynn Ward.

Several platform planks were suggested from the floor. They included revision of the seating plan at football games, and a revised telephone system. Further suggestions concerning the telephone system. Further suggestions concerning the telephone system were to extend phone call hours to 10:30 or 11 p.m., install phones in all dormitory rooms, and install more lines to and from campus.
