

DA Expects to End Accident Inquiries Within One Week

District Attorney John R. Miller said yesterday he expects to complete within a week his investigation of last Saturday's automobile accident which resulted in the death of one student and injuries to another.

Miller said he will release the findings of his investigation when it is completed.

The accident occurred shortly before 2 a.m. last Saturday on the Benner Pike, approximately four miles east of State College.

William McGarvey, 24, freshman in chemistry from Philadelphia, was killed in the crash.

Driver Injured

Alexander Christie, 25, freshman in civil engineering from Philadelphia, suffered head and body injuries. He was driving the car when the accident occurred.

Christie was released from the Centre County hospital yesterday afternoon. Hospital officials reported his condition was good.

Christie was admitted to the University Hospital yesterday, where he was reported fair and resting well last night. A nurse at the hospital reported that Christie will be kept there for several days.

Dean of Men Frank J. Simes said yesterday that Christie did not have a permit to keep his car on the campus or in town. Freshmen are forbidden to have a car unless they have a permit from the dean of men's office.

Simes to Investigate

Simes said he expects to talk to Christie today or tomorrow. He said he intends to find out if Christie kept the car here or out of town.

Christie and McGarvey, who were roommates in Pollock Circle, were returning from Bellefonte when the accident happened.

Their car went out of control after they had passed through an intersection four miles east of State College.

Car Rolls Over

After running through the intersection, the car bounced off a tree and into the guard rail and then rolled over on its top, state police said.

The convertible was completely demolished in the wreck. Police estimated the total loss at $700.

A preliminary autopsy on McGarvey revealed he died of a fractured skull. He was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital.

Funeral services were held yesterday morning at the Fluehr Funeral Home in Philadelphia.

Blue Band to Play At Pre-Game Smoker

The Penn State Blue Band will play at a pre-game smoker to be held at 8:15 p.m. Friday on the Adelphia Hotel roof in Philadelphia.

The smoker, which is sponsored by the Penn State Club of Philadelphia, is free of charge. All students are invited to attend. The Blue Band will play at half-time during the Penn State-Penn football game Saturday on Franklin Field, Philadelphia.

5 University Staffers Run For Council

Five of the eight candidates running for positions on the borough council in the Nov. 8 elections are associated with the University.

Four of the candidates are members of the faculty. They are: Dr. Penroyer F. English, professor of wildlife management; James F. Keim, associate professor of agriculture extension; Ralph W. McComb, University librarian; and Eric A. Walker, dean of the College of Engineering and Architecture.

Mrs. Edith Anderson, the fifth candidate for the office, is a secretary in the division of intermediate registration.

Mrs. Anderson, English, Keim and McComb are Democratic nominees. Walker is a Republican candidate.

In a recent article in the Centre Daily Times, the five gave their opinion of the most important problem facing the community at the present time.

Walker said he believed the community needs a long-range plan to handle the community's growth from its present population of around 20,000 to an anticipated 50,000 residents.

English is concerned with the sewerage, parking and trash collection problems.

Mrs. Anderson listed the sewerage problem along with the need for additional park and recreational facilities and a program for the aged on her list of problems confronting the community.

McComb said it was hard to pick out any definite problem as the most important. He said he felt the community needs a good planning program to enable the borough to keep pace with problems as they arise.

Keim also hesitated to name one particular problem as the main one facing the community. He said, however, he felt the community should have swimming facilities.

Another member of the faculty, David R. Mackey, assistant professor of speech, currently holds the office of burgess.

Penn Football Tickets On Sale at Rec Hall

Penn football tickets will be available today and possibly tomorrow at the Athletic Association ticket booth, third floor of Recreation Hall.

The price is $4. Also available are temporary bleacher seats for the Syracuse game at $2.50.

The booth is open from 8:30 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 4:30 p.m.

Circulation Staff

The Daily Collegian circulation staff's sophomore and junior boards will meet at 6:30 tonight in the Collegian Business Office.

TODAY'S WEATHER

CLOUDY AND WARMER

The Daily Collegian

FOR A BETTER PENN STATE

VOL. 56, No. 30 STATE COLLEGE, PA., WEDNESDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 26, 1955 FIVE CENTS

8 Frosh, 1 Sophomore Elected to 2 Councils

Eight freshmen and one sophomore were elected to positions yesterday on the Mineral Industries Student Council and the Engineering and Architecture Student Council.

Elections for council positions in five remaining colleges will be held today and tomorrow at selected voting areas on campus.

Six freshmen elected by students of the College of Engineering and Architecture to positions on the council are: Richard Darrah, industrial engineering; Arthur Bell, aeronautical engineering; Alton Kendall, electrical engineering; Lawrence Perez, sanitary en-

ROTC Groups To Compete In Blood Drive

The junior and senior classes of the Army, Air Force, and Navy ROTC will compete for the highest percentage of participation in the campus blood drive to be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Nov. 7, 8, and 9 in the television and card room of the Hetzel Union Building.

A 475-pint goal has been set for the drive.

Schedule slips and minor release forms are available anytime before Nov. 1 at the Hetzel Union desk, the West Halls Student Union desk, and the Nittany-Pollock area. A number of the slips have schedules for only Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 8 and 9. Donors who wish to give blood Monday, Nov. 7, may write it on the form.

Orange juice, coffee, and doughnuts will be served by Kappa Kappa Gamma on Nov. 7, Delta Delta Delta on Nov. 8, and Alpha Omicron Pi and Kappa Delta on Nov. 9.

Five slips have been distributed to each sorority, and will be collected Friday.

The drive is sponsored by the Red Cross campus unit in connection with the Johnstown Regional Blood Center.

Warmer Weather Expected Today

Partly cloudy skies and warmer temperatures are forecast for today by the department of meteorology. The high today is expected to be in the low 60's. The low tonight between 35 and 40 degrees.

The sudden wind storm which brought 60 mile an hour winds and an inch of rain to the campus on Monday afternoon blew a tree over on a power line at the Ag Hill substation causing a power cut-off in that area for about half an hour.

The weather station reported that the storm dropped the mercury from 64 degrees to 44 degrees in a matter of about five minutes.

Collegian Candidates

Candidates for the editorial staff of the Daily Collegian will meet at 7 tonight in 1 Carnegie.

gineering; Raymond Fisher, agricultural engineering; and Charles Stubner, mechanical engineering. One sophomore Casimirus Gromadzki, engineering science, was elected to the council.

Results in elections of freshmen in the departments of architecture and architectural engineering in the college have not yet been tabulated, Douglas Sharp, council vice president, said yesterday. The results will be announced today. Freshmen in the college are elected to council positions from within the various college departments.

Two freshmen elected yesterday to positions on the Mineral Industries Council are Vickie O'Donnell, fuel technology, and Margaret Smith, meteorology.

Students in the College of Business Administration will elect freshman representatives at a special meeting tonight in 110 Electrical Engineering.

LA Elections

The Liberal Arts council will hold elections from 9 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. today and tomorrow in Waring Hall and from 1:30 to 5 p.m. in the Hetzel Union Building.

Elections in the College of Chemistry and Physics will be held from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. today and tomorrow in the lobby of Osmond Laboratory.

Freshmen in the College of Education may vote from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. today and tomorrow at ballot boxes located outside Schwab Auditorium.

Elections for freshmen on the Home Economics council will be held from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. today and tomorrow in the lobby of the Home Economics Building.

For the past several days students have submitted self-nominations for council positions.

Eng Nominees

The four nominees from the architecture and architectural engineering departments are Paul Frantz, Edward Kaleskewski, Dale Landon, and Andrew Yanoviak Jr.

In the College of Business Administration, 10 freshmen have submitted their names. They are: John Moyer, Janet Ours, Lewis Johnson, Alban Clemens, Elizabeth Tolan, Carol Ehman, Burton Hollander, Donald Dennis, Thomas Braneis, and Albert Schneck.

Six nominees for the Physical Education council are Kenneth McMullen, Stephen Garban, Chet Cotton, Duayne Hutchinson, and Ann Colclesser.

Three freshmen out of 27 nomi- (Continued on page eight)

'U.S. News' Claims Prexy Opposes Nixon

The weekly news magazine U.S. News and World Report said in its latest issue that Vice President Richard M. Nixon is out front in the presidential candidacy race but is being opposed by Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of the University.

Speculating on the success of probable candidates if President Dwight D. Eisenhower should refuse to try for another term, the magazine said: "There were hints that Ike considered saying something that would be taken by politicians to be definitely encouraging to Richard M. Nixon, vice president."

However, the article said, the counsel of Dr. Eisenhower in Denver is for President Eisenhower to avoid any move that would advance the political fortunes of the vice president.

It gave no reason for his objection to the vice president, but said Dr. Eisenhower reflects the view of a group within the "liberal" wing of the Republican party.

The magazine gave no sources of its information for the article.

Tickets Available For Mitchell Talk

Tickets are now available for the College of Business Administration Career Day Speech of James P. Mitchell, United States Secretary of Labor.

The speech will conclude the Career Day activities which will be held Nov. 1.

Tickets are free, and may be obtained by students in the College of Business Administration in 106 Sparks.

Students in other colleges may get their tickets at the Hetzel Union desk.

Tickets will also be distributed for town students and the public at the State College Chamber of Commerce.

AIM Still Accepting Freshman Car Requests

Letters of application for a hearing by the Association of Independent Men Freshman Car Interviewing Committee are still being accepted at the Hetzel Union desk.

Freshmen who feel they should be allowed to have a car on campus or in the borough of State College should apply for an interview, according to David Cummings, chairman of the committee.

Junior Prom Queen Pictures Due Today

Today is the deadline for Junior Prom Queen Candidates to enter their pictures.

The pictures, 5 x 7 or 8 x 10, should be turned in at the Hetzel Union desk before 5 p.m.

The name, address, telephone number, and sponsor of the entrant should be given on the back of each picture.

All entries must be juniors enrolled at the University.

Unified Germany to Be Geneva Aim

PARIS, Oct. 25 (AP)—Western leaders asserted tonight that continued division of Germany poses the threat of conflict over all Europe. They determined to make Germany's reunification their number one objective at the Geneva conference with the Soviet Union.

The foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization reached this decision in approving the plans and positions of the United States, Britain and France for the four-power meeting with the Russians beginning Thursday.

Ministers Agree

A NATO spokesman said the ministers were unanimous in the opinion that there can be no real security in Europe so long as Germany remains divided. Hence, proposals for a European security pact must be absolutely linked to German reunification, they agreed.

The ministers met for three hours this morning, then reassembled in the Palais de Chaillot for another two hours this afternoon to hear and discuss reports from U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan and French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay on the Big Three's attitude in the Geneva talks. A NATO communique said all ministers of the 15-nation alliance "expressed their agreement with the general positions outlined."

Present Text to Molotov

The Big Three leaders handed the other ministers the text of a lengthy memorandum embodying the proposals they intend to present to Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov at Geneva. In turn, each explained portions of the text.

Dulles outlined proposals for

Germany's reunification and a 14-nation European security pact to which Communist nations also would adhere. The treaty would be designed primarily to reassure Russia against any future German aggression.

Explains Proposals

Macmillan explained Western disarmament proposals which are being handled chiefly in the United Nations subcommittee on disarmament in New York. Pinay outlined projects for the improvement of East-West relations, particularly in the field of trade, tourism and the exchange of information.

Molotov arrived in East Berlin today en route to Geneva. He said he hopes the four foreign ministers will achieve a further lessening of world tension. He repeated the Soviet stand that an all-European security pact must be agreed upon before East and West Germany can be unified.