

Today's Weather:
Mild with Increasing
Cloudiness

The Daily Collegian

Honor System—
Future Possibility
See Page 4

FOR A BETTER PENN STATE

VOL. 56, No. 34

STATE COLLEGE, PA., WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 2, 1955

FIVE CENTS

Campus Party Seeks Approval of 'Policy'

Campus party proposed a "statement of policy" for approval to All-University Elections Committee last night. No representative of the Lion party was present to present a platform.

The committee took no action and will meet at 8 tonight in 9 Carnegie for final consideration.

Prexy May Have Name On Ballot

The name of Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of the University, may be on the state preference primary ballot next year.

State Republicans, who confirmed the report, emphasized Monday that the proposal is only in the "taking stage," according to the Associated Press.

Dr. Eisenhower has declined comment.

State Representative Samuel K. McConnell said as far as he knew the idea had not as yet been discussed with Dr. Eisenhower.

McConnell said the idea was discussed with him by a Philadelphia businessman and realtor.

The idea also has been discussed by other Republican political leaders in the presence of Robert C. Duffy, the Philadelphia GOP city chairman said.

Meanwhile, Frank P. Dudley, who, with his wife, founded the Dr. Eisenhower-for-president organization, has opened club headquarters in Washington, D.C.

The presidential preference primary does not bind the party's delegation to national conventions to support the top candidates. It does give the state's voters in both parties a chance to express their preference for the nomination.

The November issue of American Magazine carries an article on Dr. Eisenhower entitled "Spotlight on Milton Eisenhower."

Deadline Extended For Blood Drive Schedule Forms

The deadline for returning slips for the student blood drive has been extended to tomorrow, Jean Yemm, drive chairman, has announced.

The schedule slips and minor release forms may be obtained at the Hetzel Union desk, West Halls student union desk, and in the Nittany-Pollock area. Minor release forms do not have to be turned in with the schedule slips, but may be brought to the bloodmobile.

Sorority response to the drive has been lower than expected, Miss Yemm said, but members may still obtain schedule slips. The goal for the drive is 900 pints.

The drive will be held Nov. 7, 8, and 9 in the card and television room of the Hetzel Union Building. It is sponsored by the Red Cross campus unit in connection with the Johnstown Blood Center.

MI Council to Meet Tonight

Mineral Industries Student Council will meet at 7 tonight in 208 Willard.

Penn Game Conduct

No cases of misconduct at the Penn game have been reported to University officials.

Dean of Men Frank J. Simes said that his office had not received word of any misconduct as of yesterday afternoon. Simes added that it was probable that no such reports would be forthcoming.

Mitchell Expresses Faith in Economy

By PAT HUNTER

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell last night expressed his faith in a bright future in the development of an economy of technology in industry and said he sees "automation" as bringing a higher standard of living instead of extensive unemployment.

Mitchell's speech in Schwab Auditorium closed the third annual Career Day of the College of Business Administration. Following his talk Mitchell answered questions on a guaranteed annual wage, the Taft-Hartley Law, and the New Deal.

Stressing the development of technology in industry, Mitchell said there is a growing accent upon the technician in the modern age. Engineers of all kinds are in great demand and will continue to be in demand, he said.

"The special skills that the economy will require will have an effect upon the composition of the work force. Unskilled workers are in less demand. Semi-skilled workers are growing in number. Skilled workers are on the increase—but not just to tend a separate and isolated step in production," he said.

However, he said that the increased emphasis upon technical and scientific training to meet expanding needs should not make us lose sight of a great need for a liberal education. The broader the base a worker has in the arts and social sciences the better able he is to specialize later on, he said.

'Arts Neglected'

"Nearly all of us," Mitchell said, "have run into people who have had technical or scientific skill but had so neglected the arts that they did not know how to express themselves most effectively concerning the subjects in which they did have competence. We need a combination of both practical and liberal education to meet the needs of tomorrow. That is exactly what the land-grant colleges were established to provide."

Mitchell warned against losing sight of the importance of the human being as an individual. The de-humanization of de-personalization of man by totalitarian systems is well known, he said. Their creators felt that the material well-being of the people could be brought about without regard to individual dignity or spiritual values, he added.

Automation No Threat

In the question and answer period after the speech, Mitchell said automation would make for a higher standard of living. He cited as his reason the fact that the rise of productivity is not greater now than in the 1920's, despite a tremendous increase in technology.

He said there would be some temporary readjustment but predicted higher levels of employment in the long run.

Asked his views on the guaranteed annual wage, Mitchell said the worker wants a reasonable assurance of job stability. If this is given him, he said, he will be happy.

He said that President Dwight D. Eisenhower has recommended (Continued on page eight)

—Photo by Phillips
James P. Mitchell
Addresses Career Day

Make-Up Classes Set for January 4

The schedule for making up classes missed for the Penn weekend half-holiday was announced yesterday by the scheduling office.

The decision was made by the Council of Administration.

Classes will begin at 8 a.m. Wednesday, Jan. 4, following Christmas vacation, instead of at 1:10 p.m. as originally scheduled.

Saturday morning class schedules will be followed on that Wednesday morning.

Mild Weather Forecast; Possible Showers Seen

Today's weather is forecast to continue mild with increasing cloudiness and possible showers late in the afternoon or evening, according to the department of meteorology.

The temperature reached a high of 59 degrees yesterday with a low of 32. The high for today is expected to be approximately 57.

LaVie Activities Staff

The LaVie activities staff will meet at 8 tonight in 412 Old Main.

Campus, continuing its no-platform stand, proposed a "statement of policy" similar to its open letter to students published last spring.

Suggestions in the statement were: the establishment of freshman and sophomore class advisory boards; better communication between freshmen and upperclassmen, possibly by a change in the Orientation Week program; better and more diverse recreational facilities; and further, extension and use of Cabinet Personnel Interviewing Committee.

'Makes No Promises'

It also states that the "Campus party also recognizes the inability of the University to cope with the present parking problem, due to the limitations in the present physical plant, and therefore makes no promises concerning this problem."

It further states that "we (the party) again will strive to carry out our suggestions as we have in the past and will continue our policy of no rash promises, which we know cannot be fulfilled."

Lion States Purpose

Thomas Dye, Lion party clique chairman, told the Daily Collegian last night that his party "believes that the purpose of a political party is not only to elect candidates, but also to bring student problems to the attention of everyone."

"We're not trying to kid the student body; we can't tell the administration what to do; but we can and, if elected, we will, move in All-University Cabinet to recommend that freshman veterans over 21 years of age be allowed cars on campus; move in Cabinet to recommend the initiation of intercollegiate coed sports; and move in Cabinet to recommend a loud speaker system at Beaver Field for play-by-play description of the games."

Campus Cites Accomplishments
The Campus statement also mentions accomplishments of the party since sweeping the elections last spring.

The statement claims the party instituted regular office hours in the Hetzel Union Building for elected Campus candidates; the establishment of advisory boards for the junior and senior classes; that "definite action will be coming" in regard to better living conditions for town independent men; and that CPIC "is being used almost exclusively to secure qualified people who would not normally get an opportunity, thus eliminating the political "spoils system."

Elections of freshman and sophomore class officers will be held Nov. 10 and 11 in the basement of the HUB.

The statement also mentions accomplishments of the party since sweeping the elections last spring.

The statement claims the party instituted regular office hours in the Hetzel Union Building for elected Campus candidates; the establishment of advisory boards for the junior and senior classes; that "definite action will be coming" in regard to better living conditions for town independent men; and that CPIC "is being used almost exclusively to secure qualified people who would not normally get an opportunity, thus eliminating the political "spoils system."

Elections of freshman and sophomore class officers will be held Nov. 10 and 11 in the basement of the HUB.

German Unification Talks Proposed

GENEVA, Nov. 1 (AP)—An East German delegation proposed to the Big Four foreign ministers today that talks between East and West Germany be held soon to prepare for free elections to unify a neutralized Germany.

Western diplomats viewed the proposal, backed by the Soviet Union, as nothing more than a new propaganda bid.

This view was reinforced by reports from a special briefing given the entire Communist press here by a Soviet spokesman who said "there will be no German reunification" at the Big Four foreign ministers conference.

The East German proposal was filed by its observer secretariat while the foreign ministers took a one-day recess. It appeared aimed at influencing German national opinion and Western quarters said that, as it stands, it is certain to be rejected.

The full text of the 24-page proposal is not to be released until tomorrow. In substance, it would bring East and West German parliamentary representatives together, ignoring the Bonn government's adamant refusal to talk to its Communist rivals.

Proposals Listed

An East German spokesman said the proposal suggested these moves for elections and reunification:

1. Formation of an all-German Council for the East German Volkshammer lower house and the West German Bundestag, also lower house, to be composed of "representatives of all democratic parties and organizations."

2. The all-German Council would tackle the problem of "cooperation in internal German relations" between the two republics.

3. The final task of the Council would be to prepare for "German unity through free elections."

Germany Would Be Neutral
4. A reunited Germany would be bound not to join either Western or Eastern military blocks but to remain neutral.

5. All military forces of the Big Four powers would be withdrawn from German territory.

6. "Social achievements" of the East German Communist system as well as capitalist ways of life in West Germany would be preserved after reunification.

Infirmary Releases Crash Victim

Alexander Christie, freshman in civil engineering from Philadelphia, has been released from the University infirmary and is attending classes.

Christie was the driver of the car involved in the accident in which William McGarvey, freshman in chemistry from Philadelphia, was killed.

Dean of Men Frank J. Simes said yesterday he had talked to Christie and advised him to attend classes until after his preliminary hearing.

District Attorney John R. Miller said Monday that Christie would be given a preliminary hearing after he was released from the infirmary. He said Christie may face charges of involuntary manslaughter depending on the outcome of the hearing.

When contacted yesterday, Miller said he did not know that Christie had been released from the infirmary.

Miller did not say definitely when the hearing would take place but said state police would prefer the charges against Christie.

The dean of men's office will not take any action against Christie until after the hearing, Simes said.

The accident in which McGarvey was killed and Christie injured occurred Oct. 22 on Benner Pike, about four miles east of State College.

'Mikado' Previews To Begin Tonight

Leaders of campus organizations and new faculty members will witness the first in a series of planned preview performances of Players at 8 tonight in Schwab Auditorium.

Twenty-eight invitations have been sent for the preview performance of "The Mikado" to campus leaders. Other students will be selected to attend remaining preview performances. Admission to these performances will be by invitation only.

Tickets for the Thursday, Friday, and Saturday performances of "The Mikado" are on sale at the Hetzel Union desk.

Juniors to Vote For Queen

Juniors may vote for junior prom queen until 5 p.m. today at the Hetzel Union desk.

Matriculation cards must be presented in order to vote.

Penn Movies Tonight

Members of Androcles, junior men's hat society, and the College of Physical Education will sponsor a showing of the Pennsylvania-Penn State football movies at 8:30 tonight in 119 Osmond. J. T. White, football coach, will talk on the films.