

AIM Board Advises Restriction of Hours

The Association of Independent Men's Judicial Board of Review Tuesday night recommended to the dean of men's office that a freshman from the West Halls area be put on board probation along with confining the student to his dormitory floor between the hours of 8:30 p.m. and 7 a.m.

HEc Council Proposes New 'Weekend' Plan

An extensive Home Economics Spring Weekend program designed especially for prospective freshmen was discussed by Home Economics Student Council Tuesday night.

It was stated that in previous years more emphasis was placed on entertaining parents and alumni who visit the Open House than to incoming students. This factor was given as a possible reason for the marked decline in enrollment in the College of Home Economics this year.

Luther Walbridge, senior in hotel administration from Wellsboro, was appointed chairman of the Spring Weekend project scheduled for April 21 and 22. Proposed activities include registration, talks, and laboratory demonstrations and exhibitions.

John Seastone, president, reported on the investigations that have been conducted for faculty-course evaluations in the College of Home Economics. Reports received from other student councils that tried similar programs were not favorable.

It was suggested that an attempt at faculty-course evaluation might be tried by inserting blank sheets of paper on the last page of the final examinations and permitting students to write their opinions and suggestions.

The Awards Banquet sponsored by the Student-Faculty Board will be held Thursday night at the Nittany Lion Inn.

Council Approves Theme for Booth

"Set 'em up, Joe" was approved by the Freshman Council Tuesday as the theme of its Mardi Gras booth.

The booth will be a game of skill involving the use of a hoop to "set up" a coke bottle lying on a cigar box. Masks made by freshman women will be given as prizes to successful contestants.

Details of the competition may be obtained from unit presidents in freshman women's dormitories.

Unit secretaries were reminded that they should pick up copies of Women's Student Government Association Senate minutes every Monday in the dean of women's office, 105 Old Main.

DeMolay to Hold Smoker

The Penn State DeMolay Club will hold a smoker at 7 tonight at Delta Sigma Lambda, 322 S. Allen street.

Young GOP's Elect Emerick To Presidency

The executive committee of the Young Republicans Club last week elected Thomas Emerick, junior in business administration from Johnstown, president to succeed John Higgins who resigned for scholastic reasons.

David Scott, president of the Centre County Young Republicans Club, reported on a recent meeting of that group. Several candidates for municipal and county posts appeared at the meeting. Robert Post, assemblyman from Pike County, spoke on Republican organization to build a winning team.

The club has set up headquarters in the State College Hotel for the Nov. 8 elections. Workers will be at the headquarters every day from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. to call registered Republicans in the precinct. A door-to-door campaign will be conducted in State College to get voters to the polls.

A suggestion was made that the group consider the possible endorsement of Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of the University, as a presidential candidate.

However, Emerick said the suggestion was dropped because the group's constitution prevents it from endorsing any one candidate.

Veater Named Treasurer Of Nittany Council

Donald Veater, freshman in ceramics from Uniontown, has been elected treasurer of Nittany Council.

Melvin Weaver, sophomore in industrial engineering from Temple, has been elected council secretary.

Elected to member-at-large positions were Benjamin Winslow, sophomore in arts and letters from Patton; and Robert Seyler, freshman in business administration from Allentown.

This is the first time that the board has enforced the so-called "hours penalty" which restricts the student to his room or immediate living area. The "hours penalty" was added to the list of possible penalties at the first meeting of the board this semester.

The length of time that the penalty will be imposed is dependent upon the student's conduct during the coming week. The student will report with his residence counselor at the next meeting of the board.

Violated Quiet Hours
The student was said to have repeatedly violated the dormitory quiet hours. The counselor's report described him as a "habitual disciplinary problem."

The student will be checked every night by members of the board. If he is found violating the hours restriction he will be immediately subject to a harsher punishment.

The board also recommended disciplinary probation for a freshman from the West Halls area. The student was apprehended outside of Jordan Hall last Wednesday as Thompson Hall was conducting a fire drill.

Lists Charges
The counselor said that the student was going from Waring Hall to Jordan and that he was yelling "panty raid" as the girls from Thompson were filing back into the dormitory. The student explained that he merely yelled "panty raid" once but the board agreed that such actions are the kind that lead to the mass demonstrations on which the administration so heavily frowns.

In the first case of the evening the board recommended that a freshman residing in town be placed on office probation for causing an undue disturbance in the West Halls courtyard on the night of Oct. 15.

Shouted Obscenities
The student who had been drinking in several fraternity houses came into the courtyard about midnight singing in a very loud voice and shouting what the weekend duty counselor called "obscene comments." The student admitted the loud shouting and singing but said that he had no recollection of making any obscene remarks.

He said that he was not inebriated but was merely trying to "show off" for his friends and the other people in the courtyard. The board also recommended that a letter be sent to the student's parents.

Probation Penalty
Disciplinary probation is a penalty which is entered on the student's permanent record and may be petitioned off only after one calendar year. It also provides that the student may hold no office or committee position in any extra-curricular activity during the period he is on probation.
