Untried Lions Face NC State Tonight

A basketball rebuilding program which hasn't been equaled for some time in the Nittany Vale gets its initial test tonight in Raleigh, N.C.

John Egli's Lions, with only two starters back from last year's squad, which finished with an 18-10 record, go against powerful North Carolina State in the mammoth Raleigh Coliseum before a crowd which is expected to total upwards of 10,000.

The Blue and White has been tabbed a decided underdog for tonight's start-of-the-season en-

KDR's Win Paces IM Cage Action

Nine basketball teams—five independent and four fraternity squads—were victorious in intramural cage contests Thursday night at Rec Hall.

The Trojans, led by sharp-shooting Dave Watkins, walloped an outmanned Dorm 43 team, 29-7. The Trojan forward scored 15 of the winner's points.

Dorm 23—with John McDermott and Greg Schwendeman accounting for 28 points between them—beat the Yum Yums, 36-26. Pat Farrell scored 12 points for the losers.

The Crusaders won a forfeit victory over the LB Five. It was the only forfeit of the night.

Vulcans Edge Bill Townners
The Vulcans edged the Bill Townners, 24-19, behind a nine-point effort by guard Bob Reese.

An aggressive College Co-op aggregation defeated Atherton Hall Men, 22-17. Ernest Carter scored nine points for the winners.

In the fraternity games, Kappa Delta Rho rode to a resounding 59-12 victory over Zeta Beta Tau on the shooting of Billy Kane and George Simpson. Kane scored 18 points while Simpson hit for 12 for the defending IM titleholders.

Tau Kappa Epsilon defeated Alpha Phi Delta, 28-9. Lou Trautman scored eight points to spark the winner's attack.

Phi Sigma Kappa Wins
Phi Sigma Kappa eked out a 23-22 win over a hard-fighting Delta Upsilon squad. Paul Reagan hit for 14 points for the winners; Jim Lockerman scored eight for the losers.

In the final contest of the evening, Alpha Sigma Phi defeated Alpha Epsilon Pi, 35-15. Dave Murphy and Lew Lynch combined to score 17 points between them, beating the total AEPi output. Jonathan Plaut was the game's high scorer, dunking 10 of the loser's points.

Enviably String

agement for at least three big reasons.

First, Coach Everett Case's high-riding cagers, titlewinners in the Atlantic Coast Conference last season, are expected to walk away with the crown this year; second, the Wolfpack is paced by 6-9 senior center, Ronnie Shavlik, who plastered his court doings in every corner of the ACC for two consecutive years, and is now a prime prospect for the 1956 All-American team; and third, tonight's host team inaugurated its 1955-56 season on a sweet note Thursday night with an 88-63 win over Florida State in an inter-sectional contest.

Speed Matches Height
Case's starting five, which averages in the neighborhood of 6-6, is said to have a wealth of speed to supplement its height advantage.

On the other hand, the Lions will present a starting quintet which measures an average of 6-2 per man—one of the smallest teams to represent Penn State on the basketball floor in recent years.

The Lion coach has decided to go with Co-Captains Earl Fields and Bobby Hoffman, Bob Ramsey, Joe Hartnett, and Norm Hall tonight, but indicated earlier this week that Rudy Marisa and sophomore Ron Rainey and Steve Baidy will probably see action against the Wolfpack.

Hopes for Speed, Hustle
With a definite height disadvantage facing the Lions, Egli is counting on speed and hustle to combat a strong Carolina offense which averaged better than 88 points per game last year.

The Nittany mentor expects the Wolfpack to use a 1-3-1 zone defense and possibly go into an all court press. Against the zone he will use the starting five, but against the press, he may pull Ramsey and Hall in favor of Rainey and Baidy in order to keep possession and tire the taller Carolina quintet.

Lions Will Use Zone
Egli will use the "Penn State zone" against the Wolfpack, with three men sliding with the ball out front and two Lion players guarding the basket.

The Lions left University Park at 2 p.m. yesterday, and traveled to Raleigh by train. They were expected to arrive at 5:30 this morning, and will return immediately following tonight's game.

They make their second appearance of the season Wednesday against Dickinson at Carlisle.

Noll Rolls 138 To Lead Coed Pin Scorers

A roundup of this week's Bowling Club games lists Elsie Noll of the Monday night's club on top of the individual scorers with a 138 average. The highest team average—achieved also by Monday night's club—was capped by Team III which averaged 111.6.

Merion Lafferty of the Wednesday night club's Team III is rolling at the heels of Noll with 135.

Lafferty's clubmates, Jane Colcler, Team II, and Eileen Croft, Team I, are leading their sections with averages of 129 and 124, respectively.

Harriet Felder holds the Tuesday night club's highest individual score of 126.

Other bowlers rolling 130 or better are Freshman Proebe Humphrey, holding a 121.5 average, and Catherine Davis, possessing an even 120 average.

The Gutter Dusters of Tuesday's club are in second place in the highest team average standings with 108.75, only 2.85 points behind the leader, Monday club's Team III.

The Strikers and Lionesses, club rivals of the Gutter Dusters, hold the third and fourth slots in the team standings with slim averages of 94.4 and 94.25, respectively.

The International Telegraphic Bowling Tournament will be held at 3 p.m. today in Pennsylvania colleges and universities possessing bowling alleys. Penn State, center of the tournament, will tabulate the highest scores of all competitors.
