

Five Finalists Selected for Military Ball Contest

Rosemary Bass

Jane Hartzell

Marilyn Myers

Toni Lisinichia

Patricia Maloney

Queen to Reign Friday

Rosemary Bass, Jane Hartzell, Marilyn Myers, Toni Lisinichia, and Patricia Maloney have been selected as the five finalists for the Military Ball Friday.

The queen will be crowned by Ray Anthony during intermission of the dance. The finalists were selected from 40 entrants by the cadet commander and his staff at the Pennsylvania Military College, Chester, Pa.

The queen will be chosen at the ball by Col. Richard Reidy, professor of military science and tactics; Col. Daniel Riva, professor of air science; and Capt. V. B. MacCrae, professor of naval science.

Cadet Col. Gordon G. Fee, master of ceremonies, will present the queen to each member of the court a silver plated trophy and a bouquet of roses.

Miss Bass is a student at the University and was sponsored by John Lyon, Cadet Major of the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps. She is a sophomore in journalism from Camp Hill, and is a member of Kappa Delta.

Miss Bass is also a member of Angel Flight, AFROTC Auxiliary Organization.

Miss Hartzell, sponsored by Arthur Bates, Cadet 1st Lt. of the Army Reserve Officers Training Corps, is a junior in home economics from Lancaster. She is a member of Kappa Delta and Angel Flight.

Miss Myers, senior in arts and letters from Scotia, N.Y., is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma. She was sponsored by Reid Eschallier, Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps.

Miss Lisinichia is a freshman at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, and is majoring in elementary education. Donald Tinsman, AFROTC, sponsored her.

Miss Maloney is a freshman in pre-medical at Duquesne University, and lives in Pittsburgh. She was sponsored by Donald Dobroski, Cadet Sgt. 1st Class AROTC.

Georgia Tech—

(Continued from page one)

respect the laws, customs and traditions of the host state." That means that in states outside the South, Georgia teams can play opponents having Negroes or before nonsegregated spectators, because laws and customs of those states do not require segregation.

But the resolution adds, "No contract or agreement shall be entered into for an athletic contest in any state where the circumstances under which it is fulfilled are repugnant to the laws, customs and traditions of the host state."

Bloch later told newsmen that last section applies specifically to the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans. No team of the university system, he said, could take part in a non-segregated game there after Jan. 2, 1956.

thought of SPUDNUTS!

30 DIFFERENT VARIETIES

- Breakfast
 - Coffee Break
 - Dessert
 - Snack
 - Any Party
- AD 8-8184
Phone 1 day ahead

Veater Takes First In Pushcart Race

(Picture on page 5)

Goodnatured confusion reigned at Beaver Field Saturday as approximately 400 students cheered Donald Veater to victory in the first Town Independent Men pushcart race.

Veater, freshman in ceramic technology from Uniontown—racing for Nittany 39—raced the 100-yard course in 22 seconds to win the $25 and the foot high trophy.

TIM collected about $150 from 25 entrants in the race. After expenses have been deducted the remaining amount will be given to Campus Chest.

Robert Cole, TIM president, said the group was attempting to help Campus Chest because they did not receive as much as expected in their first drive of the year.

Spectators dashed from one side to the other, determined to see the start and the finish of each race. This, plus the fact that contestants had as much difficulty in keeping the carts on the course, caused a great deal of confusion as well as laughter and cheering.

Good Variety of Colors
The variety of colors displayed by the carts and the originality of the signs displayed by the contestants lent color and interest to the spectacle.

Most signs gave the name of the group for which the contestant was entered. The sign "me" stood out from others.

Barbara Rilling, racing for Alpha Xi Delta, gave Veater a close race as she placed second in the finals. Miss Rilling won her first heat in another close finish as she beat Bruce Lieske, racing for Association of Independent Men.

Other Competitors
Others competing in the finals were Richard Brown, Sigma Phi Alpha; Christopher Kuebler, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; and Harold Gardner, Pollock 11.

Kuebler, dashing over the finish line still smoking a cigarette, placed in a close match against John Wagner of Theta Delta Chi, advancing him to the finals.

Be sure . . .

it's a

KEPLER composite

The Kepler Studio

Located in Danks & Co.

Beaver Ave. Entrance

CLIP AND SAVE

Welcome to Penn State's ICE SKATING RINK

EAST OF NITTANY DORMITORIES

DAILY HOURS
1 p.m. to 5 p.m.
7 p.m. to 10 p.m.

ADMISSION PRICES
UNIVERSITY STUDENTS, 25c
(with matriculation card)
NON-STUDENT SKATERS, 50c

SKATES, ALL SIZES, ARE AVAILABLE FOR RENTAL AT 25c PER PAIR PER SESSION

SPECIAL EVENTS
FACULTY NIGHT EVERY MONDAY
7 TO 10 P.M.
(Special Faculty price, 25c)

KIDDIES EVERY SATURDAY MORNING
9 TO 11:30 A.M.
(Grade School Age, 25c)

CLIP AND SAVE

Free Lecture Entitled

"CHRISTIAN SCIENCE: The Power of an Active Faith"

by

John D. Pickett, C.S.

of Chicago, Illinois

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church
The First Church of Christ, Scientist
in Boston, Massachusetts

Thursday, Dec. 8 8 p.m.

MINERAL SCIENCE AUDITORIUM