Free-Swinging Bouts Highlight IM Program

Fast-moving, free-swinging action highlighted last night's Intramural boxing tourney before a large crowd at Recreation Hall as 11 fighters punched their way to victory. Two forfeits marked the card.

John Spangler and Larry Wert, two 145-pound independent boxers, went at it in the first fight of the evening with Wert copping the win when referee Eddie Sulkowski stopped the bout in the second round.

Wert knocked Spangler to the canvas in the opening round with a series of left crosses followed by a right high on the head. Wert continued with his relentless attack in the next round until the bout was stopped.

Jack Stewart, Delta Upsilon, defeated Dave Griswold, Alpha Chi Sigma, in a very evenly matched fight. For the first two rounds there was little to choose from either man as both landed well with either hand.

Opponent Tires

In the third round, Stewart began to get the edge on his tiring opponent when he connected with several hard rights to grab the victory.

Fred Siefert, Lambda Chi Alpha, scored a unanimous decision over Alpha Chi Sigma's Al Geosits in a crowd-pleasing heavyweight battle.

Both fighters fought the toe-toe battle with a flurry of punches. They both exchanged hard blows several times during the bout, but Siefert landed the more effective punches to cop the decision.

Valentine Wins

Heavyweights Sam Valentine, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Hugh Hollenback, Phi Sigma Kappa, engaged in another free-swinging tussle, with Valentine winning the bout on the basis of two knockdowns.

The SPE fighter landed a solid left to the head in the first 30 seconds of the opening round to send Hollenback to the canvas. An overhand right put the game, but outfought, Phi Sig down for a second time in the second round.

Jack Long, Chi Phi, outboxed Ed Drapcho, Phi Delta Theta, in a 155-pound bout. Both showed a willingness to mix it up, but the Chi Phi's punches were too much for the Phi Delt to cope with.

Long was the aggressor as he scored consistently with rights and lefts to the head and body.

Oberly Cops Decision

In another heavyweight clash, Pi Kappa Phi's Bill Oberly used a potent right and left hand combination to defeat Charles Warren, Phi Delta Theta.

Oberly, throwing caution to the wind, waded into his stocky opponent with an unorthodox style of rights and lefts which sent the Phi Delt into fast retreat.

Although hit with several right hand shots to the head, the Pi Kap continued his never-ending attack, cornering Warren as the final bell sounded.

Flamporis Wins

Steve Flamporis, Sigma Pi, knocked Tom Gaffney, Sigma Nu, down early in the second round to grab a unanimous decision.

After a fairly even first round, Flamporis caught Gaffney with a solid left hook, and followed with an overhand right to send the Sigma Nu to the canvas.

Flamporis again forced the fighting in the final round, staggering his man once more to walk away with the victory.

'All or Nothing' Ring Test Faces Sugar Ray Tonight

CHICAGO, Dec. 8 (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson's comeback reaches the "all or nothing" stage when the former welterweight and middleweight champ faces Bobo Olson, current middleweight king, in a 15-round title match at Chicago Stadium tonight.

Although Sugar Ray, 35, a dancing dandy in his heyday, may be the sentimental favorite to those who fondly recall his boxing skill, the hard money in the betting marts has made Olson a 3 to 1 choice. If Robinson wins, he'll be the first ever to recapture the 160-pound title twice.

Because Robinson is on display and a title hangs in the balance, the radio-television sponsors are coughing up $75,000 so that the bout may be heard and seen on network NBC broadcasts. Chicago and a 150-mile area, however, will be blacked out on TV to help the gate. The fight starts at 10 p.m. (EST).

Truman Gibson, secretary of the promoting International Boxing Club, talks of a crowd of 12,000 and a gate of $150,000. More conservative estimates put the crowd figure at 9000 and the gate at about $130,000.

Until Olson, 27, ventured out of his class to box Archie Moore for the light heavy crown June 18, he was becoming a superman with the TV audiences. When Moore stopped him in three rounds he became an ordinary mortal.

Why the cool and lively rhythm of the Jerry Miller Combo. Here every Wed. and Fri. Come on to a Thank God it's Friday (TGIF) session and really live.
