15 Advance in IM Boxing; 14 Win Quarter-final Bouts

By LOUIE PRATO

Fifteen men moved a notch closer to the intramural boxing championships as a result of last night's fights in the Recreation Hall boxing ring.

Twelve fraternity men and two independents advanced into the semi-final round. One other boxer entered the quarter-finals.

Delta Upsilon and Phi Kappa Sigma, chief contenders for the fraternity team title, each sent two fighters into the winners' spotlight. One of Phi Kappa Sig's victories was via a forfeit.

The first three bouts ended in close split decision wins for the victors. Gene Foster of Phi Kappa Sig was the winner of the first one. He eliminated Sigma Chi's Wilson Reitz in a 135-lb. event. The bout was even up through the first round, but Foster took the lead in the second stanza to wrap up the decision.

Theta Chi's Tom Smith gained the nod in the next bout, a 155-lb. scrap with Joe Nock of Alpha Chi Sigma. Nock came out of his corner in the first round raring to go. But he tired in the next two periods, giving the cautious Smith a chance to pick up enough points to win.

In a 145-lb. fight, Jack Strange of Phi Kappa Tau removed Theta Chi's Gene Griffin from title consideration with a split decision victory. Although Griffin caught Strange flat-footed a few times in the first two periods, the Phi Tau entry mustered up enough points in the final stanza to get the win.

Harry Stack scored a convincing win over Jim Gabig in a 155-lb. independent match. Both used a crouching style but the taller Stack found the range of his opponent more often.

Stack forced his opponent into the ropes a number of times, but he could not find the right combination to floor Gabig.

DU's first entry, John Pepe, stopped his man in the fastest time of the night, 42 seconds of the first round. Kappa Delta Rho's John Riggs was the victim in the 145-lb. bout.

Pepe came out strong, throwing punches faster than an adding machine could count them. After a brief series of swings, referee Ed Sulkowski stepped in to stop the bout.

Delta Tau Delta's Herb Hollowell and Jim Lockerman, DU's second entry, caught the crowd's fancy in their 175-lb. scrap. Lockerman emerged the winner on a unanimous decision but Hollowell gained the praise of many fans with his die-hard tactics.

In the next attraction, a 165-lb. match, Fred Donahoe of Tau Kappa Epsilon decided Pi Kappa Alpha's Bill Klimek. However, Donahoe had to rally from a first round beating to get credit for the win.

Denny Springer, Delta Chi, moved into the semi-finals in the 135-lb. division with a unanimous decision over Sigma Pi's Jack Abele. Springer, a lefty, carried the fight to his Sigma Pi foe. He opened the first round in a blast of fury and continued his pace throughout the match.

Al Brahm, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, used a strong left jab and a hard right to cop a 175-lb. victory from Lambda Chi Alpha's Ed McSorley. Brahm's better style provided him with the win as he continually chased his opponent around the ring.

Jim Schry, Phi Delta Theta, forced the fighting in his 175-lb. fracas and walked off with a decision over Rog Panfil of Phi Sigma Kappa. Schry was in control all three rounds, and he added to his laurels in the third period when he knocked the Phi Sig man to the canvas.

John Gilleland, another Phi Sig entry, had better luck in his bout with Delta Chi's Jack Transue. Gilleland, with his powerful punching and expert counter punching, forced the bout to be stopped in the second round. The telling blow was a hard left which landed on the head of the loser.

Rog Crawford stormed from behind to capture a 165-lb. independent bout victory over Dick Conway. After a slow first round when Conway was the aggressor, Crawford came to life. He floored his opponent in the second period and kept up his relentless attack through the last round.

In the final bout of the night, Alpha Epsilon Pi's Jerry Abramson gained a unanimous decision over Larry Kramer, Phi Epsilon Pi. The stocky Abramson was in complete charge of the fight except for a brief second-round attack by Kramer.

Guy Tirabassi, Phi Kappa Sigma, and Bob Wenner, Pi Kappa Phi, picked up forfeit wins to move into the semi-finals of the 165 and 175-lb. classes.

Hudcovich Leads Women's Bowling With Blazing 173

Thursday night's bowling club copped this week's honors in WRA bowling when it produced the two top individual scorers and the highest team score.

Mary Hudcovich bowled a blazing 173, thirteen points higher than her teammate and second highest scorer, Charlotte Klippol, who rolled a fiery 156.

The Boozers—boasting a high of 703 for the team average leaders—are way in front of their closest rivals, Wednesday club's Lucky Strikers, who netted a 564 average.

The top ten bowlers of the week are, following Hudcovich and Klippol, Monday club's Patricia Downes 145, and Sandy Reimer 142; Thursday club's India Gray 141; Monday club's Carol Ehman 136; Thursday club's Carol Bradt 134; and Eleanor Strauss 130; and Wednesday club's Barbara Dickerman and Ann Greene 126.

The Gutter Dusters lead Tuesday's club with a 115 average, and Team V holds Monday's club's high to 111.

Barbell Club Weightlifting Action Opens Saturday

Penn State's Barbell Club has announced its seven-man traveling team will journey to Shipensburg for a weight-lifting meet Saturday.

Tom Rothmell will be the club's 123-pound entry. Walter Heiler will enter the 132-pound competition. Charles Givler and Max Amoss will enter the 148-pound bracket.

George Douglas and Harold Clark will be the 165-pound entries, with Fred Barata vying for the 181-pound honors. Ed Claycomb and Allen Otteni, 198-pound performers, and Frank Staninis—heavyweight competition—will round out team personnel.

Although the club faces its first off-campus competition Saturday, an inter-squad novice weightlifting contest, and additional practice have helped condition the team.

Following are the results of the inter-squad novice action:

Rothmell copped the 123-pound honors with 375 points followed by Jim Binford with 285.

Aramando Vega was the winner in the 148-pound class with a 475 score. Len Lev finished second with 435 points and Harris Factor, with 410 points, came in third. Bob Brazilian was fourth with a 370-point score.

In the 165-pound competition, Jim Birdsall emerged the victor with 480 points. Bill Labone was a close second with 475 points.

Rams, Bears In NFL Race

By the Associated Press

The chips will be down Sunday for the Los Angeles Rams and Chicago Bears in the National Football League's Western Conference championship race, but the Cleveland Browns have the Eastern Division title in the bag no matter what happens in their game with the Chicago Cardinals.

Key games in this final week of play in the regular season find the Rams, leading the Western loop by half a game, entertaining the Green Bay Packers at Los Angeles and the second place Bears entertaining the Philadelphia Eagles at Chicago.

Cleveland, which clinched the Eastern crown by defeating Pittsburgh last Sunday, meets the Cardinals in Cleveland.

Stuart Kornreich finished fourth with a 420 score.

Clark recorded the highest score of the meet when he captured the 181-pound honors with 525 points.

There were no entries in either of the 132-pound, 198-pound, or the heavyweight brackets.

Four methods of lifting were used in the meet.

They were the military press lift, the snatch lift, and the clean jerk lift.
