

AEC Designates Pattee As Depository Library

The Atomic Energy Commission has designated the Pattee Library as one of 44 depository libraries in the United States.

These libraries provide reference service in their areas on all the unclassified publications issue by the AEC.

The recommendation that Pattee library be included as a depository, was made by Rep. James E. VanZandt (R-Pa), a senior member of the joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee. VanZandt said the AEC depository contains all unclassified material published by the AEC.

Major items in the University's collection include:

1. Twenty-eight bound volumes of the National Nuclear Energy Series sponsored by the United States Atomic Energy Commission.

2. Nine complete volumes of nuclear science abstracts covering some 50,000 technical reports and general articles published throughout the world.

3. A complete set of the AEC semi-annual reports and such books sponsored by the AEC as "Elements of the Nuclear Reactor Theory," "Sourcebook on Atomic Energy" and "Energy in the Future."

4. Over 7000 unclassified technical reports covering many phases of nuclear science and engineering.

5. Over 40,000 abstract cards describing the AEC classified report literature.

6. A set of library tools such as a filing manual and subject heading list.

The library contains the equivalent of 150,000 printed pages.

VanZandt said the main reason the University was approved as a depository is not only to make information available to the faculty, student body, and residents of central Pennsylvania, but also to scientists employed at the new Curtiss-Wright research and development center at Quehanna, northwest of State College.

Dress Rule Abolished By Nittany

Nittany Council last night voted to allow students living in the Nittany area to dress as they pleased for the Sunday noon meal.

The dress rule was declared unconstitutional last week by the Supreme Court, but it suggested that each council take a vote of its dorm units to decide if it wanted the dress rule to be enforced on Sundays.

The Nittany Council, after a 30 minute discussion, voted 12-7 to abolish the rule.

Members dissenting in the vote said that their dorm units wanted the dress rule to be enforced, and requested the council to table the motion until a more definite vote could be taken to determine the student opinion on the subject.

The motion was rejected because most of the members said that the dress rule had been "tossed around" for weeks, so a definite stand should be taken.

In other action, the council agreed to table a discussion on the opening of dorm lounges until dorm students could further express their views. Council vice-president, Tom Smith, read a letter from the dean of men's office stating that the move to open the lounges would be backed up by the Dean's office.

The council also set Sunday at 7:30 p.m. as the date and time that Christmas decorations will be judged.

AKPsi to Hold Meeting At Lambda Chi Alpha

Alpha Kappa Psi, national business honorary society, will hold a business meeting at 7:30 a.m. tomorrow at Lambda Chi Alpha.

After the meeting Mahlon Robb, president of the Bellefonte Trust Company, will speak to the group. Refreshments will be served.

Third Student Given Penalty For Cheating

A seventh semester student in the College of Mineral Industries yesterday became the third person to be penalized under the new academic honesty plan.

Dean of Men Frank J. Simes said yesterday the student, who Simes declined to name, was placed on disciplinary probation for the remainder of the academic year by his college.

Simes said the student pleaded guilty to premeditated cheating, the second type of offense listed by the academic honesty policy. This type of cheating involves the use of either crib notes or plagiarism when preparing papers or theses.

Under the academic honesty policy, disciplinary probation is placed on a student's record, but may be petitioned off after one school year.

Since the student involved is a senior, he will probably be able to petition to have the probation removed from his record sometime during the spring semester, Simes said. The University rule requires that the student's parents must be notified of the University action.

Police Receive Reports Of Missing Equipment

State College Police Chief John Juba said yesterday that he has received several complaints of tools and building supplies missing from construction jobs in the borough.

Juba said that anyone seeing persons loitering around new construction work after laborers have left should phone the Municipal Building and report it to the police.

Prexy Mentioned In Newsweek Poll

Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of the University, has been mentioned in a Newsweek magazine poll as a possible Republican nominee if President Dwight D. Eisenhower decides not to run.

However, the poll of GOP state chairmen revealed the state leaders feel that President Eisenhower will seek a second term.

Dr. Eisenhower considered by many political insiders as one of President Eisenhower's chief advisers, has been mentioned in several presidential polls.

Why the editor of a great newspaper reads The Reader's Digest

"The Reader's Digest publishes controversial and important articles, regardless of the pressures that may prevail. This is a valid reason for the respect with which The Reader's Digest is read by millions like myself, not only in the United States but throughout the free world."

Ogden Reid, President and Editor, New York Herald Tribune, Inc.

In December Reader's Digest don't miss:

CONDENSATION FROM THE $4.50 BOOK: "THE MIRACLE OF LOURDES." The cures at this Catholic shrine—cures of the hopelessly sick and crippled—have stirred controversy for years. Now a Protestant (who lived in this French town, questioned doctors, nurses and patients) verifies facts about Lourdes and its miracles.

HOW TO WRITE FASTER. Want to double your writing speed in a short time? Here's an easy system of word abbreviation that can help you make full, legible notes in classrooms, at lectures; take messages over the phone—may even help you land a job.

MYSTERY OF EASTER ISLAND. On a remote Pacific isle stand giant, stone-age statues—some weighing 30 tons. Who carved them? How did they get there? Story of one of the world's most baffling mysteries.

REDISCOVERING AMERICA. A real supermarket, Negro major-league ball players, luxury motels, "do-it-yourself" servantless homes—Paul Gallico tells the amazing revolution that greets an American returning to his country after 15 years abroad.
