

Pleas Court Upholds Ruling on Aliens' Payment of Fees

The Philadelphia Common Pleas Court has upheld its earlier ruling that aliens are subject to non-resident tuition fees at the University.

The court took this action as it threw out exceptions filed against a Sept. 6 ruling.

The case involves Friederike Witte, junior in education, a native of Munich, Germany, who gives her address as that of her uncle, Herman Witte, Philadelphia, who filed the exceptions.

Hogan Asks Early Fee Payment

Bursar David C. Hogan has asked that those students who intend to pay their fees for the Spring semester of 1956 by mail do so as early as possible.

This will facilitate the return of the receipt in time for registration, he said.

Letter Mailed to Students

A letter from University Comptroller Samuel K. Hostetter mailed Dec. 27, 1955, reminded students that those planning to register at the main campus for the Spring semester of 1956 are required to pay the regular fees and charges before the time of registration, Hogan said.

Students are urged to pay regular fees early, the letter said, in order to avoid any inconvenience at the time of registration.

Remind Korean Veterans

Students enrolled under Public Law 550 (Korean Veterans) were reminded that the Veterans Administration pays all educational benefits directly to the veteran who is responsible personally to the University for payment of his total fees and charges, Hogan said.

Questions concerning the payment of fees should be addressed to the Office of the Bursar, which will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and until noon on Saturdays. The office will not be closed during lunch hours.

McCarthy Hits Prexy, 2 Others

Republican Senator Joseph R. McCarthy, of Wisconsin, yesterday charged Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of the University, along with two others, with damaging the administration's record, the Associated Press reported.

Paul Hoffman, board chairman of the Studebaker-Packard Corp., and Harold Stassen, special assistant of disarmament to President Dwight D. Eisenhower, were also named by McCarthy.

Discussing the view held by some strategists that the Republican party should campaign for votes mainly on the administration's record, McCarthy said "the record would be much better" if the three were removed from their advisory capacities.

Dr. Eisenhower has twice previously come under attack by McCarthy. On March 16 McCarthy blamed the "holdovers from the Roosevelt regime" and Dr. Eisenhower for the nation's policy of "co-existence" with communism. McCarthy said he favored a more aggressive policy of "liberation" for Soviet satellites.

Again, on May 23, McCarthy attacked Dr. Eisenhower, terming him "the unofficial president of the United States." He said Dr. Eisenhower, in advising the president, was "more than an influence on his brother."

The University's administration has declined to comment on yesterday's statements by McCarthy. Dr. Eisenhower is currently visiting at Key West, Fla., with the President, who is recovering from a September heart attack.

January Grads To Suggest Gift

This year for the first time January graduates of the University will have the opportunity of taking part in the selection of the senior class gift.

The new plan was announced yesterday by Martha McDonald, chairman of the senior class gift committee.

Gift selection boxes will be placed at 5 locations on campus starting today and will be left there until Tuesday. These include the Hetzel Union desk, West Dorms, Simmons, McElwain and Grange Dormitories.

The suggestion boxes are open to any member of the senior class, but because the program was planned especially for January graduates, they are encouraged to submit their suggestions.

Boxes Collected Tuesday

The boxes will be collected Tuesday by members of the Senior Class Advisory Board, who will compose a ballot of the leading suggestions.

January graduates may vote on their selections when they pick up their caps and gowns at the Athletic Store on Jan. 26, 27, 28, and 30.

The top two or three suggestions for the gift will go into another ballot to be prepared in the spring when June graduates will vote. Prior to that time the gift selection boxes will be put up again for the suggestions of June graduates.

$9500 Set Aside

Approximately $9500 has been set aside for the senior class gift, but this amount is subject to change as the year progresses.

Before this year, January graduates had never had a hand in the selection of their class gift. The Senior Class Advisory Board decided to include the January graduates in the gift suggestion program in order to give them more of a share in the activities of their class and to bring more unity to the two graduating classes.

Last year's senior class presented $10,000 to the University for pews and furnishings for the nave of the Helen Eakin Eisenhower Chapel. It was picked over four other suggestions, which were social television facilities, rebuilding of a recreation lodge, a centennial monument, and an endowment fund for the Pattee Library.

Last year was the third year the senior class gift had been contributed toward the chapel program.

Cabinet Cancels Meeting

DIR Student Gets Probation For Cheating

A third semester student in the division of intermediate registration, who was given disciplinary probation for a year, became the fourth student to be penalized under the new academic honesty plan.

Dean of Men Frank J. Simes said yesterday the student was put on probation by his college for possessing crib notes in a chemistry laboratory.

An offense of this type has been labeled premeditated cheating by the disciplinary subcommittee of the Senate Committee on Student Affairs. This type of cheating involves the use of either crib notes or plagiarism when preparing papers or theses.

The newly formulated academic honesty policy provides that the violation will be entered on the student's permanent record. It may be petitioned off after one school year.

The last student to be penalized under the policy was a seventh semester student in mineral industries, who received disciplinary probation for a similar violation on Dec. 12.

Reds Release 1925 Graduate

Mrs. Homer V. Bradshaw, a 1925 graduate of the University, has arrived in America after five years of imprisonment and torture in the hands of the Chinese Reds in Hong Kong, according to the Associated Press.

U.S. Air Force doctors reported that "she is still uncertain of her surroundings." She has not been available for press conferences.

Her husband, a missionary at Linshen in Kwangtung province when they were arrested, said they suffered "abominable treatment" at the hands of the Chinese Communists, including torture.

"It burns me up, the way they treated my wife," Bradshaw said. He blamed the Reds for her "mental depression."

They were accused of spying and maintaining radio contact with Hong Kong, Manila, Tokyo, and the United States in 1951 and were sent to separate prisons.

Ike, Congress Speed Farm Aid Plan

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP)—Congress and President Eisenhower moved quickly today to try to get more money into farmers' pockets and cut down the vast piles of government-owned surpluses.

The election year race to help the farmers—whose income has been falling while the rest of the economy booms—immediately produced one big area of agreement:

There should be a "soil bank" or "fertility bank" scheme under which the government would funnel money to farmers who retire crop land from unnecessary production.

The White House announced on this second day of the new session that Eisenhower will send a special farm message to Congress on Monday.

Chairman Allen J. Ellender (D-La) said the Senate Agriculture Committee had agreed to go to work at once on a broad new farm program and try to have it "on the President's desk by February 15th."

Ellender said he would try to keep the farm relief program out of politics, saying:

"The way farm prices have been going down recently, it hurts Republicans as well as Democrats."

White House secretary James C. Hagerty said at Key West, Fla., that Eisenhower is speeding his program to Congress because of the great importance he attaches to the farm problem.

Republican politicians have expressed frank concern about the crop price situation, with both presidential and congressional elections coming up this fall. Democrats are blaming the administration for the decline, while Republicans reply that the drop got started under farm policies laid down by Democratic regimes.

Farm prices, and income, have been dropping for years. The decline continued in December.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson met at breakfast this morning with members of the House Agriculture Committee. He said afterward, "It will be up to the President to say what his recommendations are."

However, Benson said the recommendations are sure to include the idea of a soil bank. Sen. Ellender said some form of fertility bank would be a key point in the program his committee will whip out.

Under this system, farmers would get government payments for taking land out of production where it would otherwise add to surpluses. The idea is this would get cash to the farmers, and at the same time keep surpluses from building up.
