

New Jordan Government To Stamp Out Disorder

AMMAN, Jordan, Jan. 9 (AP)—A new government took over in Jordan today under royal injunction to stamp out disorder and clean up "disturbing elements," including civil service employees, which have kept the country in an uproar over the Baghdad Pact.

American and official sources said the 14,000-man Arab Legion, Jordan's crack army, was in firm control and the country calm after a weekend of rioting and demonstrations. Only minor demonstrations were reported today. One included the stoning of an American Quaker hospital at Ajloun in eastern Jordan.

Marines Fire in Air
During the disorders, the State Department in Washington reported, the U.S. Marine guard fired in the air Saturday and with other personnel repelled a mob attack on the U.S. consulate in the Jordan-administered section of Jerusalem.

Washington officials and a British Foreign Office spokesman charged that money was paid by Communist sources to foment the antipact disorders and that there were indications Egyptian and Saudi Arabian sources had a hand in encouraging them.

Americans Safe
All Americans were reported safe, including the 300 who normally live in Amman. Many lived here in the Philadelphia Hotel, partly burned Saturday.

The new premier is Samir el Rifai, a deputy premier in the outgoing government who changed places with Ibrahim Hashem. Hashem, Premier of a caretaker regime that had promised to stay out of pacts and hold a new general election in four months, resigned Saturday and now becomes deputy premier.

Mediation Confabs Resume Tomorrow

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9 (AP)—Another meeting of company and union officials was set up today in an effort to end the Westinghouse Electric Corp. walkout, now in its 13th week.

John R. Murray, federal mediation director for the Philadelphia region, announced Robert D. Blasler, Westinghouse vice president of industrial relations, and James B. Carey, president of the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers, had agreed to confer with him here Jan. 11.

BELLEFONTE Adults: 55c Child: 25c
PIAZA TODAY & WED.
Van Heflin - Joanne Woodward
"Count Three and Pray" in CinemaScope!

Tonite & Wed. Nite BELLEFONTE
STATE
Joseph COTTON
"SPECIAL DELIVERY"
also—"Case of The Red Monkey"

STATE
LAST TIMES TODAY
"DIANE"
Starring Lana Turner
Starts Tomorrow
Alfred Hitchcock's
"THE TROUBLE WITH HARRY"

*CATHAUM
• NOW SHOWING •
Feature: 1:00, 3:12, 5:24, 7:36, 9:48
Gary Cooper in
THE COURT MARTIAL OF BILLY MITCHELL
CinemaScope, Warner Color

*NITTANY
Tonite - Doors Open 6 p.m.
"A wondrous and magical picture!"—N.Y. Times
Hans Christian Anderson's
"The EMPEROR'S NIGHTINGALE"
Enchanting in Color!

Nixon Feted; Gets Backing For VP Post

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon got plaudits from Republicans—and some influential backing for second place on an Eisenhower ticket—on his 43rd birthday today.

Democratic reaction to a brief GOP salute to Nixon in the Senate was polite but cool. Nixon has been under fire from top Democrats who contend he implied in the 1954 campaign that their party was soft on communism.

Sen. William F. Knowland of California, the Republican floor leader, called the Senate's attention to Nixon's birthday.

Nixon was presiding when Knowland—who might find himself contesting with the vice president for top place on this year's GOP ticket if President Eisenhower doesn't run—praised Nixon's "long and distinguished career."

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, arose to join politely in wishing the vice president many happy birthdays.

If the President doesn't run, Nixon and Knowland might find themselves pitted against each other for top place on the ticket.

Eisenhower has kept the door open for a second term bid but has indicated he won't announce his decision until March or possibly later.

Congress Receives Unemployment Bill

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—An administration bill to help distressed areas lick their unemployment problems was presented to Congress today.

Rep. Ivor D. Fenton (R-Pa) and James E. Van Zandt (R-Pa) introduced it in the House. Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) and nearly a score of other Republican senators introduced it in the Senate.

Emphasizing state and local cooperation, the bill would set up a 50 million dollar revolving fund to provide loans for industrial development and would authorize 1½ million dollars a year in grants for technical assistance.

It also would establish an Area Assistance Administration within the Commerce Department to strengthen and expand the present technical assistance program.

APPEARING NITTANY LION INN TWO-WEEK ENGAGEMENT

THE WIZARD OF KDR
The Man With the Magic Hands

AN EVENING WITH THE WIZARD IS AN OCCASION AT THE NITTANY LION INN

Hunger for an old-fashioned treat that will please your palate, perk up your spirits and take you back—back—to 'The Good Old Days' at Penn State.

Even now we can picture you savoring that first bite combining the delectable flavors of a succulent roast prime rib beef dinner. Yes, we can envision your enjoying this memorable masterpiece to the last tasty bite, and sighing aloud, "Man, oh, man! that's one of the greatest dinners this side of Heaven!" It should be. For its roast beef time at The Nittany Lion Inn.

CURRENTLY FEATURED ARTIST PRESENTING HIS EXCLUSIVE SLEIGHT OF HAND ARTISTRY

WED. - FRI. - SAT. - 7-8 p.m.

THE WIZARD HAS FINISHED SUCCESSFUL APPEARANCES IN THE FINEST HOTELS AND SUPPER CLUBS IN PENNSYLVANIA

- * Fred Waring's—Shawnee Inn
- * Bellevue Stratford—Phila.
- * Ben Franklin Hotel—Phila.

Eisenhower Back on Job

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—President Dwight D. Eisenhower put in a regular working day today—and then took some work "home" with him.

Closing out his first full day at the presidential desk since his Sept. 24 heart attack, Eisenhower also scheduled for 9 a.m. tomorrow a resumption of his weekly meetings with Republican congressional leaders.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President knocked off office work on printers' proofs of his economic message to Congress—to be delivered Jan. 23—about 4 p.m. and returned to the living quarters of the executive mansion. Hagerty said he took some of the proofs with him for further study this evening.

Into his fairly busy day in the executive wing of the White House, Eisenhower also sandwiched in the sending of greetings to Vice President Richard M. Nixon on his 43rd birthday.

He sent to Congress by special message his already controversial "soil bank" plan for farmers, dispatched 155 nominations to the Senate, and conferred on his economic message, due in Congress two weeks from today.

OH, FOR THE LIFE OF A NEWSPAPERMAN!

Look at the campus newspaper you are now holding. An ordinary object, you think? An everyday convenience? Something to be taken for granted?

Faugh, sirs and madams! Faugh, I say! Don't you know what prodigies of skill and labor and organization and art and science go into the making of your campus newspaper?

Come, I'll show you. I'll take you to a typical office of a typical newspaper on a typical campus.

The editor—let's call him D. Fermin Bohorquez, a typical enough name—calls his staff together first thing in the morning. "All right, you guys," he says, lighting a Philip Morris, which, naturally, is the favorite cigarette of newspapermen, and of anybody else who knows a hawk from a handsaw. "All right, you guys," says D. Fermin, "this here ain't no ladies whist society, this here is a newspaper. So get out there and get the news. Get it first, get it quick, get it right! Ed, you cover the ag campus. Phil, you cover the school of mines. Wally, you cover home ec. Sam, you cover buildings and grounds. Ethel, you cover the men's gym. . . . All right, get going!"

... Ethel, you cover the men's gym.

With many a laugh and cheer, the reporters light up Philip Morrises, favorite cigarette of the young and agile, and dash away on their assignments.

D. Fermin retires to his office to smoke a Philip Morris and write a fearless editorial scolding the university for not buying patches for the worn-out elbows of the chess team.

On the rim of the copy desk three rewrite men—Tensing, Hillary, and Laverne—sit poised and expectant, waiting for the reporters to phone in their stories. They smoke Philip Morris, favorite cigarette of the poised and expectant. Tensing's phone rings first; it is Ed calling from the ag campus.

"Stop the presses!" cries Ed. "Got a scoop! Hunrath T. Sigafos, professor of curds and whey, has just sold his article The Romance of Butterfat to the Drovers and Poulterers Monthly."

On another phone Sam is calling from buildings and grounds. "Tear out the front page!" he cries. "Got an exclusive! Harold 'Pop' Wishnograd, superintendent of buildings and grounds, today announced the purchase of a new doormat for the vestibule of Burton Hall. The last doormat, it will be recalled, was eaten by a pledge named Norman Harringay for his Chi Psi initiation."

Meanwhile, elsewhere in the city room, Gaglia Questover, vivacious and ubiquitous gossip columnist, sits smoking a Philip Morris, favorite cigarette of the vivacious and ubiquitous, and typing out her chatty, informative tidbits: "Maureen Valgerholtz, popular Theta, announced her engagement last night to Webster Scuff, Oliver Jenkins, Cosmo Erskine, and Walter Penn Dowdy. Wedding dates have been set for June 9, June 24, July 5, and July 18 respectively. Good luck, Maureen! . . . Irving 'Behemoth' Anselm, popular fullback, blew out 120 feet of esophagus yesterday while inflating a football. Good luck, Irving 'Behemoth'! . . . Robin Kroveney, popular Deke last year, this year popular pfc. in the U. S. Army, writes friends that he has been convicted of deserting his post and will be executed on April 28. Good luck, Robin!"

And now, friends, we take our reluctant leave of the drama, the action, the tension, the glamor, the churning, the seething, the rolling, the sturm und drang of the wonderful world of journalism. Aloha, journalism, aloha!

©Max Shulman, 1954

The makers of Philip Morris, who sponsor this column, have got some news for you too. It's today's new gentle Philip Morris in today's bright new package of red, white, and gold.