

Tower Nears Completion As Construction Work Progresses on Campus

The new water tower being constructed in Hort Woods is nearly completed and will soon be painted prior to final testing.

The tank will supplement the present tower for general water supply on campus.

It is being built by Berkebile Construction Co., of Johnstown, and the Pittsburgh-De-

Eng Council Asks Students To Use Walks

The Engineering and Architecture Student Council members were urged Tuesday to encourage students not to take short cuts across campus.

The Council announced it had heard reports that students were crossing over chains along the roadway to the Hetzel Union Building and trampling grass on their way to the building.

Students have also been seen crossing the wall along College Avenue onto the grass, the council noted. It voiced disapproval of short-cuts, claiming that "walkers" cause more damage this time of the year than any

A Phi Omega, national fraternity, conducts a campaign each spring to keep students from walking on the grass. Stroup, sophomore in engineering, asked that engineering students improve their dress by wearing white shirts and ties. "Barnyard costumes are bad attractions on students," he said.

The topic came up after faculty members had suggested students improve their dress in classrooms. The Council also heard a report on the proposed Student Book Store.

Junior Vote--

(Continued from page one)

students, she added.

What information we can receive from NSA can be obtained through other means, she went on to say.

In mentioning opposition brought out by other students, Miss Conklin said that NSA has been accused of political dabbling; it has been called a "scapegoat" and that Cabinet money could be used more advantageously here at the University.

Martha Fleming, junior in home economics from Huntingdon, said that she doesn't think that the University is ready to become a member of NSA at present.

Bahrenburg and Land pointed out that they felt that the Daily Collegian had shown bias when it printed the statements of Robert Bullock, Interfraternity Council president, in Wednesday's Collegian. In the story Bullock outlined his opinions against NSA.

Bahrenburg asked the board if they thought that it is necessary for a Cabinet representative to vote according to the majority feeling of the group he is representing.

Members of the group said that a Cabinet representative should vote according to the wishes of a representative and informed group. However, a Cabinet representative has the power as an elected officer to vote according to his own opinion.

Dr. George W. Atherton became the University's seventh president in 1882.

FIVE O'CLOCK THEATRE
THURS., JAN. 12
 A Lyrical Dance
'Theme of Love'
 with
 Clyde Gore and Betty Love
LITTLE THEATRE
 Basement of Old Main

90 LaVie Promotions Announced

Ninety promotions to the sophomore board of the LaVie staff have been announced by Paul Beane, managing editor.

Those promoted are Joanne Adair, Betty Adelson, Suzanne Aiken, Elaine Alexander, June Ament, Joan Bastian, Barbara Bickham, Barbara Bollinger, Loretta Bricker, Edna Bright, Harry Brown, Mollie Buckley, Doris Citrin, Sarah Davis, Katherine Dickson, Geraldine Dietz, Adam Di-Domenico, Florinda Donato.

Linda Ely, Anne Francis, James Franklin, Dorothy Gardner, Bette Gichner, Samuel Glick, Mary Gower, Patience Griffin, Edith Gross, Patricia Grossman, Jack Halpern, Harriet Harper, James Hart, Joan Heilman, Phyllis Hodges, Nancy Horst, Ralph Houp, Josephine Hough, Barbara Hunter.

Carolyn Johnson, Carol Jones, Frederic Keck, Carol Keplinger, Margaret King, Gerald Kleinstub, Janice Krug, Blanche Kurtz, Patricia Lumbard, Dennis McArver, Edward McSorley, Marianne Maier, Marlene Marks, Dorothy Mawson, Mary Mertz, Patricia Miernicki, Patricia Miller, Marguerite Neilson, Eleanor Oscilowski, Zoe Oser.

Carol Palmer, Leslie Philla- baum, Mary Raup, Janet Remaly, Barbara Rilling, Gail Rolle, Sally Rolston, Myrna Samuels, Nancy Seaman, Patricia Silk, Lois Stonebraker, Marie Theirwechter, Patricia Tomilson, Janet Townsend, Carol Turner, Joan Vitartas, Mary Ann Wagner, Caroline Waite, Michael Walker, Joan Wallace, Glenda Willard, Diane Wanner, Barbara Wragg, Robert Yeager, Constance Yeschka, Huberta Young, Nan Zimmerman, Dorothy Zglinski, William Kerns, William Meckling, Elaine Hoffman, Susan Straight, and Nancy Wisely.

The same office hours will be kept by the new board.

New Dispersion Standards Set For Industry

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (AP)—The government today adopted a new policy for dispersing essential industry. It replaces standards made out of date by the vast destructive reach of today's H-bombs and the intercontinental missiles of the future.

The Office of Defense Mobilization issued an order calling on each company which builds a new plant to locate it outside the presumed range of the kind of bomb most likely to be dropped on its city.

The Commerce Department will make an individual decision on each plant site, except in the case of military projects when the Defense Department will have final say.

The mobilization agency thus abandoned the arbitrary dispersion rule that plants should be 10 miles from the rim of a target area. ODM's director, Arthur S. Flemming, has declared the mileage rule to be "obsolete under new weapons conditions."

In its place the administration has adopted a policy which can be altered to meet local conditions and is sufficiently elastic to be revised without difficulty as new and more powerful weapons come into being.

Lieske to Investigate 'Rumored' Car Ban

Bruce Lieske, president of the Association of Independent Men, told the AIM Board of Governors last night that he would personally investigate the matter of a ban on sophomore cars on campus next year.

The matter was initially referred to the projects committee but Lieske said that he would ask Wilmer E. Kenworthy, director of student affairs, whether this policy has come up for consideration.

Several members of the board of governors said that they had heard "rumors" to the effect that a sophomore car ban would be put into effect next year.

Prior Investigations Fail

Earlier in the year the projects committee investigated possibilities of easing the present freshman car ban for veterans. When this idea died, a similar request was made pertaining to freshmen over the age of 21. Nelson Seidel, projects committee chairman, reported that after some weeks of compiling facts and figures on the matter, that idea also fell through.

Although Seidel told the board of governors that the plan for having season tickets for the ice-skating rink is dead, the idea still hung on for further discussion when the board of governors asked the recreation committee to talk with Ernest B. McCoy, dean of the College of Physical Education and Athletics, to clarify exactly how the student fee to the Athletic Association is spent.

Ticket Plan Rejected

Seidel said that McCoy could see no possible way for a student season ticket plan to be put into effect. McCoy repeatedly maintained that such a plan would only add the losses that have been incurred by the rink. However, Harry Martini, AIM treasurer, said he felt that McCoy was overlooking the student fee to the Athletic Association in coming to his decision.

Finally, the board decided to have the recreation committee find out exactly how the student fee is spent.

Lieske announced that Edward Dubbs, sophomore in journalism from Waynesboro, has been named editor of the AIM Handbook. Another appointment was that of John McCabe, senior in chemical engineering from Troy, as acting chairman of the AIM Judicial Board of Review.

Home Economics Students

Home Economics students who received a questionnaire in the December copy of "News & Views" are requested to fill it out and place it in the box in the foyer of the Home Economics Building.

The number of the University's trustees was increased from 12 to 23 in 1875.

Camera Darkroom To Close Monday

The Camera Club darkroom in the Hetzel Union Building will be closed from noon until 5 p.m. on Monday, January 21, so equipment may be cleaned.

The darkroom will remain open during finals and semester vacation, according to Joseph Rohrbaugh, club president.

The next meeting will be held at 7 p.m. February 7 in 214 HUB. Dues for the spring semester will be collected at this meeting.

3 Journ Professors Judge News Contests

Three members of the department of journalism served as judges for the annual daily and weekly news story contests conducted by the Virginia Press Association Inc., Richmond, Va.

They were Charles H. Brown, associate professor of journalism; Dr. Guido H. Stempel, instructor in journalism; and Dr. James W. Markham, associate professor and head of the department of news and editorial journalism.

BELLEFONTE Adults: 55c Child: 25c
PLAZA TODAY & FRIDAY
 Jane Wyman - Charlton Heston
LUCY GALLANT - in color!

Last Times TONITE BELLEFONTE
STATE
 Lex Barker - Patricia Medina
 Duel on Mississippi - color!
 also - DEVIL GODDESS

CATHAUM
 • BEGINS SUNDAY •
 JANE WYMAN
 ROCK HUDSON
"ALL THAT HEAVEN ALLOWS"
 in Technicolor

NITTANY
 Now - Doors Open 6 P.M.
 HILDEGARDE NEFF
"SVENGALI"

• COMING SUNDAY •
 Comedy of the Year
"HOLIDAY FOR HENRIETTA"

Encampment Ideas To Be Discussed

Ideas brought forth at the Student Encampment last summer and their relationship to the College of Home Economics will be discussed by faculty members and students of the College at 4 p.m. Tuesday in the Living Center.

Representing the faculty will be the Executive Committee of the College of Home Economics. Students include 13 members who attended the Student Encampment in addition to eight other leaders from the College.

The group will discuss what can be done to aid the program of the student, faculty, and administration working together.

State Reviews Taxes

HARRISBURG (AP)—Rep. Readinger, House Democratic floor leader, expressed guarded optimism on the outcome of new tax compromise conferences starting today.

Genuine Italian PIZZA
 from
LA GALERIA

Made from the finest of Italian products, mozzarella cheese, pepperoni, fresh mushrooms, golden tomato sauce, anchovies, and our own dough made in The Pastry Spot.

Call or stop in after 7:30 p.m. See your PIZZA made with the toppings that you specify.

AD 8-6765 233 E. Beaver Ave.

TIM
Lollipop Ball

New AIM Band
Friday, Jan. 13
 9 - 12
HUB Ballroom