

AIM Judicial Recommends Probation for 3 in WH

The Association of Independent Men's Judicial Board of Review last night recommended to the dean of men's office that a senior in arts and letters and two freshmen, one in aeronautical engineering and the other in hotel administration, be placed on probation.

All three were from the West Hall area. The senior was from Hamilton and the two freshmen from Watts.

Alumni Give University Record Sum

Graduates of the University last year contributed a record $234,218.79 to the Centennial Alumni Fund, Ray S. Tannehill, fund chairman, said.

At the same time, plans were started for the fourth annual fund which will be directed by George S. Rose, secretary of the American Iron and Steel Institute, New York.

The total amount received in 1955 topped the previous one-year high by nearly $100,000, and the number of contributors, which totaled 12,134 alumni, also established a new record. Approximately 28 per cent of the alumni solicited made contributions.

Money contributed each year to the Alumni Fund is used for projects at the University for which appropriated funds are not available.

Bernard Taylor, executive director of the Penn State Foundation which administers the fund, explained that a large percentage of the contributions received last year will be used toward constructing and furnishing the All-Faith Chapel and toward Alumni Memorial Scholarships and other scholarships.

More than 4000 class agents participated in the 1955 Centennial Fund.

Huntsinger Dies After Long Illness

John E. Huntsinger, who was graduated from the University last year, died Jan. 10 following a prolonged illness.

Mr. Huntsinger received his bachelor's degree in agronomy and was employed by the Agriculture Extension Department of Beaver County. While attending the University he was a member of the Clover Club and vice president of Alpha Gamma Rho.

He is survived by his wife, the former Patricia Jancar.

Alessandro to Lead Ed Panel Discussion

An open panel discussion will be led by Dr. Joseph Alessandro, assistant professor of elementary education, at a meeting of the local chapter of American Childhood Education International at 7 tonight in Atherton lounge.

The panel will discuss their work with migrant children last summer in Potter County.

Phi Mu Alpha to Meet

Phi Mu Alpha, music honorary society, will meet at 9 tonight in I17 Carnegie.

In the first case the two freshmen were recommended for both office and board probation for their part in a firecracker incident on the second floor of Watts Hall.

Both admitted lighting and exploding two firecrackers on the afternoon of Jan. 16. They also admitted complete knowledge of the state law and University regulation prohibiting the use of firecrackers.

Firecrackers From Home

One of the students said that he brought the firecrackers back to school from home after the Christmas vacation. The first firecracker was set off inside a milk carton and the second was lighted and thrown down a flight of stairs in the direction of an open room. Both mentioned the fact that there were quite a number of other students gathered around at the time of the incident who encouraged the action but they did not divulge the names of any of these students.

In considering the case the board brought up the matter of using the "hours" penalty which has been used only once this year. However it was voted down.

Beer Bottles Found

The second case of the night involved a case in which five unopened bottles of beer were found in the room of a senior on the third floor of Hamilton Hall.

The senior was recommended for judicial and office probation. This means he will be subject to call from the dean of men's office at any time for consultation. The judicial probation means that he will be subject to call by the judicial board for attendance at any particular meeting.

The senior said that the bottles were brought there by a friend from downtown and that at no time did he drink any of the beer. He added that the friend arrived with two packs of beer and while he was in the room drank one of them. This worsening his already intoxicated condition, the friend was put to bed. The student said the friend left the room about two o'clock in the morning without the beer. He admitted neglect in removing the beer the next morning. He said he merely put the unopened beer cans on the window ledge and left the room. The beer was discovered by a maid who reported it to the counselor.

Goodwin to Air New Constitution At TIM Meeting

James Goodwin, parliamentarian, will present a new constitution at a meeting of Town Independent Men to be held at 8 tonight in 216 Hetzel Union.

Robert Cole, TIM president, said the new constitution contains only minor revisions from the former draft.

Cole said TIM will also discuss plans for a Mother's Day dance to be held in May. He said tentative plans call for the crowning of a queen.

Final plans for the TIM ice mixer to be held from 8 to 10 p.m. Friday Feb. 17 at the University rink will be discussed.

Cole reminded potential TIM members that they may vote after attending one meeting although they are not considered official TIM members until attending two consecutive meetings.

German Language Movie To Be Shown Tonight

The German movie Der Apfel ist ab or The Original Sin will be shown at 7:30 tonight in Mineral Science auditorium and at 3 p.m. Sunday in 121 Sparks.

The film, a musical comedy, is a German post-war production. The performances, sponsored by the German Department, are open to all students. Admission is free.

UBA Shows Sales Drop Yesterday

The Used Book Agency reported a drop in sales yesterday, after being swamped throughout Orientation Week with students buying and selling books.

The sales drop, according to John Knaff, UBA manager, is probably due to the fact that books have not been accepted in courses other than Business Administration, Engineering, history and literature since Monday.

The UBA will be open today until 9 p.m. and until 5 p.m. tomorrow and Friday. It will close at noon Saturday until next semester.

Starting today books purchased at the UBA which are no longer in use or in any other way unacceptable for a particular course may be returned and refunded.

The UBA will return money for those books that have been sold and also unsold books beginning Feb. 20.

The Book Exchange, sister organization to the UBA, has been swamped with customers during the Orientation period.

The BX carries everyday school supplies including loose leaf binders and fillers, clip boards, pencils and pens, and spiral bound notebooks, and art supplies.

Student Employment Service Offers 1500 Summer Jobs

Looking for a summer job? Your worries are over because the Student Employment Service has jobs for 1500 students who are interested in working for summer camps and resorts.

Most of the jobs are for a period of eight weeks and since board and laundry fees are paid by the camp, much of the money earned by counselors during this time is clear profit.

Salaries vary according to the age, semester rating and experience of the counselor, however; because of the great demand for camp workers, experience is not needed.

Last year University students worked in 235 camps and 57 resorts in 14 states including Connecticut, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Hampshire, New York, New Jersey, Ohio, Oregon, Rhode Island, Virginia, Texas and Pennsylvania.

The majority of the counselors were students from the College of Education who consider counseling as paid practice teaching.

Information concerning camping jobs is available in 112 Old Main where a complete file lists the names, positions to be filled and the requirements of each camp.

Maps with the exact location of each camp and folders containing additional information are also available to students.

Many camps sent representatives to the University to interview applicants. Students interested in these camps should sign up in 112 Old Main a week in advance for the interview.

A Campus-to-Career Case History

Dick Abraham of Bell Telephone Laboratories, here experimenting with closing the loop on a transistor feedback amplifier.

"I'm working with top names and top talent"

That's one of Richard P. Abraham's comments about his career with Bell Telephone Laboratories in Murray Hill, N. J. "In 1954, after I'd received my M.S. from Stanford," Dick continues, "I was interviewed by a number of companies. Of these I liked the Bell Labs interview best—the interviewer knew what he was talking about, and the Labs seemed a high-caliber place."

"The Labs have a professional atmosphere, and I'm really impressed by my working associates. As for my work, I've been on rotating assignments—working with transistor networks and their measurement techniques, studying magnetic drum circuitry, and doing classified work on Nike. This experience is tremendous.

"In addition to the job, I attend Lab-conducted classes on a graduate level several times a week. Besides that, the Labs are helping me get a Ph.D. at Columbia by giving me time off to get to late afternoon classes. That's the kind of co-operation you really appreciate from your company."

"What are important to me are the opportunities offered by the job and the work itself. My wife and I own a house near Murray Hill, and we've found a lot of friends through the Labs. All in all, I think I'm in the right kind of place."

Dick Abraham is typical of the many young men who are finding their careers in the Bell System. Similar career opportunities exist in the Bell Telephone Companies, Western Electric and Sandia Corporation. Your placement officer has more information about these companies.
