

Johnson, Winding to Play In Jazz Concert Tomorrow

By CAROL GIBSON

The Penn State Jazz Club will bring J. J. Johnson and Kai Winding, duo-trombonists, and their quintet to Schwab Auditorium for a concert at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Tickets are available at the Hetzel Union desk for $1. The trombonists will be backed by a drum, bass, and piano. The performers are not known.

HEc Council Plans Program For Spring

Members of the Home Economics Student Council listened to an outing of projects that the Council will sponsor for the Home Economics Spring Weekend at a meeting Tuesday night.

The Spring Weekend is scheduled for April 21 and 22. The Council will enter one display from each of the twelve major curriculums in the College of Home Economics.

One person from every curriculum will be present at the display at all times throughout the weekend to discuss highlights of the display and to answer questions for the high school students who will attend the weekend. Students from all parts of Pennsylvania and other guests are expected.

Luther Walbridge, senior hotel administration major from Wellsboro, is chairman of the Council project assisted by Susan Hill, junior home economics major from Old Greenwich, Conn.

Beau Barnes, sophomore home economics major from Arlington, Va., was appointed representative to the Council to replace Joan Carter, senior home economics major from Tunkhannock, who has resigned.

Architecture Fund Open to Juniors

A new award to be known as the Glen-Gery Shale Brick Corp. Award, will be made to third year architecture students in competition for a design project.

The award will start this year with the company providing $250 annually which may be given as one award or divided as several prizes. This will be determined by a selection committee which will consist of members of the architectural design staff and a representative of the donor.

Drama Ticket Sale At HUB For 'Innocents'

Tickets are on sale for $1 at the Hetzel Union desk for the thesis production of "The Innocents" which will open for a two week-end run at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Extension Conference Center. The play will also be given Saturday and Feb. 17 and 18.

Ticket sales at the Hetzel Union desk will close at 5 p.m. Friday, and the remaining tickets will be on sale at the door.

Miss May Directs Play
Nancy May, graduate in dramatics from Elizabeth, will direct the production as part of the work toward her master's degree. "The Innocents" is a two-act suspense drama based on the short story "The Turn of the Screw" by Henry James. William Archibald adapted the play from the short story.

The leading roles are played by two children, Carol Mansell as Flora and Walter Ebaugh as Miles. Carol is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard E. Mansel Jr., of State College. She is a fourth grade student at Easterly Parkway School.

Appeared in 2 Productions
Walter, a seventh grade student at State College Junior High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ebaugh of State College. He has appeared in two Players' productions, "Medea" and "First Day of Summer."

Other members of the cast include Mrs. Kelly Yeaton of State College as Miss Gideons and Mrs. Joetta Laing, junior in arts and letters from State College as Mrs. Grose.

he also taught at a music conservatory in the Bronx.

In 1952 Johnson was forced to give up his professional career to take a job as a quality control inspector in a New York factory, which he held until he joined Winding two years ago.

Winding was born in Denmark and came to the United States around 1934. His first major job was with Sunny Dunham's orchestra in 1941.

When he joined the Coast Guard in 1942 Winding played with the Coast Guard Band at Curtis Bay, Maryland.

In 1945 Winding joined the Benny Goodman orchestra, and the following year he switched to the Stan Kenton group. It was with Kenton that Winding gained recognition for himself as a soloist.

Hey There! You with the Valentine in Mind!

Time is getting short for you to pick up a card or gift for him or her before cupid's favorite day. We claim cupid's own touch with all kinds of cards . . . and gifts . . .

Fuzzy little animals that look just right in a coed's room. There are cats, dogs and even little skunks . . . each a delight.

Perhaps something as personal as a decorated, matching lipstick and powder case. Smart modern design, coupled with soft femininity make this the perfect "Hi Honey" gift.

P.S. We also have our February Angel who literally carries her heart around for all to see.
