

Lion, Campus Parties To Hold Nominations

The political scene will come to life again tomorrow night when both parties hold the second round of clique meetings to nominate candidates for the All-University elections.

In addition to the clique meetings, the steering committees of both parties will meet at 2 p.m. tomorrow as they have done for the past two weeks to plan party policy and organization.

Last week no nominations for any of the All-University or class offices were made.

Rushing Begins Monday; Coke Dates Planned

Informal rushing will begin Monday with coke dates in the sorority suites from 1 to 5 p.m. and 6:30 to 8 p.m.

Eighteen women including six freshmen have registered for informal rushing which will last all semester. Women must sign lists before 5 p.m. March 19 in the dean of women's office in 105 Old Main in order to be eligible to rush, according to Mrs. R. Mae Shultz, adviser to Panhellenic Council.

Upperclass women, to be eligible to rush, are required to have a 2.0 All-University average and second semester women are required to have a 2.3 All-University average to qualify for rushing. First semester women are ineligible to rush.

Women will be invited by written invitations from the sororities. They will reply in writing directly to the sorority.

Rushes may receive a bid anytime after the first week of informal rushing. They are given one week to reply and must send their replies to the sorority through the dean of women's office.

FMA Nomination Blanks Available in Old Main

Nomination blanks for membership on the Fraternity Marketing Association board of trustees are available in the dean of men's office, 109 Old Main.

Forms must be filled out by March 10.

To be eligible for board of trustee membership, a student must be a junior or senior and a member of a fraternity belonging to FMA.

William Snyder, Campus party vice-clique chairman, was elected to fill the position of clique chairman John Abele who vacated his post for personal reasons. He had replaced Allen Davies earlier this year. David Richards was unopposed in an election for the vice-clique chairmanship.

Registration Deadline

Tomorrow night is the last opportunity students will have to register with the Elections Committee for party membership. Students must register and receive clique cards in order to be eligible to vote in the final candidate elections the following Sunday. If students registered last Sunday they are not required to register again.

Clique cards distributed by the Elections Committee during last fall's primaries are not valid for this election. Last Sunday, 166 students registered with Campus party and 108 with Lion.

Final Nominations

The final nominations will be held next Sunday at the last clique meetings.

Campus party will meet in 10 Sparks and Lion party in 121 Sparks.

Lion party will hold its steering committee meeting in 217 Willard tomorrow afternoon and Campus party will meet in 108 Willard.

The party platforms will be presented to the Elections Committee at 8 p.m. next Wednesday in 9 Carnegie. The platforms must be presented to the committee and approved before they can be used by the parties.

"Alchemist" to Appear

"The Alchemist," a Players' production, will appear at 8 tonight at Center Stage.

Tickets may be obtained at the door. This is the second of the five weeks the show will run.

Bus Ad Council to Meet

The Business Administration Student Council will meet 6:45 p.m. Monday in 103 Willard to elect officers.

Nominations For WSGA Close Monday

Monday is the last day for filing self-nomination applications for positions in Women's Student Government Associations.

Primary and final elections will be conducted in woman's dormitories on March 13 and 15.

Applications are available in the dean of women's office.

WSGA positions to be filled are president, vice president, treasurer, senior senator, a junior senator, and a town senator. Requirements for candidates include an All-University average of 2.5 and no major judicial record.

Nominees for WSGA president must be sixth semester students with at least one year's experience on the WSGA Senate.

Other individual requirements are vice president, fourth semester; treasurer, second or third semester; senior senator, sixth semester; junior senator, third or fourth semester; sophomore senator, second or third semester; and town senator, any semester, but first.

Runner-up for the presidency becomes secretary, and runner-up for the vice presidency becomes a junior senator.

Nominees will be screened Tuesday night in the WSGA office by members of the executive committee and Roseanne Fortunato, elections committee chairman.

Nominees will meet from 8 to 9 p.m. Monday in 215 Hetzel Union.

Town Women to Meet

Freshman town women will meet at 2 p.m. today in the commuters' room of Woman's Building to nominate a representative for May Day Queen.

VP Will Be Concern Of GOP Convention

By LIANNE CORDERO

The big battle in the Republican national convention this year will be choosing a vice presidential candidate according to Dr. R. Wallace Brewster, professor of political science.

Dr. Brewster spoke to the Young Democratic Club on "Why the Republicans and Democrats?" Thursday night.

"It's not a matter of principle; it's political expediency," Dr. Brewster said in explaining the Republican block against Vice President Richard M. Nixon. When a member of the audience asked Dr. Brewster whom President Dwight D. Eisenhower will want as Republican vice presidential candidate, Dr. Brewster replied "Ike can steam-roller any man through."

Minor Party Differences

Dr. Brewster confined most of his talk to explaining the differences between Republicans and Democrats. The extremely complex situation in representing all parts of the country causes "floating blocks" to develop, he said. After an election Congressmen from the same sections band together regardless of party lines in order to push legislation, he said.

Dr. Brewster also said that "we tend to overemphasize the differences among the population. Men as different as Hoover and Roosevelt agreed in most instances—even economy." "The basic difference between Ike and Stevenson is not so great as many people would like to assume as far as basic American institutions."

"What can a representative government do more than represent? Cleavage would only come from extreme problems not present now," Dr. Brewster said.

Differences Intangible

Dr. Brewster explained that there are minor differences between the two parties in regard to foreign policy and tariffs that date from the formation of the Republican party in the 1850's. He stressed the fact that there is still enough difference between Republican and Democrat policies to be able to pick a party but that the difference is intangible.

Dr. Brewster explained that Eisenhower and Stevenson vary in their "centers of gravity." Stevenson represents labor, civil rights, and small farmer as compared to Eisenhower and the business man, he said. Both men will try to bring out these differences and use a variety of skills and approaches in the coming campaign, he said.

Dr. Brewster called our party system "an old shoe, comfortable political system—full of paradoxes but successful in yielding to imperative demands."

18 Register With Dean To Tutor

Eighteen students have registered to tutor under the service being offered by the Dean of Men's Office, William B. Crafts, assistant to the Dean of Men has announced.

Crafts termed the group "fairly representative," and said he was satisfied with the turnout thus far. However, he said, he definitely needs more tutors, especially in the fields of the liberal arts, engineering, and agriculture.

Register by Friday

Tutors have been requested to register at the office by Friday, March 10, so that a tentative list of available tutors can be sent to residence hall counselors by Monday, March 13.

Students who wish to be tutored will be referred to eligible tutors as soon as these lists are distributed, Crafts said.

Tutors Registered

Students have registered to tutor in courses in mathematics, mechanics, physics, zoology, chemistry, geo-physics, geology, political science, journalism, typing, English composition, psychology, and accounting.

To be eligible to tutor a student must have received a grade of B or better in a course in his major field in which he wishes to tutor.
