

Construction Projects Report Steady Progress

Workmen on the Hall of Americas classroom building expect to be out of the ground in about six weeks, and the west wing of the University Hospital is ready for plastering. Structural steel for the new classroom building being constructed between Osmond Laboratory and the University Hospital is expected to arrive by mid-April. Workmen hope to be ready to begin putting the framework up by that time.

LA Council Nominates 4 For Officers

Four students were nominated last night for offices on the Liberal Arts Student Council. Elections will be held March 21 and 22 in connection with All-University elections. Richard Schriger was nominated for president; Robert Nurock and Robert Steele were nominated for vice president; and Helena Morais was nominated for secretary-treasurer. Nominations will remain open until the next meeting on March 12. The council voted to award one $100 scholarship based on need and scholastic achievement with the stipulation that the recipient must be a student who has no other scholarship from the University. The scholarship will be awarded in the Spring of 1956 to be used for the Fall semester. This is the first time that the Council has established a scholarship. The Council also discussed the possibilities of a faculty evaluation plan for this Spring and of a big-brother plan in the College of the Liberal Arts for freshman next fall.

Compensations-

Supreme Court should hear the case anyhow. Lutter told the court that he thought that any student who would take the time to prepare a valid case against student government legislation deserved to have his case acted upon. He added that the students who would take the trouble to do this are few in number, so that he felt the court had no fears of being deluged with cases involving Cabinet legislation. The court did not set up any further procedure on hearing cases as they had originally intended. Meyers said he feels that the section of the All-University constitution dealing with the Supreme Court is in need of drastic revision. Therefore the court did not, at this time, take measures to define procedure for hearing cases, he said. The constitution, at present, only provides for the membership and chairmanship of the court and states that it shall act as an appellate court to judge on questions of legislation passed by student government groups and to resolve questions involving the Student Government Association constitution.

The plastering of the west wing of the hospital was to have begun yesterday, but the plasterers failed to show, according to a workman.

The east wing is far from being ready for plastering. In fact, the roofing has not as yet been completed.

Water Tower Set for Use

In two other major construction jobs, the new water tank constructed behind the site for the Helen Eakin Eisenhower Memorial Chapel in Hort Woods is expected to be put into use in the next several weeks, and work is progressing "nicely" on the meditation chapel.

The water tank, which holds 750,000 gallons of water, will, with the present one beside Beaver Field, give the University a water reserve of 1.25 million gallons.

Plastering Begun

Plastering has begun on the meditation chapel, which is expected to be finished by the fall semester. The entire Helen Eakin Eisenhower Memorial Chapel will be completed over a period of a few years. The final completion date will depend primarily on availability of funds.

The University has requested grants from the General State Authority, which is now seeking to increase its borrowing power, the several new buildings and additions to present buildings. The projects total over $17 million.

ZBT to Construct Fraternity House

Zeta Beta Tau fraternity, 227 East Nittany avenue, is planning to construct a new house on its lot near the 400 block East Fairmount avenue.

The plans, which are in the preliminary stages, are being drawn by an architect. A final decision on construction of the new house is expected about the middle of next month.

Members are planning a modern type of architecture for the house. They purchased the 180-by-330-foot lot on Fairmount avenue in 1952.

Sure 'n Begorra It's the Wearin' Of the Green

The Nittany Lion got it again last weekend. This time the paint was green.

The Lion shrine, which had gone since football season without getting painted, had the word "Dartmouth" smeared on its side about 1 a.m. Saturday.

Ironically, the University played a tripleheaded with the University of Pittsburgh that day, and the fall paint job saw "Pitt" on the Lion, when the Penn State-Pitt game was three weeks away.

Captain Philip A. Mark of Campus Patrol figures it was a fraternity prank.

The paint was of water base and the hose was put to the Lion about 8 a.m. Saturday.

Clover Club Speaker

Willard Study Rooms Open

The University will open two rooms in Willard Hall for use as study rooms starting tomorrow. Two seminar type rooms with long tables, 107 and 204, will be open from 7 to 11 p.m. for study purposes.

The idea will be an experimental one, and will be discontinued if proved useless.

Several students presented the plan to University officials because they felt there were many students who are handicapped by lack of satisfactory study space.

The rooms are not for students living in fraternity houses, rooming houses, or dormitories. Wilmer E. Kenworthy, director of student affairs, said yesterday. He said they are for the benefit of students who for various reasons do not have adequate study facilities.

The rooms will be open Monday through Friday nights.
