

University Left Out On Good Old Days

By EVIE ONSA

The "good old days" are nice to look back on, but they can't compare with progress and the modern conveniences that go with it, especially where life at the University is concerned.

Students take for granted the electric lights and heated dormitory rooms—that's only natural—but consider the life of a student back in 1908.

Songs Chosen For IFC Sing

The songs required for the Interfraternity Sing contest for Greek Week will be "Blue and White" for fraternities and "Halls of Ivy" for sororities.

The preliminaries in the contest will be from 9 to 11 p.m. Thursday, April 12, in 110 Electrical Engineering; from 7 to 9 p.m. Friday, April 13, in 110 EE; and from 7 to 9 p.m. Sunday, April 15, in Schwab Auditorium.

Names of six members of the sing committee have been released. They are Catherine Vandenberg, junior in arts and letters from Baltimore, Md.; co-chairman, Donald Smaltz, sophomore in arts and letters from Lebanon; Richard Thier, junior in music education from Pittsburgh; Thomas Hollander, sophomore in arts and letters from Monessen; Jeanne O'Connor, junior in education from Smethport; and Harriet Scholes, sophomore in medical technology from Indiana.

The committee will meet at 4 p.m. today in 212 Hetzel Union.

NSA Appointments Await Cabinet OK

All-University President Earl Seely will ask All-University Cabinet Thursday night to approve 18 appointments to National Student Association Committees.

They are Jodie Hough, Christa Kammer, William Coale, Special Events; Gerakline Guzik, Marion Olzak, Estor Donovan, Secretariat; Edward Long, National; Jeanne O'Connor, Ann Beveridge, Tom Hollander, Barbara Bixler, Roger Serota, Campus Affairs.

Charlotte Brown, Frank Farrell, Richard Yoder, Ellen Donovan, International; Rusty Crawford, Encampment; and George Mauler, Rules.

March 'Engineer' Will Go On Sale

The annual high school issue of the Penn State Engineer will go on sale today.

The 30-page magazine includes a breakdown of all the colleges by curriculum, a story about earthquakes, an article on bridges and other articles about the various technical fields. As usual, the magazine will include the Engineer girl of the month, photo pages, recent developments, and several pages of jokes.

The Engineer will be on sale at the Corner Room, in front of Grange, and on the Mall. It will be sold at the Hetzel Union desk all week.

engineering from Johnstown, was nominated for the senior class presidency; Vincent Paparella, junior in civil engineering from Milanville was nominated for senior class vice president; and Jean McMahon, junior in physical education from Williamsport, won the nomination for senior class secretary-treasurer. McMahon was opposed by Jo Fulton, junior in education from Apollo; and won the nomination by a 121-119 vote.

Harry Martini, treasurer of the Association of Independent Men Board of Governors, was nominated for the junior class presidency. Richard Doyle, sophomore in mechanical engineering from Hanover, was nominated for junior class vice president; and Marie Thierwechter, sophomore in home economics from Lebanon, won the junior class secretary-treasurer nomination over Sondra Peters, sophomore in education from Meadville. The actual vote count was undisclosed.

105-25 vote; and Barbara Nichols, vice president of Panhellenic Council, was nominated for senior class secretary-treasurer.

Withdraws AA Nomination

Following his nomination, Valentine withdrew his nomination for the Athletic Association presidency.

Colleen Daniels, sophomore in home economics from Beaver Falls, was nominated for the junior class presidency, marking what is believed to be the first time in post-war years that a coed has won the nomination for that position. John Olsen, sophomore in business administration from Philadelphia, was nominated for the junior class vice presidency; and Mary Mertz, sophomore in education from Lansdown, was nominated for junior class secretary-treasurer.
