

Four Finalists Chosen For 'Indie Sweetheart'

Four coeds have been chosen as finalists for the Association of Independent Men's and Leonides' Indie Sweetheart contest.

The contest winner will be announced at the two organizations' jointly-sponsored Spring Ball to be held from 9 p.m. to midnight Friday in the Hetzel Union Building.

The finalists are Joan MacKenzie, sophomore in arts and letters from Lansdowne; Bonnie Cole, junior in education from Havertown; Penelope Robey, freshman in arts and letters from Smethport, and Dorothea Darlington, sophomore in business administration from Darling.

Invitations Sent to 325 For Matrix

Approximately 325 invitations have been sent to outstanding women students, faculty and administration wives, and dormitory hostesses, for the annual Matrix Table, to be held at 6 p.m. Monday in the Hetzel Union ballroom. The deadline for making reservations has been extended to noon Saturday, according to Constance Anderson, Theta Sigma Phi president. Reservations may be made by showing the invitation at the Hetzel Union desk. Reservation price is $2.75.

Dinner to Honor Coeds
The Matrix Table is an annual dinner, sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi, women's national professional journalism fraternity. The purpose of the dinner is to honor outstanding women on campus.

Three coeds will be honored with the Matrix, Cap, and Quill awards. Cap Girl, chosen by members of Theta Sigma Phi, is an award recognizing the woman participating in the most varied activities who is or has been a member of a hat society. Matrix Girl, also chosen by Theta Sigma Phi, is awarded to the coed who has given the most service to the University and has not been a member of a hat society.

Quill Girl Elected by Students
Quill Girl was elected by women students at the time of the Women's Student Government Association elections. Candidates were Carolyn Cunningham, WSGA president; Judith Pendleton, Leonides president; Joanne Caruso, Panhellenic Council president; Patricia Farrell, Women's Recreation Association president; Paulene Paulekas, Scrolls president; and Sally McKnight, Mortar Board president.

Quill Girl will be announced at the dinner.

Fraternities to Return IFC Magazine Changes

Fraternities that want to change their picture or individual information in the Interfraternity Council Rushing Magazine should turn the picture or information in to the Fraternities Affairs Office in the Hetzel Union Building before tomorrow, according to Lawrence Jacobson, editor.

Pictures should be glossy prints, 4 by 5 inches. Information should be typed.

nie Cole, junior in education from Havertown; Penelope Robey, freshman in arts and letters from Smethport, and Dorothea Darlington, sophomore in business administration from Darling. Master of ceremonies Leonard Richards will present the winner a trophy at the dance, one of the final events of the AIM-Leonides celebration of National Independent Student Association Week. Music for the dance, which is free will be provided by the AIM band. Dress is informal.

A skating party will be held from 8 p.m. to midnight Saturday at the Coliseum Roller Rink, outside State College. Transportation will not be provided to the rink. Admission is free.

Also in commemoration of NISA Week, AIM and Leonides have sent four student delegates to the National NISA convention held this week at the University of Texas at Austin, Texas.

The four are Robert Seiler, freshman in electrical engineering from Rector; Thomas J. Smith, junior in education from Wyomissing; Norma Talarico, junior in education from Bradford, and Linda K. Gerber, junior in education from York.

They will speak on community living at the University, submit a complete report of the feasibility of a transportation pool enabling students to travel to conventions, and present materials and ideas on the University as well as return with new ideas from other colleges and universities.

The transportation pool report will indicate the pooling of expenses by students for travel to distant conventions and meetings is not very feasible. Such pooling will be effective if used for travel to local conclaves. AIM President Bruce Lieske said.

The annual AIM-Leonides banquet will be held May 5 at the Nittany Lion Inn, not NISA Week as IFC Council is holding its banquet this Greek Week.

The two independent associations began this week's celebration by participating in the chapel service at Schwab Auditorium Sunday morning. Independents met outside the auditorium and attended the service en masse.

Center Stage Tickets

Tickets are on sale for "The Lady's Not for Burning" from 8 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 5 p.m. today at the Hetzel Union desk for $1. The show will open at 8 p.m. Saturday at Center Stage.

Riding Club to Meet Tonight

The Riding Club will meet at 7 tonight in 217 Willard to discuss plans for the Modified Olympic Event scheduled for this weekend at the stables.

Major Club Will Sponsor Senior Banquet

The Physical Education Student Council voted Monday night to turn over the sponsorship of an annual banquet honoring graduating seniors to the Student Major Club.

After a lengthy debate, it was decided that since the Student Major Club was organized to conduct social affairs within the College, it should sponsor the banquet.

In the past, the banquet has been sponsored by the council. The Student Major Club is a new organization this year.

The banquet will be held Tuesday in the Hetzel Union Building. Elizabeth Elliot, junior in physical education from Chester, Robert Hoover, freshman in physical education from Philadelphia, and Patricia Barnitz, sophomore in physical education from Pittsburgh, were appointed to select the recipient of the Paul Smith Memorial Trophy, which is presented annually to the most outstanding senior man in the College.

Patricia Barnitz was elected to represent Lackonides, women's physical education professional and scholastic society. She is vice president of the group.

Kasarda to Talk At Workshop

Capt. Mike Kasarda, assistant professor of air science, will present information on government-sponsored security programs for the benefit of the military family at the Angel Flight's Blue Yonder Workshop at 7 tonight in 203 Willard.

Discussions on types of insurance available to the serviceman, social security, and widow's pension provisions will be presented under the security topic.

Another topic will deal with the salary, allowance, and allotment given to the military husband by the government.

Coeds who have attended five Blue Yonder Workshops are eligible to sign up for the April 18 field trip to the Olmstead Air Base at tonight's workshop.

Red Cross Unit To Name Chairmen

The Red Cross campus unit will meet at 7 p.m. today in 212 Hetzel Union to choose committee chairmen for the spring blood drive.

Blood forms will be given to committee members for the drive which will be held April 24 and 25 in the Hetzel Union card room. Members will distribute the forms to campus groups.

The blood forms should be filled out by donors before 5 p.m. Tuesday and deposited in boxes located at dormitory and Hetzel Union desks.

Sororities that wish to act as hostesses should send representatives to the meeting.

Theta Chi Fraternity Celebrates Founding

The local chapter of Theta Chi fraternity yesterday celebrated, along with the other 116 chapters, the 100th anniversary of the fraternity's founding.

On April 10th, 1856, two young cadets at Norwich University in Vermont began the organization.

The Northeast Club, made up of students from Philadelphia, affiliated with the national fraternity April 19, 1919, to form a chapter at the University.

In 1922 Phi Kappa Mu, a local fraternity, joined Theta Chi here and the group became larger.

The fraternity house, built in 1931, is located at the corner of S. Allen and Prospect streets.

Delegates from 117 undergraduate chapters and 54 alumni chapters, together with many other Theta Chi's, will meet at Northfield, Vermont, September 3 to 8 for the Centennial Convention. Northfield is the home of Norwich University.

William Landis, past president of the local chapter, and Tuinan Burch, president, will attend the convention.

Founders' Day was celebrated yesterday with a banquet at the fraternity house. A banquet and party were also held last Saturday in observance of the anniversary. Elwood B. Cassell, assistant professor of engineering drawing, and president of the alumni group, spoke at the banquet on the history of the local chapter. Sammy Kaye, nationally known band leader, dedicated his radio program "Sunday Serenade" last Sunday to the Theta Chi's.

In its century of development Theta Chi has become one of the largest college fraternities in the nation, with more than 42,000 members.

It is also one of the strongest financially, having an endowment fund of almost $1 million and chapter houses with a total valuation of over $3 million. Ninety of its 117 chapters own their homes.

Finch to Open Reading Series

Dr. Henry A. Finch, associate professor of philosophy, will read "Aesop" at the first reading in the 19th annual series of Wednesday Readings at 4:15 today in 105 Pattee Library.

"Fables" will be the general subject for the series which will continue for four weeks.

Other readings are: "LaFontaine" by Dr. Leon S. Roudiez, assistant professor of Romance Languages, April 18th; "Krylov" by Dr. William B. Edgerton, assistant professor of Russian, April 25th; and "Thurber" by Dr. Robert Bernreuter, professor of psychology and director of the Student Advisory Service, May 2nd. The series is sponsored by the Fred Lewis Pattee Library.

'News and Views' Now Available

"News and Views," the home economics magazine, is on sale at the Hetzel Union desk, board, and in the lobby of the Home Economics building.

This issue contains an article on Earl Seely, All-University president, as "Man of the Month" and the advance program of the Spring Weekend.

Home economics majors may pick up their free copies in the lobby of the Home Economics building.

Trick Drill Team Wins at Festival

A 29-man Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps Trick Drill Team placed third in a field of 24 in competition held at the annual Cherry Blossom Festival in Washington, D.C. last week.

The team, composed of 24 freshmen and sophomore cadets, five junior and senior cadet officers, finished with a score of 805 out of a possible 1000. Purdue University with a score of 950 won first place.

This year marked the first time the University has entered a team in the festival competition. Other teams competing included Air Force, Army, and Navy, and combined ROTC teams.

Just One Loafer

To Another

- Do you feel Whipples time approaching?
- Do professors seem unusually dull?
- Is the gang back at the bulletin board?

Why not, it's Spring (we think) and a fever of the same name is clamping its hot little hand on everyone's shoulder. It's the loaf time on campus—in more ways than one. It's the loaf time for every femme's foot and Simon's (who else?) has the answer.

Loafers! Loafers! Loafers!

- Leather—red, black, brown, wild oats
- Suede—gray, black
- Glove Leather Variations—strawberry frost, lemon, peach

(also black and white saddles and white bucks)
