

22 Women Chosen To Form Honor Arch

Twenty-two senior women have been chosen to form the Honor Arch in the May Day ceremonies at 3:30 p.m. May 12 in front of Old Main.

Selection for the Honor Arch is based upon outstanding activities and service to the University.

Those to participate are Constance Anderson, Mary Buchanan, Joanne Caruso, Annie Campbell, Patricia Douthett, Janet Feaster, Sylvia Fish, Margaret Fisher, Mary Hudcovich, Elizabeth Kraebel, Barbara Larpenteur, Sally McKnight, Patricia McLaughlin, Ruth Oram, Pauline Paulekas, Judith Pendleton, Susan Rice, Judith Sedor, Roberta Sankey, Barbara Stock, and Jean Yemm.

Council Reports Book Store Is Unprofitable

The Agriculture Student Council last night heard a report stating that it would be economically unsound for the University to undertake a University operated book store.

Irving Buck, chairman of the Ag Council Bookstore Committee, submitted a report of a meeting that the committee had with Paul Hood, chairman of the All-University Book Exchange Committee.

Hood explained the organization and future plans of the BX. He said that since the BX moved from the Temporary Union Building to the Hetzel Union Building sales have increased five times. The BX is chartered under the Board of Trustees and is directly responsible to the Board of Trustees.

Hood explained that there is almost no profit in new books and handling them usually results in a financial loss that could not be incurred by the BX. Used books, on the other hand, represent considerable profit that is necessary for the maintenance of the Book Exchange.

The Ag Council Book Exchange Committee therefore recommended to Council that the sale of new books be left to the town merchants who can better shoulder any financial loss incurred and that more students support the Book Exchange so that additional services can be rendered by the Exchange.

Costuming for May Day has also been announced by Margaret Forster, May Day chairman.

The May Queen will wear a white full length gown for the ceremonies and her Maid of Honor a green full length gown. The two senior attendants will wear orchid gowns; the two junior attendants will wear pink gowns; the two sophomore attendants will wear yellow gowns, and the two freshman attendants will wear blue gowns.

The members of the Honor Arch will wear white gowns. The senior women who will form the Hemlock Chain will be dressed in pastel gowns.

Women participating in the May Dance will be costumed in multi-colored or plain full skirts and white blouses. They will be barefoot and wear no jewelry.

Members of Cwens, sophomore women's hat society, who will serve as ushers for the ceremonies, will wear pastel street dresses and their hats. They are not permitted to wear jewelry.

Members of Androcles, senior mens' hat society, and Blue Key, junior mens' hat society, who will assist in the ceremonies will wear navy jackets, grey pants and their hats.

All the gowns for the ceremonies must be either full or ankle length. Strapless gowns will not be permitted unless a stole is worn.

Court Decision--

(Continued from page one) been not too strict—before Monday's decision—in requiring due process in these areas.

Number of Laws Unknown
Dr. Sorauf said he did not know how many municipalities use a law similar to the one in New York or how many other laws fall under the court's ruling.

He also did not know whether loyalty oaths—such as the Pechan Act in Pennsylvania—would be affected but he assumed that they are all right so long as they guarantee due process.

The Pennsylvania act requires an investigation before dismissal to show the person is a subversive.

Larry Dennis, University provost, said he knows of no rules upon employees at the University which would be affected by the Supreme Court decision.

University President Responsible
An amendment to the Pechan Act requires the president of the University "to report to the governor once a year on the progress of their program to keep subversives off the teaching staff."

Commenting on the 5-to-4 decision of the court, Dr. Sorauf said three of the dissenting justices formed a conservative bloc in most of the civil liberties cases decided during the past year.

The three dissenters were Justices Stanley Reed, Harold Burton, and Sherman Minton. Justice John Harlan dissented on different grounds.

Ag Scholarships Available for Two

Applications may now be submitted for two scholarships available to outstanding students in the College of Agriculture. The blanks must be returned to 111 Agriculture by April 18.

The KDKA Agricultural Scholarship of $100 is available to students who have had some experience in radio broadcasting.

The Pennsylvania Farm Bureau Cooperative Association Scholarship will be awarded to an outstanding sophomore.
