

Lion Golfers Seek 14th Straight Win Against Georgetown

Its 14th straight victory will be on the line when the Penn State golf team faces the Georgetown University squad at 1 p.m. tomorrow on the Colonial Golf Course in Washington, D.C.

The Lions were 7-0 winners over the Hoyas in last year's encounter on the same difficult 6600 yard course.

At the same time it was announced that the linksmen's 1956 home opener has been moved up to Saturday. The squad was originally scheduled for a triangular affair with Penn and Villanova for the same date in Philadelphia, but the course on which the action was to take place will not be available so the match was switched to University Park.

Four returning lettermen from last year's squad gives indication that the Hoya's will be a difficult opponent Friday. Marion Vickerson, Perky Cullinane, Owen Mandebille, and Gene Howered are all veterans of last season. Vickerson, the squad's number one man last year, lost to Warren Gittlen 2 and 1 in last season's match. In the same match Cullinane was defeated by Jim Mayes 3 and 1, Mandebille lost to John Boyanowski 6 and 4, and Howered was beaten by Leo Kukkola 2 up.

The feature of last season's match was Howered's eagle on the 409 yard 5th hole, one of the most difficult on the course.

The lineup for tomorrow's match will be the same as for the season's opener against Navy last week. That is Jim Mayes, Pat Rielly, Gus Gerhart, Jim Ginsberg, John Branish, John Boyanowski, and Leo Kukkola. Ginsberg beat Lou Riggs in a 36 hole playoff for a spot on the squad tomorrow. Another reserve, wee Johnny Felus, lost a tough challenge match to Leo Kukkola for the remaining spot. The two golfers finished the regulation 18 all tied up, but Kook won out on the "sudden death" 19th hole.

The team will leave from the golf shop at 1 p.m. today for Washington, D.C. They expect to arrive late tonight, and will play a practice round on the course tomorrow morning.

As is usual, the exact position of play in the lineup will not be disclosed until immediately preceding the match. A good guess, however, would have Jim Mayes playing number one, with Kukkola, Boyanowski, and Ginsberg near the top because of their experience last year.

The Lions will return home immediately following the Georgetown encounter in preparation for the triangular meet Saturday. They beat Penn as part of a triangular meet last year, but Villanova will be making its first appearance as a links opponent. The match Saturday will begin at 1 p.m.

four in the fifth, and added two insurance runs in the sixth.

Six West Virginia errors aided the Lions in almost all of their scoring ventures. The Lions combined well placed hits and five stolen bases plus the errors to notch all their runs.

Three West Virginia pitchers saw action in the seven inning fiasco. Don O'Haver started but was knocked from the box in the second inning. Jim Bailker and Ed Cook followed him to the mound.

The Lions meet Pennsylvania Saturday at Philadelphia.

3 Fraternities Complete Perfect V-Ball Seasons

Three fraternities completed perfect seasons with wins last night at Recreation Hall to qualify for the intramural volleyball play-offs scheduled to begin May 2.

Alpha Zeta, Delta Chi, and Theta Xi of leagues A, B, and C waltzed to their sixth wins without a loss to capture league titles.

Alpha Zeta trounced Phi Mu Delta, 15-4, 15-12, to push the losers to 1-4 on the season. Defending champs Delta Chi whipped Phi Kappa Psi, 15-0, 15-10, and Theta Xi extended Kappa Alpha Psi's losing streak to five, 15-3, 15-6.

Alpha Tau Omega was toppled from first place in league F by Kappa Delta Rho, 15-17, 15-12, 15-12. Gaining first place was Tau Phi Delta as it won by forfeit over Phi Sigma Delta. KDR and Alpha Tau Omega stand just one-half game behind the leaders.

Alpha Phi Delta forfeited to Sigma Alpha Mu in the other F contest. Phi Kappa Sigma and Alpha Sigma Phi remained in a deadlock for league G honors by both winning. The Phi Kappas slaughtered Alpha Gamma Rho, 15-12, 15-4, while Alpha Sig disposed of Phi Gamma Delta, 15-2, 15-7.

Phi Delta Theta won its third league G game when it tripped Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 15-8, 15-7. Theta Kappa Phi nipped Triangle, 13-15, 15-9, 15-13, also in G. Delta Sigma Phi enhanced its league D standing by stopping Kappa Sigma, 15-9, 16-14. The Delta Sigs thus finished their schedule with a 5-1 chart and only Beta Theta Pi, at 4-0, has a chance to overcome them.

Phi Sigma Kappa pulled to within a game of the league E pace-setters Theta Delta Chi by gaining forfeit victory over Alpha Epsilon Pi. Theta Delta Chi stands at 4 and 0 with the Phi Sigs at 3 and 1. Alpha Chi Sigma is just one-half game to the rear at 4 and 1.
