

Coeds to Participate In 'Hemlock Chain'

Thirty-three senior women will participate in the traditional Hemlock Chain in the May Day ceremonies to be held May 12 in front of Old Main.

The women will separate into two lines to carry the chain down the steps of Old Main to the lawn in the ceremonies.

The chain will then form an aisle for the May Queen and her attendants.

Marilyn Fischer, senior in home economics from Media will be crowned 1956 May Queen by Daisy Zimmerman, Women's Student Government Association president. Miss Fischer was elected to reign as May Queen in last month's May Day elections.

Participants Named

Those who will take part in the Hemlock Chain are Elizabeth Tipton, Nancy Rees, Jane Curran, Helen Spagnolo, Shirley Gills, Miriam Bowman, Bonnie Brush, Sally Rhodes, Lois Eichenlaub, Joan Wilson, Cecelia Yarnell, Emily Dutrow and Joyce Gardner.

Also Ellen Van der Voort, Jeanne Capozzi, Carol Knight, June Boldt, Shirley Fry, Judith Hartman, Zelta McMurray, Judith Corfield, Carole Bauer, Vanessa Edelen, Joan Flebotte, Ann Green, Sally Oberle, Alyce Mercer, Margot Gysling, Shirley Martin, Alexa Rimensnyder, Martha McDonald, Elaine Cappelli and Joan McDonald.

Maypoles will be Wound

The women in the Hemlock Chain will wear full length formal for the May Day pageant, according to Ann Forster, costume chairman.

The Interlandia Folf Dancers will present several dancers for the event. Invitations to sing will be extended to members of Tau Kappa Epsilon and Kappa Alpha Theta, winners of the Interfraternity Council-Panhellenic Council Sing.

Two maypoles will be wound by freshman and sophomore women.

May Day is sponsored annually by WSGA. Margaret Forster is general chairman of the program.

HEc College 'Weekend' Ends Today

Panel discussions, exhibits, and a fashion show will close the seventh annual Home Economics Spring Weekend this afternoon.

Registration will continue all day in Home Economics. The events center around the theme "Families—A Key to Mental Health."

Programs listing all exhibits, shows, movies, and tours and where they will be held are available at the registration desk. The program is open to the public.

To Begin at 9 a.m.

Talks and panel discussions on family relationships will open today's events at 9 a.m. Exhibits and talks will continue throughout the afternoon until 3 p.m. At that time home economics students will model clothing made in clothing classes. University nursery school children will model children's garments, also made by students.

Some of the speakers are Dr. Preston W. Thomas, Deputy Commissioner of Mental Health, Department of Welfare, Harrisburg, who will speak on "What to Do If Trouble Comes." The University Chaplain, Dr. Luther H. Harshbarger, will talk about "Spiritual Resources for the Family."

University Professors

Also speaking will be professors from the University of Pennsylvania and Cornell University, as well as many from the University.

Each session will be illustrated with movies such as "Yarn About a Kitchen," "Choosing a Marriage Partner," "The Toymaker," and "Fears of Childhood."

Campus Coed Could Be 1957 Miss America

Will the next Miss America be a Penn State coed?

It's possible, according to the Bellefonte Area Junior Chamber of Commerce. According to new information from the Miss America eliminations committee, any female University student between the ages of 18 and 28 is eligible to compete in the Miss Centre County contest, first rung on the ladder to national fame and fortune.

Campus organizations will distribute the entry blanks next week for the Centre County contest, to be staged at 8 p.m. May 22 in the Bellefonte High School.

Fraternities, which so recently concluded activities to produce the ugliest of uglies, are also eligible to sponsor entries to be named the fairest of the fair, it was announced.

The Centre County winner will compete for the Miss Central Pennsylvania title in Altoona on May 25. The winner of the state contest will travel to Atlantic City for the national competition.
