

Music Honorary To Give Concert

Phi Mu Alpha, national music honorary society, will present its annual spring concert at 3 p.m. tomorrow in Schwab Auditorium.

The sinfonia chorus, with Frank Woods conducting, will give "On and Ever Upward," by Peter C. Lutkin and "A Toast," by Francis Ames.

Thomas Mentzer, clarinetist, will present "Sonata for Clarinet and Piano," by Paul Hindemith, and the alto saxophone trio, composed of Warren Daugherty, Thomas Mentzer, and Paul Stoerker will give the "Three Blue-jackets," by Ernest Williams.

"I heard a Forrest Praying," by Peter DeRose, will be sung by Howard Rowlands, baritone, and the french horn quartet, made up of William Mills, Morris Meyer, Richard Thier, and Charles Harner, will play "Sylvan Idyl," by William Spencer Johnson.

Selections Named

The sinfonia chorus will also present "The Long Day Closes," by Sir Arthur S. Sullivan and "A Toast to Sinfonia," by G. A. Grant-Schaeffer.

Howard Rowlands, soloist, will sing "Madame Jeanette," by Alan Murray and "Rare Old Wine" by Will C. Reddeck, and the sinfonia quartet composed by Frank Woods, Frank Podleizek, Gerald Hodge, and Donald Fought, will give "The Halls of Ivy," arranged by Claude Williams, and other selections.

Gerald Miller at the piano will present three lyric pieces by Edward Grieg.

Brass Ensemble to Play

The brass ensemble will play "Negev" by John Hartmeyer and "Sonati Octavi Toni," by Giovanni Gabrieli.

The ensemble is composed of: coronets, Roger Staub, Jere Friday, Charles Springman, and Francis Taylor; horns, William Mills, Richard Thier, and Carson

Rothrock; tympani, Richard Bieery; trombones, Robert Dombeck, David Andre, Richard Brown, and William Wilson; tubas, James Baker, and David James; baritone, John Croft and Warren Miller. Kenneth Lesight conducts the group.

To end the program the entire membership of Phi Mu Alpha will present "Hail Sinfonia," arranged by Louis Victor Saar.

Chem Senior Receives Iota Sigma Pi Award

Joy Fisher, senior in chemistry from Reading, will receive a scholarship award from Iota Sigma Pi, national honorary society for women in chemistry.

The award, to be formally presented at the Spring Banquet in May, is given each year to a seventh or eighth semester woman in chemistry with the highest average in chemistry courses.

Odds and Ends Auction Set For Tomorrow

Anyone in the market for a deep fat fryer, a Fairbanks platform scale, or a pot bellied stove (large) has an opportunity to bid on these and many additional items of surplus equipment at an auction of used University equipment at 10 a.m. today at the salvage warehouse, near the National Guard Armory.

The auction will sell for cash—and in present state of condition—various assorted items of furniture, office equipment, home appliances, plumbing and heating fixtures, "general" equipment, farm equipment, and automotive equipment.

The sale, a semi-annual event, will last most of the afternoon, and lunch will be available.

Some of the more interesting items to go on the block include: one lot of "Congoleum" rugs; one lot of steam radiators; one brake drum lathe; one lot of snare drums; one 1937 Dodge "motor on stand"; one 1937 Ford pickup truck; and one potato sprayer.

Poorbaugh Appointed

Harry J. Poorbaugh, Erie County agent, has been named assistant director of agricultural and home economics extension. He succeeds Paul L. Edinger, who will retire July 1.

to visitors will be held in the afternoon, according to John Sink, senior in animal husbandry from Homer City, manager of the exposition.

The cattle judging will be held from 8 to 10:30 a.m., swine from 10:45 to 11:45 a.m., sheep from 1 to 1:15 p.m., and horses from 1:30 to 2 p.m.

State livestock leaders have been obtained as judges for the fitting-showing contests. For horses and cattle the judge will be Walter Bumgarner, of the Old Home Manor Farms in Homer City.

Arlie Anderson, swine superintendent of the Masonic Home Farms in Elizabethtown, will judge swine.

Judging the sheep will be Carl Everett, a University graduate, and shepherd for Dakes South-downs, Greenfield Center, N.Y.

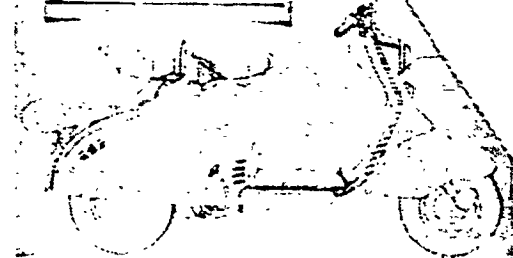

The Little International will be open to the public.

Atom Reactor Begins

The atom research reactor at the University has been put into full power use after completing preliminary low power tests.
