

'Hatters' Will Strut On Beaver Field

Beaver Field will have an aura of the Easter Parade as "mad hatters" strut around sporting their original creations at 6:30 tonight.

At the same time and in the same place, but on the opposite side of Beaver Field, the He-Man contest will feature its muscle men, vying with the "hatters" for the attention of the crowd.

200 Attend Livestock Exposition

More than 200 persons attended the awards banquet held last Saturday after the Little International Livestock Exposition.

William B. Connell, who retired in 1951 as head of livestock extension, was presented with a special citation plaque at the banquet. Dean Belt, president of the Block and Bridle Club, sponsor of the show, made the presentation.

Miss Dorothy J. Bowmaster, to whom the exposition was dedicated, was selected as a special member of the club.

Judging Winners Named
Awards were given to judging teams and winners of the judging contest held April 21. Winner of the professional division was Vernon Hazlett, junior in animal husbandry from Tarentum.

Ann Howard, sophomore in animal husbandry from Hummelstown, was chosen winner of the amateur judging division.

The two received rotating trophies donated by the three agriculture fraternities.

Ag Secretary Present
Winners of the showing and fitting contest also received awards. Edward Woods, senior in animal husbandry from Brookville, was named grand champion showman, and Lloyd Arnett, freshman in animal husbandry from Mechanicsburg, reserve grand champion showman.

Among the guests present at the banquet were Dr. William L. Henning, state Secretary of Agriculture; Russell B. Dickerson, assistant dean of the College of Agriculture; and Dr. M. A. Farrell, director of the agriculture experimental station.

Lion's Paw Names 15 Junior Men To Organization

Fifteen men have been initiated into Lion's Paw, senior men's society, James W. Coogan, Lion's Paw Alumni Association president, has announced.

New members are Roger Alexander, Daily Collegian editor; Robert Bahrenburg, All-University president; George Buckhout, Orientation Week chairman; William Clark, All-University vice president; Joseph Eberly, president of the Chemistry and Physics Student Council.

Ronald Gatehouse, Daily Collegian city editor; Lash Howes, Association of Independent Men president; William Johnson, member of AIM; Edmond Kramer, president of the Business Administration Student Council.

Daniel Land, Interfraternity Council president; James Musser, National Student Association coordinator; Jerome Radosh, member of AIM; Donald Reidenbaugh, Encampment chairman; Leonard Richards, All-University secretary-treasurer; and John Valentine, IFC secretary-treasurer.

Dotterer Will Address Philosophical Society

Meetings of the Western Pennsylvania Philosophical Society will be held at 10:30 a.m. Saturday in the Hetzel Union Building.

Teachers of philosophy from colleges in Western Pennsylvania will hear Dr. Ray H. Dotterer, professor emeritus of philosophy, speak on "The Role of Philosophy in General Education."

A panel will be held with Dr. John A. Mourant, professor of philosophy, as moderator.

All contestants and bands in the Mad Hatters Parade must be in position by 5:45 p.m. at Recreation Hall. All those who are not in position at that time will be disqualified.

From Rec Hall, the contestants will march en masse to the Beaver Field parking lot where members of the committee will place them in the proper category and issue each entry a number in the category.

Theme Is Book Titles
The theme for the Mad Hatters parade is book titles and contestants will be placed in one of the three categories, artistic, comic and original. One winner will be picked from each category and all three winners will be awarded trophies. In addition, each winner will receive 25 Spring Week points.

Judges for the parade are Ralph H. Wherry, professor of insurance, John Juba, State College chief of police, Agnes Doody, instructor of speech, Charles Petnick, owner of the Charles Shop, and Dean Smith, manager of the Rathkellar.

He-Men to Compete
Thirteen men will compete for the title of He-Man in the contest tonight at Beaver Field. Each candidate will participate in the bench press, the 220-yard dash, and the running broad jump in an attempt to gain the title. Entrants will also compete in a physique contest and an original name and costume parade which will precede the finals. Members of the groups sponsoring the finalists may work with the contestants in the parade.

The winner of the He-Man contest will be presented with a trophy and will receive 15 Spring Week points. Each of the runners-up will receive a medal. Second place winner will receive 10 Spring Week points; third place winner, 8; fourth place, 6; and each of the finalists will receive 3 points.

In the event of rain, both the Mad Hatters Parade and the He-Man contest will be held in Schwab Auditorium at the scheduled time. However, in the He-Man contest, the events will be changed as those events scheduled for Beaver Field could not be held in Schwab.

4 Finalists Seek Dairy Queen Title

The Dairy Queen will be chosen from four finalists by the Dairy Science Club at 7 p.m. tomorrow in 117 Dairy.

The finalists and their sponsors are Barbara Albeck, sophomore in applied arts from Duncannon, Sigma Sigma Sigma; Karen Bixler, sophomore in home economics from Huntingdon, Gamma Phi Beta; Martha McDonald, senior in home economics from Shippensburg, Phi Mu; and Patsy Paxton, sophomore in education from Mechanicsburg, Zeta Tau Alpha.

The dairy science department chose the finalists who will appear at the Thursday meeting.

PhiO Will Initiate Spring Pledge Class

Initiation ceremonies for the spring pledge class of Alpha Phi Omega, national service honorary society, will be held at 5:30 p.m. May 11 in 212 and 213 Hetzel Union.

Banquet tickets will be on sale for $2 at the HUB desk until noon Saturday for brothers of Alpha Phi Omega. Pledge tickets have already been taken care of.

The pledge banquet, honoring 80 new initiates, will be held at 7 p.m. after the initiation ceremonies at the Autoport restaurant.

2 Cruises Scheduled By NROTC

The Navy Department has announced summer training plans for undergraduates taking naval reserve officer training. Two cruises will involve University students.

Forty one junior midshipmen and 45 freshman midshipmen will leave Norfolk, Va., July 9, on an eight-week cruise to Barcelona and Valencia, Spain.

On the return trip they will make stops at Belfast and Dublin, Ireland, and Glasgow, Scotland, before sailing on to Guantanamo Bay, Cuba for a week of gunnery training.

Task Force to Gibraltar
They will return to Norfolk Aug. 31. The students will be distributed among 15 ships which will sail as a task force to the Strait of Gibraltar, where it will break up and the ships will continue singly to their destinations.

The other cruise, which will last six weeks, leaves Norfolk July 15 and arrives in New Orleans July 25. From there it will sail on to Cristobal, Canal Zone, then to Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, and will return to Norfolk Aug. 24.

Cruises Includes 3 Phases
Twenty ships will comprise the second cruise, and 24 junior midshipmen from the University will take part in it. Both cruises will be divided into three phases of training, which will emphasize seamanship and navigation, gunnery, and engineering.

In addition to the two cruises, 25 sophomore midshipmen will take eight weeks of amphibious-aviation training, four weeks at Little Creek, Va., and four at Corpus Christi, Texas.

Four Juniors Receive Aid

Four junior women have been awarded Charlotte E. Ray scholarships by Mortar Board, senior women's honorary society.

They are Carole Denniston, education major from State College; Barbara Dietrich, arts and letters major from Tunkhannock; Elizabeth Ives, arts and letters major from Scranton; and Helen Thompson, arts and letters major from Slippery Rock.

The scholarships, worth $100 each, are awarded each year to junior women who have a good scholastic record, major activities, and who have depended on their own funds for their college education.

The scholarships were established in 1946 in honor of Miss Ray, former dean of women. Proceeds from the Mardi Gras go toward the scholarship fund.

4 Councils to Get AIM Appropriations

The Association of Independent Men's Board of Governors will appropriate funds to its four councils at its meeting at 7 tonight in the student government of the Hetzel Union Building.

AIM President Lash Howes said that the constitution may have to be revised if the board wants to raise the appropriations from the usual 33 per cent to 40 per cent.

The councils are West Hall, Pollock, Nittany Councils and Town Independent Men.

An appropriation will also be made to finance the AIM Handbook.

Mild, Cloudy Weather Predicted for Today

The weather today will be partly cloudy and mild, according to the students of the department of meteorology.

The high today is predicted for the mid-sixties, and the low in the mid-forties. Yesterday's high was 66 and the low was 36.

Enire Moved to Pacific

Commander R. K. Etnire, executive officer of the naval reserve unit on campus for the last two years, has been transferred to the USS Cape Esperance, now in the Pacific.

Chapel Construction Nears Completion

The first leg of the All-Faith Chapel is nearing completion. Workmen are putting finishing touches on the Helen Eakin Eisenhower Meditation Chapel, and expect to complete the structure in the near future.

Painters are almost finished inside the chapel, and men are putting in millwork. According to the construction foreman, cement for the concrete walks in back of the Chapel is being laid. The work schedule calls for flagstone to be laid on the side patio.

The meditation chapel will be the first part of the All-Faith Chapel to be finished. Construction is scheduled to start on the main chapel as soon as the funds can be secured.

Other construction jobs on campus are also progressing rapidly.

Frame Near Completion
Because of the good weather, the steel frame of the Hall of Americas classroom building, west of the University Infirmary is nearing completion. The construction foreman for the building said yesterday if the weather holds out, two-inch concrete slabs will be poured, in two weeks.

The slabs will be poured for each floor of the building, lathe work will be placed on the slabs, and masonry completed on top of the lathe work. Workers expect to finish the building by November. Hospital Construction Progressing
Workers are in the process of putting finish plastering on the new hospital wings, and expect to start laying floor tile within a few days. According to the hospital construction workers, they could start laying tile now, if they had it.

In addition to floor tiling, plans call for plumbing and electrical fixtures to be put in soon, and millwork to be completed before the wings will be put into use. One wing will be used as a dispensary, replacing the one in the basement of Old Main; the other wing will provide beds for patients.

Completion of the wings is scheduled for this summer.

Housing Office Almost Finished
The new housing office in Waring Hall should be completed in a few days, with only painting, door hanging, and cabinet construction uncompleted, workers on the office said yesterday. The office is being built where the information desk in Waring was situated last semester.

In addition, plastic dados must be put on the walls around Waring Hall, and the showcases must be finished. The case has been built where the bulletin board was situated last semester, and the bulletin board has been moved to the wall opposite the post office sub-station.

Sigma Delta Chi Selects Nine Men For Membership

Sigma Delta Chi, national men's professional journalism fraternity, has tapped nine men.

Members of Sigma Delta Chi must undertake journalism as a profession and have an above average scholastic rating. They are also required to have done actual and proficient work in journalism, either in or out of college.

Those tapped are John Lawrence, senior from Philadelphia; Marino Parascenzo, junior from Ellwood City; Earl Kohnfelder, sophomore from Pittsburgh; Emil Haas, junior from Pottsville; Harry Davis, junior from Clairton; Lawrence Jacobson, sophomore from Chester; Edward Dubbs, sophomore from Waynesboro; Vincent Carocci, sophomore from Scranton; and William Kling, sophomore from York.

11 Students Awarded Scholarships

Five graduate students in chemistry have been appointed to fellowships, and six students in the College of Business Administration have been awarded scholarships for the next academic year.

Those who have been appointed to fellowships are: Robert Boyd, Eastman Kodak Co. Fellowship; Richard Javick, Shell Fellowship; Carl Perizzolo, Union Carbide and Carbon Fellowship; and Dwight Smith, DuPont Company Teaching Fellowship.

Insurance Club Award
Scholarships have been awarded to: Gerald Beam, Insurance Club Scholarship presented to an outstanding junior majoring in insurance by the Penn State Insurance Club; George Borosque, Frank Carlucci Insurance Scholarship, awarded to an outstanding junior majoring in insurance by Frank Carlucci, general agent for Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Co., Wilkes-Barre.

Devoe Memorial Award
Harry Brown, Devoe Memorial Scholarship, awarded to an outstanding sophomore majoring in finance by the Pennsylvania Credit Union League; Eugene Curry, New York Life Insurance Co. scholarship, awarded to an outstanding freshman in the field of insurance.

Paul Gilpin, General Electric Scholarship in Accounting, awarded to an outstanding junior in the field of accounting; and Leroy Wagner, Pilot Freight Carriers, Inc., scholarship, given to an outstanding junior majoring in transportation by Pilot Freight Carriers, Inc., Winston Salem, N.C.

STATE NOW
"GUYS and DOLLS"
Feature: 1:23, 4:05, 6:47, 9:29

CATHAUM
Today at 2:12 - 5:06 - 9:25
"THE MAN IN THE GRAY FLANNEL SUIT"
Sneak Preview
Tonite - 8:00
A brand new pre-release showing of a Hollywood production.
Come early as 5:06 or late as 8:00 and see both movies.

NITTANY
Now - 5:15 - 7:31 - 9:37
"DIABOLIQUE"
No one seated after feature has begun.

COLLEGE MEN
SUMMER WORK
$90 Per Week
See Mr. Croman
Room 121, SPARKS BLDG.
Thursday, May 3 7 p.m.