

Fund Bill Hiked $1.4 Million

Compromise Measure Awaits Senate Action

The University may receive a boost of $1,406,000 under a compromise appropriation bill now ready for Senate action.

The Senate yesterday took no action on the bill, according to the Associated Press Harrisburg bureau. Action is expected soon since the State Legislature is shooting for a May 12 adjournment for its longest session in history.

The Senate appropriations committee recommended Tuesday night that about $600,000 be cut from its earlier proposal to increase the appropriation by $2 million.

The committee in late March tacked the $2 million increase on the House-approved bill which would have given the University $25 million, the sum asked by President Milton S. Eisenhower in the fall of 1954 and included in Gov. George M. Leader's budget of April 19, 1955.

After the $2 million was tacked onto the bill, it was sent to the

Hammarskjold Finds Trouble Now in Water

JERUSALEM, May 2 (AP)—UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, nearing the end of his Palestine peace mission, made a quick round trip to Damascus today trying to untangle an Arab-Israeli jam over water rights. He would not say whether he succeeded.

Syria, with Jordan and Lebanon following suit, had declined to sign a cease-fire on its armistice demarcation line with Israel unless Israel promised not to resume an interrupted 1953 project to take Jordan River water for power and irrigation.

Hammarskjold would not tell reporters whether he got Israel to make such a promise or got Syria to drop its demand. He remarked in French "I am the silent boy."

Official Questioned

The United Nations' top official was questioned before he left Damascus to fly back to Jerusalem. He spent almost 2½ hours in an afternoon conference with Syrian Premier-Foreign Minister Said Ghazzi and Defense Minister Rashad Barmada.

He had a morning conference here with Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion and Foreign Minister Moshe Sharet. Canadian Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, chief of staff of the UN truce supervision organization, was with him on both occasions.

Points Cleared

An Israeli spokesman said that at the morning meeting, various points were cleared up in regard to carrying out the 1949 armistice agreements between Israel and its Arab neighbors. He gave no details.

Hammarskjold wants cease-fire Jordan, Lebanon and Syria to agreements between Israel and match that put into effect April 18 between Egypt and Israel. The latter has been hailed as the major accomplishment of his peace mission for the Security Council, on which he left New York April 6.

Student Gets Probation For Throwing Water

A Pollock dormitory 11 student was placed on office probation for the remainder of the semester for throwing water following a hearing at a meeting of the Association of Independent Men Judicial Board of Review Tuesday night.

David Cummings, dormitory counselor who reported the student, said he threw water across the hall from one room to another. He said no damage resulted.

Senior Ball Tickets

Tickets for the Senior Ball will be on sale from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Hetzel Union desk, and at 9 p.m. tomorrow in Recreation Hall, according to George L. Donovan, director of associated student activities.

Carnival Drinking Charged by Seng

Moorhead Lists Ticket Totals; 42,554 Sold

Two groups entered in Tuesday night's annual Spring Week Carnival, Phi Kappa and Theta Phi Alpha, and Phi Kappa Sigma and Pi Beta Phi, have been accused of drinking on the carnival grounds by Richard Seng, Spring Week chairman.

Seng said that the groups waived all points for the carnival by their action, but that they can still participate in Spring Week.

The carnival winner will be announced tonight following the Donkey Basketball Game to be held in Recreation Hall, beginning at 6:45.

Moorhead Announces Sales

Douglas Moorhead, Spring Week business manager, reported last night that 42,554 tickets were sold during the Carnival. Gross receipts totaled approximately $4900.

Seng said he saw members of Phi Kappa Sigma with a large trash can half full of beer bottles, cans and quart bottles and that some of the bottles still contained beer. He also stated that there were bottle caps lying on the ground. One of the members of the group told Seng that they had used the bottles in the show.

Case Appealed

The two groups appealed the case to the Spring Week committee at 11 last night. The Daily Collegian was unable to get the results.

Seng said the action of the groups violated the rules and regulations set up by the Spring Week committee which were approved by All-University Cabinet and published by the Daily Collegian.

Four of the 39 show booths participating in the carnival were given first warnings by the Spring Week Committee and All-University Cabinet checkers Tuesday night for not being in good taste with the standards set up by the committee.

However, when checkers went around a second time to check the four booths in question, all the shows but one had been revised, Seng said.

Booths were divided into three categories—true presentation, parody and original, with 12 or 13 booths in each category.

Six campus patrolmen, one borough policeman and one state policeman were on hand to regulate traffic and watch over the carnival scene. Captain Phillip A. Mark, chief of the campus patrol, reported that there were no mishaps on Route 322 while the Carnival was in progress.

A patrolman was stationed on each side of the highway to guide carnival-goers across. A blinker light was also located on the safety island in the middle of the highway to warn automobiles of crossing pedestrians.

Cloudy, Dry Weather Predicted for Today

As a relief from yesterday's rains which brought .53 inches of moisture, partly cloudy but dry weather is expected for today, according to students in the department of meteorology.

Speaker, Plans Set For Commencement

John Jay Hopkins, chairman of the board and president of the General Dynamics Corp., will deliver the address at the June Commencement exercises.

President Milton S. Eisenhower will confer degrees on approximately 2200 students in the exercises planned for 10:30 a.m. June 9 in Beaver Field, weather permitting.

In case of inclement weather, the ceremonies will be divided into two sections, one in the morning and one in the afternoon, and will be held in Recreation Hall.

Deans May Give Diplomas

Arrangements are being made for presentation of diplomas individually to each student by the dean of the student's college, according to Wilmer E. Kenworthy, director of student affairs.

The graduating students, Kenworthy said, will be allowed an unlimited number of guests, and no tickets will be necessary, if the ceremonies are held in Beaver Field, but that a limit of three tickets to each student will have to be made because of limited seating capacity if the ceremonies are forced indoors.

Decision to Be Broadcast

Kenworthy said students would be informed on whether the exercises will be held indoors or outdoors by radio at 8 a.m. Commencement Day.

If indoor exercises are necessary, students in the Colleges of Agriculture, Chemistry and Physics, Engineering and Architecture, and Mineral Industries will have their ceremonies at 10:30 a.m.

Students in the Colleges of Liberal Arts, Business Administration, Education, Home Economics, and Physical Education and Athletic would receive their diplomas at a 2 p.m. ceremony.

Advance Degree Presentations

Students receiving advanced degrees will graduate with the college in which they completed their work, Kenworthy said.

Each student will receive three tickets when he obtains his cap and gown, except students graduating in uniforms, who will receive tickets through their Reserve Officers' Training Corps unit.

Admission to Rec Hall will be by ticket and only until 10 minutes before the time of the ceremony, when the doors will be

Trainer Reports 'Grass' Campaign 99% Successful

The "Keep Off the Grass" campaign was termed 99 per cent successful yesterday by Walter W. Trainer, head of the division of landscape construction and maintenance.

Trainer said the great majority of students are heeding the warning signs around campus and keeping off the grass.

The signs were made by pledges of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity.

Trainer also said there has been no sign of the Dutch Elm disease which plagued campus Elms a year ago. However, he said, it's still too early to tell if the spray used this year will be effective.

He said the disease usually doesn't become apparent until August, but ground maintenance men are keeping constant watch on the Elms. The first sign of the disease is dead limbs on the Elm trees, he said.

AIM Judicial Board

Applications Due Today

Applications for membership on the Association of Independent Men Judicial Board of Review will be taken today at the Hetzel Union desk. A 2.0 All-University average is required.

Screening of applicants will be at 3 p.m. Sunday, May 13, in 203 HUB.

Any undergraduate man is eligible.

Lantern Circulation Staff

The Lantern circulation staff will meet at 6:30 p.m. today in 103 Willard.

The Lantern will be out Monday instead of Wednesday as originally planned.

A Senate-approved bill which would mean about $12.5 million in construction grants for the University reached the House yesterday.

The bill authorizes the increase of the debt ceiling of the General State Authority, borrow-and-build branch of the state government.

Proposed buildings for the University include a new engineering building and a military science building.

Senate floor. The Senate then sent it back to the committee for further study.

The bill now pending is the compromise bill worked out by the committee, which gives for the reason for the increase of $1,406,000 "added expenses at the school."

University Senate Agrees

Committee chairman Leroy E. Chapman (R-Warren) said University official "agreed with the committee that the $1,406,000 increase would be sufficient to handle most of its needs."

If the Senate approves the bill, it will have to return to the House for final approval before being sent to Gov. Leader.

If the bill becomes law as is, it will be the largest appropriation ever given the University for a biennium. It is over $6 million more than the 1953-55 appropriation.

Breakdown Shown

A breakdown of the original bill, without the sum the committee has tacked on, shows:

Maintenance and instruction, $24,783,000; petroleum research and experiments, $66,000; agricultural experiment station, $15,000; coal research, $70,000 (to be matched by industrial grants); nonmetal mineral industry research, $35,000; long-range mineral industry research, $32,500; matching funds for mineral industry research, $57,500.

All-University Cabinet

There will be no meeting of All-University Cabinet tonight.

Cabinet will meet at 7 p.m. Sunday in the Student Government Room of the Hetzel Union Building.

Sea Motif Seen in 'Hatters' Parade

Whales, volcanoes and weird deep sea characters formed the motif for most of the creations which marched through Schwab Auditorium's aisles last night in the Mad Hatters Parade.

Forty-one hats in all marched in the parade in spite of the rainy weather which forced them into Schwab from Beaver Field where the parade was originally scheduled.

Three winners for the three different categories were announced by judges following the parade. The theme for the parade was book titles.

Winner in the artistic category was Phi Kappa Psi, whose hat, representing "The Sea Around Us," was modernistically portrayed with abstract figures of fish, shells and sea horses made out of copper wire against a blue three-dimensional background.

First Place Winner

First place winner in the comic category was Triangle with its hat entitled "The Power of Positive Thinking." It showed a twisted mass of distilling equipment with a hose placed in the neck of a beer bottle.

Triangle again won first place in the original category with a hat labeled "Circus," portraying a carousel with moving animals twirling around.

Each of the first place winners received a trophy and 25 Spring Week points.

Second place winners in each of the categories will receive 20 points toward Spring Week. They are artistic—Beta Theta Pi's "Teahouse of the August Moon," comic—Delta Delta Delta's "Inquisitive Physician," and original—Delta Sigma Phi's "Horse's Mouth."

Spring Week Points

Fifteen Spring Week points will be awarded to the third place winners who are Alpha Gamma Rho whose hat was "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," Sigma Alpha Epsilon, "Cheaper by the Dozen," and Kappa Kappa Gamma, "The Octopus."

Fourth place was won by Theta Xi, Delta Gamma and Phi Mu Delta. Kappa Delta, Theta Chi, and Alpha Gamma Delta won fifth place awards. Fourth place winners will receive ten Spring Week points and fifth place winners, five.
