

Business Society Holds Initiation, Presents Awards

Ten students were initiated into the Business Scholarship Society of the College of Business Administration Tuesday night.

Edmund L. Flynn, of Bedford, a graduate of the University, addressed the first initiation banquet.

Jane Tressler was presented the award for the outstanding senior. Elizabeth Trezise received the outstanding sophomore award and Paul Cryder received the outstanding freshman award.

Top ranking juniors initiated as members of the society were John Boyanowski, Paul Gilpin, Joseph Jodie, Robert Jones, John Madore, and Charles Moose.

Graduate students initiated were Jack Conner, Thomas Brasher, Raymond Lauer, and Alice Warne.

The society, organized last year, has for its purpose the encouragement and recognition of outstanding scholarship in the College of Business Administration and Athletics.

PARIS, May 2 (AP)—French Premier Guy Mollet by unofficial count, won a confidence vote from the National Assembly today 350-68. Deputies voted to give priority to his plan to boost old age pensions.

Desperate Dash, Glistening Glass, Crackling Crash

The silly season is here! Not only do people wear Bermuda shorts and cut classes, they run through glass windows in the Hetzel Union Building.

That's what happened Saturday evening, as a State College High School student, running to get out of the rain, ran into a west door on the Pollock road side of the HUB and through a one-quarter inch thick pane of glass.

William F. Fuller, assistant manager of the Student Union, said yesterday the student evidently didn't realize the glass was there.

The student was not hurt, Fuller said, but the glass will cost $37.50 in addition to installation costs.

Philosophy Society To Hold Sessions At HUB Saturday

The Western Pennsylvania Philosophical Society will meet at the University Saturday.

Sessions, open to the public, are scheduled for the Hetzel Union Building at 10:30 a.m., 1:30 p.m., and 2:30 p.m.

Dr. Ray H. Dotterer, professor emeritus of philosophy, will speak on "Presuppositions of Responsible Thought" at the morning program. Dr. Stephen Strassen, of Duquesne University, will discuss "Phenomenological Trends in European Psychology" at the 2:30 p.m. session.

Following the luncheon, a panel with Dr. John A. Mourant, professor of philosophy, as moderator, will discuss, "The Role of Philosophy in General Education."

Panel members are Dr. Henry A. Finch, associate professor of philosophy, and Dr. John W. McCarthy, of the University of Pittsburgh.

Correction

Listed incorrectly in Tuesday's Daily Collegian as one of the Miss Penn State judges was Dean Lyman F. Jackson of the College of Agriculture. Dean Jackson was unable to attend as he was in the hospital.

Professor Milton Osborne of the Department of Architecture was omitted from the listing of judges.

Speaker--

To Follow Alma Mater

The arrangements planned for individual presentation of diplomas would have the diplomas being distributed following the singing of the Alma Mater at the Beaver Field ceremony.

Detailed instructions about the procession and other procedures will be issued to the students by Dr. David H. McKinley, University marshal, and will be available in the offices of the deans of the colleges on or about May 21.

Hopkins in addition to his positions with the General Dynamics Corp. is chairman of the board and managing director of Canadian, Ltd. and a director of the Tidewater Associated Oil Companies.

At one time he was a special assistant to the U.S. Secretary of Treasury. He is a graduate of the University of California and the Harvard Law School.
