

Netmen Defeat Engineers, 6-3

By TOM WERNER

A rebounding Lion tennis team clawed visiting Lehigh into submission, 6-3 at Beaver field courts yesterday afternoon.

"Everyone played well, even the losers," said Coach Sherm Fogg at afternoon's end.

The match was clinched in the doubles where the Nittanics took two out of three, playing the last twenty minutes in rain and wind.

Captain Chuck Christiansen, playing in the number one spot, lost in three sets to Lehigh's Bill Scarlett, 3-6, 6-3, 0-6. Tiring as the match progressed, Christiansen played well, but could not keep up with his Engineer opponent in the last set.

Seiling Wins

Ed Seiling brought home the first piece of the bacon as he downed Wes Johnson, 7-5, 6-4. Capitalizing on a good serve and back court game, Seiling broke his opponent's serve twice in the last set to aid in his victory march.

Lion Fred Trust had his Engineer foe Joel Gaden completely outclassed winning the first set 6-3, and was leading in the second set 4-0 when Gaden sprained his ankle and was unable to continue.

Dean Mullen garnered his fourth straight singles win of the year when he defeated Lehigh's Ed Sullivan 6-2, 5-7, 8-6. After taking an easy first set Mullen faltered, but came back to win on his traditionally fast net game.

Collins Beats Adler

Larry Adler dropped his singles contest to Engineer Bill Collins, 3-6, 3-6, 3-6, in a long, drawn out battle that featured extended series of volleying, both men playing a game.

Lion Doug Zuker won his first match of the year, beating Neil Pike 6-3, 9-7, on a good backhand and a generally well played game.

Trust and Seiling, the number one Lion duo, became the only two-point winners of the afternoon when they defeated Scarlett and Gary Roman, 6-3, 3-6, 7-5. During the first set Trust twisted his ankle while charging to the net and limped through the rest of the contest.

Lions Stage Comeback

The Nittanics were down 4-1 games in the last set, but finished strong to win, Trust making many well placed baseline shots.

Christiansen and Joe Eberly collaborated on the sixth Lion point, beating Sullivan and Pike 6-4, 4-6, 6-4. After a temporary letdown in the middle set, the Nittany pair made good on lob returns that were smashed across the net for irreturnable shots.

Lehigh's Johnson-Collins duo made short work of Jack Gruber and Dick Jacobs 0-6, 0-6.

Linksmen Rated Among Favorites In EIGL Tourney

The Penn State golf team leaves for Ithaca, N.Y., and the Eastern golf championships today with their brightest chance for the title since 1948.

The Lions, along with defending champion Yale and Georgetown, have been established as favorites by the pre-tourney dopsters.

Eighteen teams comprise the field in this year's tourney, which is expected to be the best in years. The Eastern Intelcollegiate Golf League, which sponsors the tourney, admitted two new members this year.

The match will be played on the heavily-trapped 6800-yard Cornell University course, where the Lions copped a 6-1 victory over Cornell earlier in the season. The par 72 course will be the target of approximately 100 of the East's top college players.

Among the standouts expected are Ned Vore, Pete Nisselson, and Dave Clovis of defending champion Yale, Chuck Slicklen and Owen Mandeville of Georgetown, Al McQuiston and Franny Poore of the University of Pennsylvania, and Jim Mayes, Pat Rielly, John Branish and Gus Gerhart of the Lions.

Starting Saturday at 8 a.m., the players will tee off in threesomes, starting from the first tee in four minute intervals. The 16 low scorers from the original rounds will qualify for the Individual Championships.

The team championship is to be decided by totaling the strokes of the four lowest scorers on each team. Thus, though the Lions will enter a 6-man team, only the low four will be considered in tabulating their final count.

Semi-Finals Begin In Coed Softball

Leonides will clash with Delta Gamma and Thompson will battle Kappa Kappa Gamma on Holmes Field tonight in the first round of semi-finals in the Coed Intramural Softball League.

In games earlier this week, Kappa Kappa Gamma beat Beta Sigma Omicron, 25-1, with Elaine Alexander scoring the lone run for the losers.

Delta Zeta defeated Alpha Gamma Delta, 11-3, behind the fine pitching of Barb Drum. Diane Kemp scored two of the loser's three runs.

In another league game Thompson trampled Chi Omega 41-1.

Penn State will engage Vanderbilt and Marquette in football for the first time in 1957.

Perry Out For Boston Encounter

For the second time in three weeks, hurdler Rod Perry will be forced to miss a Lion track contest due to an injury in his left thigh.

The injury—at first diagnosed as a charley horse—compelled Perry to withdraw from the Penn Relays. However, after a week's absence, it came back, hitting the Nittany junior during the Quantico meet last Saturday where he won both hurdles events.

After examining the injury closer, it was decided that Perry could not make the trip to Boston where the Lions will face Boston University, Saturday.

High Jump a Problem

Perry's injury only adds to the problems Coach Chick Werner will have to solve before Saturday. His biggest concern is the high jump where Bob Findley has been the Lion mainstay so far this year.

After jumping 6'4½" against Army in the first indoor meet of the season, Findley has not been able to get over the six-foot mark. However, with no other high jumper on the squad with the exception of pole vaulter Ogier Norris, all Werner can do is sit back and hope.

Seybert Out

Finding a replacement for Gary Seybert in the sprints is another problem facing Werner. A leg injury, which has hampered the Lion veteran all season, forced him to retire from the Quantico meet. He will not make the trip to Boston. He had been the Lions' number two entry in the 100-yard dash and also a capable stand-by for the 220-yard low hurdles.

Turning to the brighter side of things, Werner had nothing but praise for his mile relay team, especially Bruce Austin and Jim Norton. Austin came back from a Penn State record-breaking performance in the 440 to anchor the Lion relay team to victory after being handed a sizeable lead by Art Pollard, Dave Nash and Norton.

Penn and Penn State, opening game football opponents in 1956, keep the same date on their 1957 schedules.

William and Mary, an opponent twice in the past, the last time in 1952, will return to the Penn State football schedule in 1957.

GRATIS!!!

A pile of extra party pictures mainly from the weekend of March 24th Free. 3 to a person! Today only!

FANTASTIC!!

The throngs of people watching the car parade Monday evening. Can you imagine hundreds of supposedly intelligent people stretching their necks to watch a parade of new cars—ordinary cars which they see every day of the week on the streets. It could only happen in S.C. As for me, I've bought my last American car. In Europe they make them as if they cared.

DOUBLY FANTASTIC!!

State legislators just doubled their own salaries, added $10,000 to the governor's salary and had the insulting gall to advance teachers salaries by the magnanimous total of $100. And then people complain about the calibre of our teachers today.

Though we don't have her picture ready for the ad, Barb Klineburger of KAG was our portrait beauty of the week.

But of the 22 parties we covered this weekend were Theta Chi, Delta Sigma Phi and Phi Epsilon Pi.

There's very little time left to have a fine portrait made for early June delivery—so do besiege us.

We sympathize with P.S.U. secretaries, and are overworked and underpaid. Still taking odds we will not see air conditioning in S.C. theaters in our lifetime.
