

Injury-Riddled Lions Face Boston Tomorrow

By VINCE CAROCCI

An injury-riddled Penn State track team leaves at noon today for Boston, Mass., where it will meet the Boston University Terriers in its second consecutive dual meet tomorrow.

Injuries to hurdler Rod Perry, sprinter Gary Seybert, and high jumper Bob Findley have thrown Coach Chick Werner's starting lineup into nothing but a guessing game—the final guess probably coming shortly before meet time.

Findley is the newest addition to the Lion injury list. He said that he was kicked in the side in one of his physical education classes, preventing him from making the trip.

Perry and Seybert both obtained injuries while competing in last weekend's dual encounter with the Quantico Marines. How long they will be out of action still remains a mystery.

Milligan Lone High Jumper

Findley's injury will probably place the Lion high jumping assignment squarely on the shoulders of Alex Milligan—a junior with little varsity experience.

Captain Art Pollard, a Lion standout all season, and sophomore Dean Rossi will probably do the Nittany running in the 100-yard dash, with Pollard also competing in the 220. Werner will probably name someone else to enter the 220 with Pollard.

With Perry out for the Boston meet, the bulk of the hurdles running will rest on sophomore Dick Winston, who has been a dependable second or third place competitor this year. Winston will also do the Nittany broad jumping.

Austin May Enter 880

Bruce Austin, who crashed into the Penn State record books in the 440 against Quantico, will probably head the Wernermen in that event, although he may be called on for an 880 assignment instead. He is also expected to anchor the mile relay team which will consist of Pollard, Dave Nash, and Jim Norton.

Norton is slated for the other 440 starting spot with Nash another possibility. If Nash is entered in the 440, Austin will probably move to the 880. Ron Lewis is scheduled to be the second Nittany runner in the 880.

Moorhead in Mile

Doug Moorhead, who is suffering from a slight foot injury, and Don Woodrow, are the expected Lion entries in the mile and two mile runs.

With the exception of the high jump, Werner's field lineup is set, headed by Charlie Blockson and John Tullar in the shot and discus. Charlie Aungst will be the third discus thrower for the Lions.

Ogier Norris will handle the pole vaulting duties and may possibly enter the high jump. Dick Coats and Jim Durdan will be the Lion javelin throwers.

Wrestling Managers

Freshmen interested in becoming wrestling managers next year should report at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow to Recreation Hall.

Cornell Hosts Frosh Nine

AZ, Delta Chi Win in V-Ball Semi-Finals

Alpha Zeta and Delta Chi came through with hard-fought victories Wednesday night at Recreation Hall to earn the right to face each other for the fraternity intramural volleyball championship.

The Cougars and Co-op won independent semi-final matches to pair off in the title fray.

Alpha Zeta displayed near-perfect volleyball as it downed a surprisingly tough Theta Xi team, 15-8, 15-12.

Defending champs Delta Chi found things a little rougher, topping Alpha Sigma Phi, 16-14, 11-15, 15-12.

The independent matches, although providing their share of thrills, were marred by numerous infractions.

The Co-ops reversed the 69'ers, 15-13, 16-14, and the Cougars nipped the Pistons, 5-15, 15-5, 16-14.

The first game of the Cougar-Piston match was featured by the effective spiking of Clint Frank. The Cougars had trouble setting up in the first game, but corrected themselves when they reversed the score in the middle game.

Penn State's freshman baseball team closes out its abbreviated season with a weekend trip to New York State where it will meet Cornell today and Colgate tomorrow.

Coach Hank Boggio has announced that either Winston Sandler (0-0) or "Peanuts" Stover (0-1) will start on the mound against the Big Red today at Ithaca.

With one exception, Boggio plans to send into action the same team that crushed Kiski, 10-3, in its last outing. Tom Swierczewski will return behind the plate in place of Carl Royer.

Wayne Breisch, a pitcher with a win to his credit, will again replace the injured Bob Hoover at short.

The Lions will take a bus to Hamilton following today's game. Mound ace Cal Emery will draw the starting assignment against the Red Raiders.

Rebounding Netmen Seek 3d Win Against Orange

A rejuvenated tennis squad will include a slightly injured member in its lineup against Syracuse at the opponent's courts tomorrow afternoon.

Fred Trust, who twisted his ankle during a winning doubles battle, will be back on the courts tomorrow afternoon. In hopes that the ankle will hold with the assistance of some tape, Trust will try to continue his winning skein against the Orange.

The Syracuse netters have only one familiar face in its 1956 lineup. Ron Van Aiken, who was decisively defeated by Ed Seiling in last year's match, 6-1, 6-1, will be in the Orange's top four when the singles jousts begin.

Coach Sherm Fogg, refusing to give in to the prevailing mood of optimism after the Lion's win over Lehigh, warned of the scrappy Orange battles that the team has faced in past years.

Last year the Nittanians downed the Syracuse team 6-3, gaining two points through charity when the losers forfeited the number six singles and number three doubles match for lack of contestants.

This year the Orangemen have a full complement, mostly of juniors and sophomores, gained through student playoffs before the season began.

The Lions will be seeking their third victory of the year as against five setbacks. They meet Juniata at home on Wednesday.

4 Fraternities Cop First Soccer Tilts

Kappa Sigma, Pi Kappa Alpha, Alpha Zeta and Phi Delta Theta each won the first of two soccer games to be played in the small three-team fraternity leagues.

Kappa Sigma and Phi Delta won their Wednesday night contests on corner kicking when the regulation games ended in 1-1 stalemates. Kappa Sig out-corner-kicked Beta Sigma Rho, 7-2.

Bill Soro led Alpha Zeta to its 2-0 victory over Phi Kappa Psi.

Bob Murray smashed two drives past Sigma Phi Alpha's goalie to give his Phi Kappa Tau team a 2-0 win. The victory evened the Phi Kappa Tau record at 1-1.

Coached 1948 Olympics

Gene Wettstone, who has been elected coach of Uncle Sam's 1956 Olympic gymnastics team, is no newcomer to the role. The 42-year-old Penn State mentor had previously filled this position at the 1948 games in London.

Guess what day this is Only one day it could be—Mother's Day!

Father, son and daughter, too, have teamed up with electricity to make Mother's Day a real treat.

Plenty of electricity for the dozens of electric servants in your home makes Mother's job easier every day of the year. And housekeeping in the future looks even brighter and lighter.

Right now, America's independent electric light and power companies are building ahead so that the nation's homes will have twice as much electricity by 1965. Plentiful power year after year will make life more comfortable and enjoyable for everyone.
