

Sixty-Five Students End Preparations For 31st Dairy Exposition Today

By CHUCK Di ROCCO

Busy days are drawing to an end at the University dairy barns where a record breaking 65 students have put their finishing touches in preparation for the 31st annual Dairy Exposition which begins at noon today in the Livestock Pavilion.

Forty-three years have passed since the campus saw its first dairy show. The original show was held May 12, 1923, and was named the First Annual Dairy Cattle Fitting Contest and Mock Sale.

However, since that time many attractions have been added to the show such as the Dairy Cattle and Products Judging Contests, the banquet, a souvenir booklet, the coed Calf Catching Contest, and an Ice Cream Mold Contest.

The Penn State Dairy Exposition has become an educational event, and each year the students strive to make it larger and more attractive. This year is no exception and the dairy students' spring feature of the Mother's Day weekend program is expected to draw a capacity crowd to the Livestock Pavilion.

Judging Basis

In the competition for the title of Grand Champion Showman and Grand Champion Fitter, the University-owned animals will be judged on their response to commands and their general fitness and cleanliness.

Judging this year's show will be Dr. Gordon M. Cairns, Dean of the College of Agriculture at the University of Maryland and a nationally known dairy cattle judge. Aiding Dr. Cairns will be C. E. Harding, a Penn State graduate and former manager of the Exposition.

To Start at Noon

Starting at noon, the first of sixty-one sleek and shiny dairy cattle will parade into the pavilion. Classes of Brown Swiss, Ayrshires, and Jerseys will be shown first.

At 1:15 p.m. Miss Martha McDonald, senior in home economics from Shippensburg and former Pennsylvania Apple Queen, who will preside over the show and present awards and ribbons, will be officially crowned the "1956 Penn State Dairy Queen."

Comedy Also Included

Following the crowning, classes of Guernsey will be shown at 1:20 p.m. In addition to the serious competition, the program will include a laughable and fun-filled coed Calf Catching Contest at 2:15 p.m.

The final class of Holsteins will take the show ring at 2:45 p.m. However, the showing competition will pause again at 3:45 p.m. to allow time for a Dairy Products Raffle, which will include for the lucky winners prizes from cheese to ice cream.

At 4:00 p.m. the finalist in the showing competition will re-enter the ring for the judges' decision on the Grand Champions.

The sun will come to rest on the 1956 Dairy Exposition with the climax of the awards banquet held in the Lutheran Student Center at 6:15 p.m. Winners of the week's dairy cattle and dairy products judging contests will be

Ambulance Is One Of Gift Suggestions

By LOUIE PRATO

(This is the first in a series of six articles on the final suggestions for the 1956 Senior Class gift.)

In its 100 years of existence the University has never owned an ambulance, which is one of six proposed senior class gift suggestions to be voted on next week by members of the senior class.

Seniors will vote for their selection when they pick up their copy of LaVie next week.

Originally the suggestion called for the purchasing of equipment for the new wings of the University Hospital, but Dr. Herbert R. Glenn, director of the Health Service, said that no new equipment was needed for the new wings since arrangements have been made.

However, Dr. Glenn said that the Hospital did need an ambulance and suggested that the ambulance be substituted for the new equipment.

Wagon Used

At the present, the campus patrol wagon is used as an ambulance but it is not adequate for the job for it has no emergency facilities.

Dr. Glenn estimated the price of a new ambulance to be between $7000 and $8000. About $9000 has been set aside for the class gift.

One of the biggest problems which has confronted Dr. Glenn in the past was the housing of an ambulance. But with the addition of the new wing, a garage is being built specifically for this purpose, he said.

24-Hour Service

A 24-hour service would be in operation if the ambulance were to be purchased. A hospital maintenance man would be ready to drive it during the day and a campus patrol man would handle the wheel at night. This setup is only in the talking stage and will be elaborated upon when the ambulance is secured, he said.

Dr. Glenn has said an ambulance will be bought sometime in the next few years regardless of the decision by the senior class. However, he also said that the senior class could hasten the purchase of the ambulance if it donated its funds to the project.

SAE Contest Postponed

The Tractor Driving Contest at Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity has been postponed until May 19 due to a conflict with the dairy show.

AIM Chapters Will Present Gift to Founder

The Association of Independent Men has received a request for one dollar from the University of Oklahoma.

The one-dollar donation is being requested of all AIM chapters in order to purchase a gift for Boyce D. Timmons, co-founder of the organization.

Timmons has requested to be relieved of his position as AIM adviser at the University of Oklahoma because of his increasing duties as Director of Registration at that University.

Timmons and co-founder J. F. Findley, dean of men at Oklahoma University, contrived the idea of an independent student association in 1934.

The first National Convention of the Independent Student Association was held in the spring of 1938 at Oklahoma. Since that time, Timmons has served as chapter adviser and once as national adviser.

The gift will be presented to him at a banquet attended by chapter representatives.

NSA Veep to Speak To Cabinet Sunday

Gene Preston, vice president of the National Student Association, will speak before a special meeting of All-University Cabinet and the NSA committees at 7 p.m. Sunday.

Preston will discuss student government philosophy and the purpose and function of NSA at colleges and universities.

In addition to passing a revised Elections Code Thursday night, Cabinet also approved four appointments.

Approves Johnson

Cabinet approved William Johnson, junior in pre-med from Arnold, as Elections Committee chairman.

Harry Martini, junior class president, questioned the advisability of having a committee chairman who had been affiliated with a campus political party. Johnson ran for All-University president this year under the Lion party banner.

"Don't you think a neutral would have been better?" Martini asked. In reply, Robert Bah-renburg, All-University president, said, "I think he meets every requirement that anyone on campus would ask for. I don't care if he was a member of the communist party, I still would have appointed him."

Additional Appointments

Three other appointments approved by Cabinet were Student Leadership Committee chairman: Robert L. Stroup, sophomore in industrial engineering from Muncy; Joint Committee on Town Affairs chairman: Leonard Richards, junior in education from Philadelphia; Traffic Court chairman: Richard Kurtz, junior in business administration from Binghamton.
