

New Group Seeks To Join Panhel

A group of 12 women under the name of Trion will petition Panhellenic Council Tuesday night for membership.

Trion submitted its charter to the Senate Committee on Student Affairs last Wednesday, and is now awaiting the committee's approval to organize.

After the regulation year of probation Trion will "possibly" apply for membership in Sigma Kappa sorority, according to Pearl O. Weston, dean of women. If the group applies and the application is accepted, it will become a local chapter of the national sorority.

Expect to Rush

Trion will adopt Sigma Kappa's maroon and lavender colors, the flower violet, and the pearl. Members expect to enter the fall and spring rushing program next year upon Panhel's approval. A 25 membership quota is needed to become a chapter of Sigma Kappa.

Sigma Kappa was founded on Nov. 9, 1874 at Colby College in Maine and is the fifth oldest sorority. There are now 69 active college chapters, four of them in Pennsylvania. This week a new chapter, making five in Pennsylvania, is being installed at Gettysburg College. The pin is a maroon triangle outlined in gold with the Greek letters Sigma Kappa inscribed upon it. The Sigma Kappa publication is the "Triangle."

Officers' Status

The four officers of Trion are all either members or pledges of Sigma Kappa from Westminster College, who transferred to the University last fall. They are Peggy Ann Stoehr, junior in education from Pittsburgh, president; Susanne Fisher, junior in arts and letters from Titusville, first vice president. The two pledges, Nancy Berry, junior in arts and letters from Eightyfour, and Nancy Pinkerton, sophomore in arts and letters from Pittsburgh, are second vice president and secretary-treasurer respectively.

Barbara Nicholls, president of Panhel, has said that she doesn't feel there will be any objection to Trion from the Council.

Panhel Will Vote On New Sorority

Panhellenic Council will vote on the admittance of Trion, a group petitioning for membership, at 7 p.m. Tuesday in 203 Hetzel Union.

The possibility of sending a delegate to the National Student Association this summer will also be discussed.
