

Trustees OK Compulsory Faculty Club Evacuation of 'Hazards' Hears Talk On Pakistan

University students living in dwellings in the Borough or surrounding areas which have been ruled a hazard for fire, health, or other reasons by public officials, will be required to move to other quarters.

This policy has been approved by the Board of Trustees.

Miss America Contest Blanks Are Due Friday

Organizations who plan to sponsor a contestant for the Miss America Contest at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in Bellefonte must have their entry blanks in by Friday.

Entry blanks should be sent to Neil Wiggin, general chairman of the contest for the Bellefonte Chamber of Commerce, at 105 E. High Street. Blanks may be obtained by writing him.

A scholarship fund has been established for the winner on this level of the composition. The money may be used to help the winner finance her education at a college, art school or secretarial school.

Wiggin said that if the girl were unable to continue her education for some reason the money would be hers to use as she desired.

Until all the local industries contacted for contributions have been heard from, the sum of the fund will not be announced.

The contest is open to anyone living in Centre County for the past six months and to students enrolled in its colleges and universities. Entrants must be single women between the ages of 18 and 28, who are high school graduates and have never been married before.

Entrants will be required to provide three minutes of talent such as singing, dancing, a dramatic reading, or a talk on the career they wish to pursue. They may also exhibit some creative effort at this time such as art work or sewing.

Special clothes need not be purchased for the competition.

Tickets for the contest are on sale at the Hetzel Union desk and the Music Room for 50 cents.

A parade beginning at 6:30 p.m. will precede the competition.

Students refusing to vacate such quarters will not be allowed to register for the semester after the one in which the declaration of hazard was made, the Trustees ruled.

Upon being informed that a building is declared a hazard, the University, Trustees ruled, will notify the students residing there and also their parents or guardians.

The Alpha Fire Co. of State College in February began a check of fraternity houses and business places. The inspection will continue next week with rooming houses, and later, but not this spring, will extend to private homes.

When the inspection began, Town Independent Men submitted a list of ten rooming houses where students reported they believed fire hazards existed.

Thomas Sauers, fire chief, said yesterday that to date they have found fewer fire hazards than anticipated. He also reported cooperation on the part of owners in correcting hazards noted.

One chief hazard noted by the volunteer firemen has been overloading of electrical circuits, Sauers said.

Wilmer E. Kenworthy, director of student affairs, said yesterday that "if and when reports are made which lead Borough officials or state officers to declare any dwelling unsafe, it would be unwise for us to allow students to continue to live there, even though they might be willing to do so."

ICG Group to Elect Council Tonight

The Penn State chapter of the Intercollegiate Conference on Government will meet at 7 tonight in 217 Hetzel Union to hear an annual report and to elect a three-member Interim Council to serve as plural executive until the group's second meeting in the fall.

Pakistan is a "very steadfast ally of American and western bloc countries," Cyrus E. French, professor of animal nutrition, told the Faculty Luncheon Club yesterday.

French recently was a member of a survey team which traveled to Pakistan and Iran to determine the nutritional conditions in Pakistan's armed forces.

One team made the study in Iran, and the other in Pakistan, French said. Each group included eight Americans.

Team Members Travel

The team members traveled from one large city to another working in army and navy posts, he explained.

French spent three months in Pakistan, and there he heard John Foster Dulles, secretary of state, speak at a SEATO conference session.

Twenty-four colored slides of western Pakistan were shown to illustrate the lecture, which was attended by approximately 50 faculty members.

One of the guests at the luncheon was Jamila Khalid, a graduate student in home economics from Pakistan.

Forestry Director to Speak

Maurice K. Goddard, director of the school of forestry, and state secretary of forests and waters, will speak at next week's faculty luncheon.

His topic will be "Forests and Waters." This meeting will conclude the luncheon program until next fall, it was announced.

Two Scholarships Created for Frosh

Two freshman scholarships for $500 and $250 have been established at the University by business concerns.

Bituminous Coal Research Incorporated of Washington D.C. has established a $500 scholarship for a male freshman interested in the field of fuel technology on the basis of scholarship, character, and need.

The Pittsburgh section of TV Guide has established a $250 scholarship in the School of the Arts for a freshman interested in a career in television on the same basis.

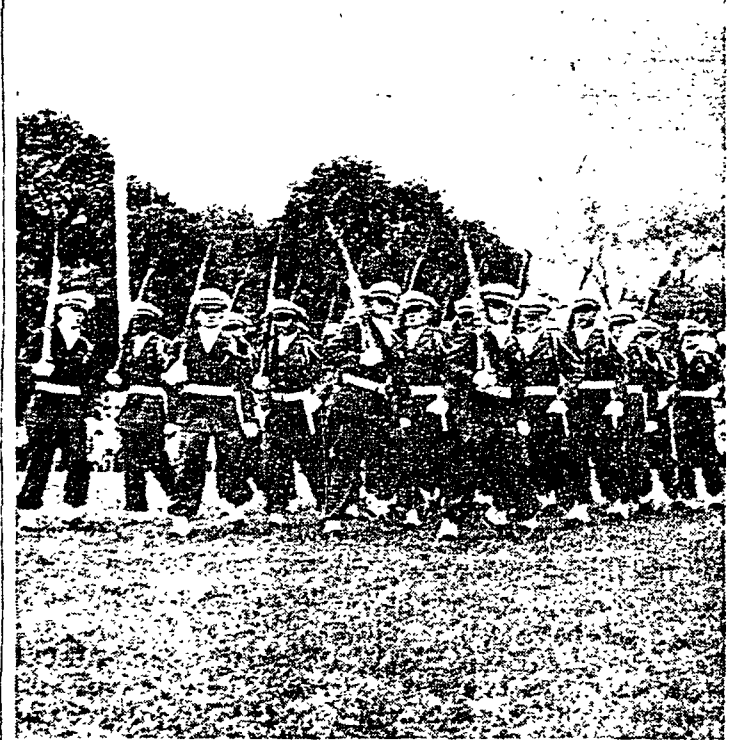

Some suggestions for the improvement of the program here at the University. Some of those institutions with successful programs are Stanford University, Ohio State University, University of Wisconsin, and the University of Michigan.

A marked problem of FMA is trying to interest the fraternities in the program. This problem was discussed at some length and several suggestions were made and noted for future plans.

One trustee suggested that it may be possible for FMA to be represented on some of the fraternity councils to meet with the fraternities. They would thereby have the opportunity to discuss the purposes and possible advantages that FMA would approach all the fraternities without calling a special meeting.

The next meeting of the board of trustees will be held at 8 p.m. May 23 at the home of Mrs. Marion F. Keister.

Student Tutoring Service Offers Help in 57 Courses

There are some students that get 4.0 averages and then there are the other kind. It is the other kind that the new student tutoring service sponsored by the dean of men's office is aimed at.

The service, instituted a few weeks ago by a committee headed by William B. Crafts, assistant to the dean of men, offers help in 57 courses, anything from accounting to zoology.

A list of tutors and courses was given to dormitory counselors and housemothers who in turn announced the plan to their groups. Also, a list is available in the dean of men's office. However, Dean Crafts said that there has been little use of the list, so far, and he hoped more students would ask for help.

Tutors were accepted if they wished to tutor the subject they are majoring in and if they had a B average in all their subjects.

The fee for tutoring is decided on by the tutor and the student. However, a charge of $1 has been suggested by the Dean's office.

Tutoring is offered in the following subjects: Accounting 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5; Anthropology 1; Art 74 and 89; Botany 2; Business Statistics 1; Chemistry 1, 2, 3, 4, 20, 30, 46, 47, 462 and 463; Economics 14; English Composition 1, 5, 8, and 26; English Literature 4 and 25; French 1 and 30; Geology 20, 21, 30, 31 and 32; German 3 and 1-T; Greek 11 and 12; History 18, 20 and 21;

Also Journalism 40, 41, 42, 43, and 480; Mathematics 41, 42, 55, 64, 75, 84, 417 and 420; Mechanics 11 and 13; Philosophy 1, 2, 3, 6, and 9; Physics 235 and 236; Political Science 3, 10, 14, and 20; Psychology 2, 3, 4, 15, 21, 37, 412 and 437; Russian 1; Sociology 1; Typing 1; Zoology 25, 26, 29 and 41.

FMA Sales Total $134,000

Dean Harold W. Perkins, president of the board of trustees for the Fraternity Marketing Association, announced at last night's trustee's meeting that the total sales as of April 30 were $134,107.05.

The total sales at the same time last year were approximately $100,000. The increase in sales is largely due to the addition of four fraternities to membership in FMA, bringing the total membership to 31.

Perkins announced the request by Sigma Alpha Epsilon to withdraw from the organization, but as yet they have not done so formally.

A member of the administration has agreed to write to four or five universities that now have successful food buying organizations for fraternities, to request some suggestions for the improvement of the program here at the University. Some of those institutions with successful programs are Stanford University, Ohio State University, University of Wisconsin, and the University of Michigan.

A marked problem of FMA is trying to interest the fraternities in the program. This problem was discussed at some length and several suggestions were made and noted for future plans.
