

State Newsmen To Hold Confab

Herman S. Reifsnnyder, managing editor of the Altoona Mirror and president of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association, will greet approximately 300 newspapermen from all over the state at the opening luncheon of the Pennsylvania Press Conference at noon tomorrow in the Nittany Lion Inn.

The conference will close at 6:30 p.m. Saturday with the presentation of the Better Writing Contest awards by Thomas V. O'Leary, managing editor of the Ardmore Main Line Times.

Louis Lyons, curator of the Nieman Foundation of Journalism at Harvard University, will deliver the closing address, "Prejudices of a Reader."

Markham to Give Awards

Dr. James W. Markham, head of the news and editing department of the School of Journalism, will present awards to two Pennsylvania newsmen for distinguished service to their communities at Friday's banquet.

The conference is sponsored by the School of Journalism, the P.N.P.A., the Pennsylvania Society of Newspaper Editors and the Pennsylvania Women's Press Association.

Workshop Included

Other highlights of the two-day conference include a workshop for daily newspapers from 9:30 a.m. to noon Saturday in the assembly room of the Inn, and a "brainstorming session" at 2:30 p.m. Saturday. John T. McClintick, freelance educational consultant of Harrisburg, will act as moderator for the session.

Sigma Delta Chi, men's national professional journalistic fraternity, will hold a breakfast at 9 a.m. Sunday at the Inn for professional chapter members and visiting newsmen.

Women to Attend Tea

Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism fraternity, will sponsor a tea from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday in the Hetzel Union Building for the women delegates attending the conference. Tours of the HUB will be held at the same time.

The Pennsylvania Women's Press Association will sponsor a luncheon at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at the Inn. Mrs. Fay G. Cowan, of the Beaver Falls News-Tribune and president of the PWPA, will preside. An address will be given by Jane Eads, Associated Press correspondent, Washington, D.C.

The presentation of the PWPA Newswriting Awards will be made at the luncheon by Mrs. Adelaide M. Blaetz, editor of the Fox Chase Breeze.

Pershing Rifles To Attend Drill

Company B-5 of the Pershing Rifles has been invited to compete in the All-East Coast Drill Competition in New York City next September.

Only eight crack drill teams from the East Coast will compete. The Pershing Riflemen received the invitation after winning the Milton S. Eisenhower Trophy in the All-University drill competition and placing second in a field of 20 entrants from four states at Baltimore two weeks ago.

The Milton S. Eisenhower Trophy was presented to Pershing Rifle Company Commander, Joseph Bors, by President Eisenhower during the May Day celebrations on Sunday.

(Continued from page four) blades; nails; springs; and other metallic objects. Seems as if the man, who as an amateur magician, had gone a trifle too far in swallowing various objects for his admiring audiences.

While still on the subject of radio we might say that probably the worst move WMAJ ever made was to throw that five-minute news program at 5:30. To some people this may seem inconsequential but to Bob and Ray fans it is a supreme insult. Why have this newscast interrupting the very popular Messrs. Elliot and Goulding when the news follows soon after.

We are wondering if the baseball team yesterday down at Villanova had trouble stealing signals from the Wildcat team. A check of the lineup indicates that the Villanova boys may have been conversing in Italian.

Navy drill team won second place and the Air Force was third.

Revisions Approved By WSGA

Women's Student Government Association last night voted to approve the revisions of the elections code. This was the second and final voting on the revisions.

An amendment added to the constitution says that WSGA election dates will be announced at the first senate meeting of the semester of the election.

Any other organizations who wish to hold their elections on the same dates must supply their own ballots, ballot boxes and poll sitters. WSGA poll sitters are not eligible to poll sit for any other organization.

These organizations must contact the WSGA elections chairman at least one week before the primary elections to get permission to hold their elections on the same date. In the event organizations cannot get their own poll-sitters their poll will be closed.

One of the revisions passed said that Senate and Judicial members shall be excused from all classes to sit at polls on elections day. In the event that dean's excuses are not granted, members of the House of Representatives and the Freshman council shall be responsible for the polls and poll sitters in their own living units.

Another revision said that primary elections must be held not less than two days nor more than ten days after the applications have been closed. The primary elections must be held not later than the last weekend in March and that the day be announced at the first senate meeting of the semester of the election.

It was also passed that the elections chairman be appointed before the end of the semester previous to the coming election.

Roseanne Fortunato, sophomore in education from Wilmington, Del. was appointed elections chairman for the fall semester by Daisy Zimmerman, WSGA president.

Jazz Concert

Jim McPartland featured at concert

McPartland's Dixieland Band To Be Heard

Memories of Bix Beiderbecke, the finest player of Chicago jazz, will be brought to Schwab Auditorium tomorrow when Jim McPartland and his All Stars present a Dixieland concert of Chicago jazz.

Sponsored by the Jazz Club, this presentation marks a departure from the club's practice of featuring modern experimental jazz to a concert in the more traditional vein.

The club feels that this concert will provide much information even to modernists because Chicago jazz is one of the great stages reached in American music.

McPartland, a trumpeter, is probably the most qualified person alive to depict and represent Chicago jazz.

A six-piece combo, McPartland's All Stars is composed of trumpet, trombone, clarinet, bass, piano, and drums.

McPartland's idol is Beiderbecke and he still possesses and treasures a photograph presented to him by Bix, autographed "To the best white trumpet player from Bix."

McPartland uses Beiderbecke's style and plays many of his arrangements.

Tickets for the concert are on sale for $1.50 at the Hetzel Union desk.

Station WDFM Issues Call For Candidates

WDFM, campus radio station, has issued a call for candidates for eight of the station staffs. Interested students will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday in 305 Sparks.

No experience is necessary for candidates, it was announced. Staffs with positions open include continuity, announcing, engineering, promotion, music library, special events, traffic, and campus and community service.

Candidates' Meeting Required

All staff members must attend the candidates' meeting, according to George Mastrian, station manager.

At the meeting the department heads will explain the operation of the departments. A guided tour of the studio will also be conducted.

WDFM will broadcast completely musical programs during the final exam period from May 25 to June 6.

Sign On Announced

Sign on will be at 6:50 p.m., and sign off at 11 p.m. Five-minute newscasts will be given at 6:55 and 8:55 p.m.

The programs will include one hour of popular, one hour of light classical, and two hours of classical music.
